I understand that you are thinking about permitting companies to label made in USA if 75% of the manufacturing is in an unincorporated U.S. and if the product is substantially assembled in this country. I am very much opposed to this either the product is made here or it isn't and should be labeled as such.

I try very hard to buy products that is only made in the U.S.A.

If we had the young people will never be able to retire and have as good a life that we have had. You are selling our country out.
