1 [--> Transportation of high level nuclear waste is foolish unless there is a truly safe destination since there are so many risks involved in its transport. So far the Yucca Mountain site has not been proven to be safe. In fact, the balance of the evidence developed to date shows the site to be unsafe. There is no reason to temporarily move high level waste from one unsafe site to another, particularly if the canisters and transportation plan themselves are not clearly safe. In addition the Western Shoshone Nation opposes radioactive waste dumping at Yucca Mountain which is part of their treaty land. Imposition of an unsafe high level radioactive waste storage site without the agreement of the rightful land owners is immoral and illegal. In sum, the continuation of the siting process at Yucca Mountain is a waste of valuable resources that should instead be used to try to find the best solution(s) for the problems of storing high level radioactive waste indefinitely.]
