

1 [* There is real concern about transporting radio active waste through our city. It opens Las Vegas up to terrorism, pollution and health hazards. Why not keep storing the waste where it is made? Have those states build a repository for their waste. Why do we need a central location?

Once the waste is stored, there is concern of it leaking into the ground water polluting our precious water resources. Not enough research has been done to address this concern adequately.]

Roseann Gilmore

r gilmore@embarq mail.com

ALON: Why don't you folks consider a recycle plant for the radioactive waste? You know,
