

June 9, 1997

To whom it may concern:

"Read my lips."

Leave the U.S.A. labeling alone. We the consumers are quite aware of the inferior garbage from Asia and the "Lower Forties," S. America that dominate our market place. It made in U.S.A. I want it. It's called Truth in retail. As difficult as it may be for the sleazy government, TRY the Truth. So much for NAFTA and GAT

Most Sincerely,

Milnes Langham

9 votes, a natural born citizen

... you can't say something is fresh if it isn't, or contains no fat if it does. It seems to me there are laws for other consumer products that are a little more stringent."

Written comments on the proposed guidelines can be mailed to the FTC, Office of the Secretary, "Made in the USA," Sixth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C.
20580.

energy bill