1 { --> It just can't happen! Why put one state into danger when it's the whole countries problem. There has to be another way. When Bush is finally out of office and we get someone with a brain to run our country and stop waisting money on tons of things that just don't matter I am sure there will be another way to dispose of these dangerous materials. We are the best country in the world, but we have to stop financing every other countries problems. Our veterans live on the street, children don't have food, clothing and education in our own city let alone the rest of the country. We cannot keep giving millions in money to other countries. Lets take care of our OWN!!! }
