Dear Sir, Madms;
As regards the made in the U.S.A. labels - don't do it.

If something isn't made in Japan why should you say it is made in Japan??
Not alot to think about eh?
If something was 70% made in the U.S.A. then I sure as hell want to know about it!!!

As I recall; we do have truth in labeling laws in this country; it would make for a great law-suit!
The answer is no (NO).

FRUIT OF THE LOOM
KISS MY ASS!
Why would you even consider this??

Reps - Sen Bob Smith (R-N.H.)
Sen Judd Gregg (R-N.H.)
