I am totally opposed to changes in the
 "Made in the USA" label. found on products sold in this country. If anything, the standards for this label should be more stringent. It's bad enough that our manufacturing base is moving overseas, and the recent attempts to compromise our patent system, now you want to make it harder to identify truly American made products. "Made in the USA" is supposed to stand for something, Dont Tamper with It!!
