When You Need Us

Congressman Rogers addresses a Lansing constituent's question at a Community Forum.

Dear Friends:

Traveling across the district, I have had the honor of meeting many of you. One message has come through loud and clear: we are all tired of Washington putting politics before people.

We all know the best ideas don't come from Washington, they come from you. My number one goal is making sure you come first. That is the purpose of this 2003 Constituent Guide.

Browse through it. See all the ways we can help. Use your phone, your email, send a letter or attend a town meeting to make your voice heard. Serving you in Congress means more than simply voting on legislation. There's a lot more we can do, so save this guide and use it often.

We look forward to hearing from you and making a real difference for the 8th district.

Very Truly Yours,

Mike Rogers
Member of Congress

Honor Someone Special with a Flag Over the Capitol

Congressman Rogers can provide flags that have flown over the Capitol on a specific date to commemorate a special occasion. These flags are then mailed with an accompanying letter indicating for whom the flag was flown and on what date. If you would like to purchase a flag, please visit our website at www.house.gov/mikerogers, or contact our office for an order form.

Rogers Appoints Seniors' Advocate

Going the extra mile to protect seniors, Congressman Rogers has given Penni McNamara the role of 8th District Seniors' Advocate. Penni will dedicate time to make the lives of seniors in the 8th district easier, always looking for ways the office can help. If it's a Social Security problem, a VA problem or something else, protecting Medicare, help for seniors is just a phone call away.

Planning A Visit to Washington, DC? Don't Miss the Capitol

Help in navigating the many attractions of Washington, D.C. is one of the many services that Congressman Rogers offers to his constituents. In 2002, more than 300 families from mid-Michigan contacted the office for assistance in planning their vacations in the nation's capital. By contacting the office through Congressman Rogers' website or with a phone call or letter, assistance was provided in setting up tours of the U.S. Capital Building and at area attractions throughout Washington, D.C.

Congressional Internships in Congressman Rogers' Office

Each semester and during the summer, Congressman Rogers offers the educational opportunity of a congressional internship, providing a chance for students to see the congressional process in action. Interns learn about the functions of a legislative office and the duties of Congressman Rogers and his staff.

These duties include administrative responsibilities, participation in staff meetings, attending congressional hearings, research and assisting with casework.

The excitement and educational opportunities a congressional internship offers is invaluable. Contact Mike's office to receive more information about this great educational challenge.
