

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

This chapter presents the budget estimates and program justifications for the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). HUD's core mission is to increase homeownership, support community development, and increase access to affordable housing free from discrimination. The 2009 Budget for HUD assumes major reform proposals for the Federal Housing Administration (FHA), the Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program, and the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. These reforms will enhance the effectiveness of HUD's programs.

The Department continues to emphasize expanding homeownership opportunities for all. Toward that goal, in 2009 FHA continues to propose financing options for families who have good credit histories but lack the savings needed for the downpayment on a home, and for families who have impaired credit histories and who would normally be served only by the sub-prime market. Also, the Budget provides nearly $2 billion for the HOME Investment Partnerships Program, including $50 million for the American Dream Downpayment Initiative. The improved performance of FHA and other homeownership efforts will help meet the goal of adding 5.5 million new minority homeowners by 2010.

While maintaining a budget-based approach, the 2009 Budget proposes changes to the Housing Choice Voucher Program to give State and local housing authorities more decision-making authority to better address the unique needs of their communities, such as the flexibility to serve more households.

The Budget includes a substantial increase for Project-Based Housing, providing $7 billion to renew all project-based rental contracts, and a $400 million advance appropriation to bridge renewal funding into 2010. The 2009 request is over $1 billion above 2008 and is the largest renewal funding provided in the history of the program.

HUD continues to support and improve Public Housing and has initiated the effort to adopt asset-based project management to allow significant improvements and efficiencies. The Budget provides $4.3 billion for Public Housing Operating subsidies and $2 billion for the Public Housing Capital Fund.

HUD continues to focus on combating homelessness and eliminating chronic homelessness with a record $1.636 billion for Homeless Assistance, including up to $50 million for a Samaritan initiative to provide supportive housing linked to services for chronically homeless persons.

Funding in the 2009 Budget for the Fair Housing Assistance and Fair Housing Initiatives programs (FHAP and FHIP) will continue to strengthen the ability of public and private fair housing groups, and partnerships between them, to enforce the laws protecting all Americans against illegal housing discrimination. With the publication of the National Housing Discrimination Study, HUD now has the information necessary to improve enforcement, reduce discrimination, and address accessibility issues. The 2009 FHIP budget includes funding for an update of the 2000 National Housing Discrimination Study.

The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program, along with other Federal programs for community and economic development, will be targeted in 2009 to increase the focus and effectiveness of Federal efforts to provide adequate economic opportunity in low-income communities. HUD has proposed legislation to revise the CDBG allocation formulas to better target needy communities, to provide bonus funds tied to performance, and to make further reforms to increase CDBG's effectiveness.

HUD continues to support the reduction of housing overcrowding in Indian country with $627 million in housing grants. The Budget also continues to support Indian community and economic development.

The 2009 Budget includes $116 million in lead hazard reduction grants to continue the 10-year program to eradicate lead hazards in housing. The elimination of lead hazards for children is on track and the number of children with elevated blood lead levels has been reduced from 890,000 between 1991 and 1994 to 235,000 in 2007.

To ensure the effective implementation of its programs, the Budget provides the Department's Office of Policy Development and Research (PD&R) with funds necessary to ensure timely provision of data, provide research and analysis of national housing and economic conditions, and evaluate the performance of programs, consistent with the Government Performance and Results Act of 1994.

HUD is one of five Departments that are leading the Federal Government in tapping the potential of faith-based and community organizations to improve housing and help develop communities.

The Department will continue the management reform effort initiated in 2001 and undertake further efforts in 2008 and 2009 to refocus HUD on its core mission and key programs as part of a continuing series of planned reforms to improve program performance.

HUD received $79 million in 2005 via a FEMA mission assignment to provide housing assistance to families that were displaced by Hurricane Katrina. Eligible recipients included families that had been receiving HUD assistance, and those who were homeless prior to Hurricane Katrina. Through a $390 million supplemental appropriation pursuant to P.L. 109-148, the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Act (42 U.S.C. 5121 et seq.), HUD continued to support similar activities. It is expected that there will soon be no more transactions within this account because this mission assignment is complete. Eligible families will continue to receive assistance through their current localities of residence.

The Tenant-Based Rental Assistance Program (also known as the Housing Choice Voucher Program) provides housing assistance to approximately 2 million extremely low- to low-income families. This is the Federal government's largest program for assisting low-income families to rent decent, safe and sanitary housing in the private market. The program includes set-asides for homeless veterans and tenant-protection vouchers, which are provided to families who must relocate due to public housing demolitions or when landlords opt out of project-based contracts. About 2,400 state and local Public Housing Authorities (PHAs) administer the Voucher program.

The Administration reaffirms its commitment to reforming the Voucher program by amending the appropriations language and re-submitting legislative reform proposals similar to the Voucher and Rent Simplification Act of 2007. The policy objectives are to allow PHAs to serve more families, simplify program administration, and promote local flexibility for more efficient service delivery. More specifically, the Administration proposes to: (1) remove the cap on the authorized number of units PHAs can serve. This would enable PHAs to utilize funds they are currently unable to spend beyond their authorized number of units; (2) provide a stable, predictable, budget-based renewal funding formula. This budget-based allocation method is transparent, appropriately compensates and rewards PHA performance, and results in predictable future year funding allocations for PHAs; (3) reform the administratively burdensome rent determination formulas so that the changes provide PHAs with the necessary flexibility over tenant rents to address the needs and priorities of their communities, gain administrative cost-savings, increase the incentives for able adults to work, and help eliminate improper payments; and (4) identify and adjust for unspent prior year balances from PHAs to determine FY09 funding levels and to promote the PHA's accountability in managing Voucher budgets.

Legislation to implement the Administration's reform proposal will be submitted to the Congress early in 2008.

The Housing Certificate Fund, until 2005, provided funding to both project-based and tenant-based components of the Section 8 program. Project-based Rental Assistance and Tenant-based Rental Assistance are now separately funded accounts. The Housing Certificate Fund retains and recovers balances from previous years' appropriations.

The Budget requests $7 billion for project-based rental assistance in 2009 and a $400 million advance appropriation to become available in 2010. These funds are sufficient to renew all contracts through fiscal year 2009 and into the first part of fiscal year 2010

Project-based Rental Assistance.—This program assists approximately 1.3 million low- and very low-income households in obtaining decent, safe, and sanitary housing in private accommodations. Project-based Rental Assistance serves families, elderly households, disabled households, and provides transitional housing for the homeless. Through this funding, HUD supports approximately 18,000 contracts with owners of multifamily rental housing to provide housing for low- and very low income families. This funding pays the difference between what a household can afford, generally 30 percent of eligible income, and the approved market-base rent for a housing unit. Program activity includes the following:

Contract Renewals.—The contract renewals set-aside provides funding for HUD to renew expiring lease contracts. Currently, around 80 percent of the contracts are renewed annually; the other 20 percent are funded from previously appropriated long-term contracts. These funds go directly to the housing costs of low- and very low income families in the program.

Section 8 Amendments.—A funding amendment to a Section 8 contract is required to maintain the project until its contract expiration date when actual costs incurred exceed the amount of budget authority originally obligated for the project. These additional costs are proposed to be entirely funded in 2009 by utilizing recoveries of excess balances remaining on expired Section 8 contracts that utilized less than anticipated resources in completing the contract. No new funds are requested in 2009 for Section 8 Amendment activity.

Contract Administrators.—The Contract Administrators set-aside is necessary to fund the local level administration of this program. Through this set-aside, HUD funds contracts with performance-based contract administrators. These entities, which are typically public housing authorities or state housing finance agencies, are responsible for conducting on-site management reviews of assisted properties; adjusting contract rents; reviewing, processing, and paying monthly vouchers submitted by owners; renewing contracts with property owners; and responding to health and safety issues at properties. For 2009, up to $232 million is requested for this set-aside.

Working Capital Fund Transfer.—At least $5 million or up to $6.25 million is requested in 2009 to fund development of and modifications to technology systems that support these activities.

The Public Housing Capital Fund, a formula-driven program based on estimated need, is designed to respond to the capital and management improvement requirements of public housing.

Of the $2.02 billion requested for the Public Housing Capital Fund, approximately $1.94 billion is provided to cover annual accrual needs. Other uses include up to $7 million for technical assistance, up to $15 million for public housing financial and physical assessment support, $37.6 million for support services, and up to $10 million for administrative and judicial receiverships. In addition, at least $14.6 million shall be transferred to the Working Capital Fund to fund development of and modifications of systems that support public housing. Funds for disaster relief are not requested. FEMA disaster assistance is available for any needs that are not covered by the required property insurance.

The Public Housing Capital Fund protects and enhances a valuable affordable housing resource, which serves approximately 1.2 million families with limited income. Of those families, 32 percent are elderly and 20 percent are disabled.

The 2009 Budget provides resources to support the estimated $2 billion annual capital accrual needs of the public housing inventory. Over the next year, the Department will conduct a new capital needs study of public housing. Since the last capital needs study in 1998, the backlog of capital needs for public housing is estimated to have been reduced through demolitions of more than 157,000 of the most distressed public housing stock as well as modernization and redevelopment of several hundred thousand units. A mandatory conversion rule has been implemented that will greatly accelerate the demolition of units beyond repair. In fiscal year 2007, 85.7 percent of housing units meet HUD's physical standards, compared to 82 percent in 2001.

PUBLIC HOUSING OPERATING FUND

For [2008] 2009 payments to public housing agencies for the operation and management of public housing, as authorized by section 9(e) of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. 1437g(e)), [$4,200,000,000] $4,300,000,000; of which $5,940,000 shall be for competitive grants and contracts to third parties for the provision of technical assistance to public housing agencies related to the transition and implementation of asset-based management in public housing: Provided, That, in fiscal year [2008] 2009 and all fiscal years hereafter, no amounts under this heading in any appropriations Act may be used for payments to public housing agencies for the costs of operation and management of public housing for any year prior to the current year of such Act: Provided further, That no funds may be used under this heading for the purposes specified in section 9(k) of the United States Housing Act of 1937. Operating subsidies are provided to public housing authorities (PHAs) to assist in funding the operation and maintenance expenses of public housing units in accordance with Section 9(e) of the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended. The 2009 request of $4.3 billion is a 2.4 percent increase in operating subsidies, reflecting higher costs for day-to-day expenses.

The following tables display the sources of PHAs' expected revenue and expenditures by category in 2009. The distribution is based on historical data reported by PHAs to HUD.

Sources of PHAs' Operating Revenue

Category (in millions of dollars)	Annual income	Percent of total
Operating Subsidies .....	$4,294	60%
Dwelling Rental .....	2,568	36%
Investment .....	124	1%
Other Income .....	204	3%
Total, Operating Revenue .....	7,190	100%

Operating Subsidies.—Represent HUD's contributions to a PHA's operating budget. Under the current formula-based approach, HUD sets a formula-determined allowable expense level (AEL) for each PHA and separately computes utility and audit costs. The PHA's dwelling rental income is also projected and the subsidy is the difference between the projected AEL, utility, and audit expenses and projected dwelling rental income. AEL is not based on actual cost data from PHAs. HUD, after consultation with PHAs, has adopted a new operating subsidy formula based on the previously congressionally sanctioned cost study conducted by the Harvard Graduate School of Design. The new formula was implemented beginning in 2007.

Dwelling Rental.—Income derived from tenants' rents.

Investment Income.—Income from interest earned on general fund investments.

Other Income.—Includes income from other sources such as renting rooftop space for signs or broadcasting, and from operating services for tenants, such as laundromats or day care centers.

PHAs' Operating Expenditures

Category (in millions of dollars)	Annual expenditures	Percent of total
Utilities .....	$1,730	24%
Administration .....	2,076	29%
General Operating Expenses .....	595	8%
Maintenance .....	2,391	33%
Tenant Services .....	206	3%
Protective Services .....	192	3%
Total, Operating Expenses/*/ .....	7190	100%

Utilities.—Includes water, sewer, electricity, gas, and fuel.

Administration.—Includes administrative salaries, legal expenses, staff training, travel, accounting fees, auditing fees, sundry, and outside management costs.

General Operating Expenses.—Includes insurance, payments made to local governments in lieu of taxes, terminal leave payments, employees benefit contributions, collection losses, interest on administrative and sundry notes, and other general expenses.

Ordinary Maintenance and Operations.—Consists of expenses for labor, materials, contracts and garbage fees associated with the day-to-day operation of the public housing authority.

Tenant Services.—Covers salaries, recreation, publication, contract costs, training, and other expenses.

Protective Services.—Includes expenses for labor, materials, and contract costs.

Asset-Based Management Technical Assistance.—Provides $5.9 million in competitive grants to support PHAs transitioning to project-based accounting and asset-based management.

The Public Housing Drug Elimination Grants program was terminated in the 2002 Budget—no new appropriations have been provided since fiscal year 2001. The program was found to have limited impact. Current regulatory tools, such as tenant screening and eviction, are effective in reducing drug-related crime in public housing. PHAs can supplement other public housing security efforts using operating funds if they choose.

The HOPE VI program in coordination with funding from the Public Housing Capital Fund has completed its goal of contributing to the demolition of 100,000 severely distressed public housing units. The HOPE VI program, while completing its goal, was found to be more costly than other programs and slow to complete redevelopments. The budget proposes no additional funds.

The remaining balance in this program of over $1.4 billion at the end of 2006 will spend out over several years as the redevelopment projects are completed. Cumulative results of the HOPE VI program as of June 30, 2007 follow: 68,657 households have been relocated, 87,445 units have been demolished, 61,222 units (new and rehabilitated) have been completed, and 58,719 completed units have been occupied.

Title I of the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act (NAHASDA) of 1996 (P.L. 104-330) authorized the Native American Housing Block Grant program. This program provides an allocation of funds on a formula basis to Indian tribes and their tribally designated housing entities to help them address housing needs within their communities. HUD has determined, using 2000 Census data, that 273,658 American Indian/Alaska Native households, out of 965,684 have "severe housing needs." This is defined as a lack of basic plumbing or kitchen facilities, having more than 1.01 persons per room, or having a cost burden of over 50 percent of income. According to the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs, in 2002, 90,000 Indian families were homeless or underhoused. On tribal lands, 28 percent of Indian households were found to be overcrowded or to lack adequate plumbing and kitchen facilities, compared to 5.4 percent of national households. The Budget supports a program goal to reduce over-crowding on Native lands by 10 percent.

The Native American Housing Block Grant program includes a guaranteed loan provision (Title VI). A guarantee level of $17 million is proposed for this loan guarantee program for 2009. A primary goal of the Title VI program is to encourage private lenders to provide financing in Indian country. Therefore, the program provides for the federal guarantee of notes or other obligations issued by Indian tribes or tribally designated housing entities for the purpose of financing affordable housing activities described in section 202 of the Act.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this account records, for this program, the subsidy costs associated with the loan guarantees committed in 1998 and beyond (including modifications of guarantees that resulted from obligations in any given year), as well as administrative expenses of this program. The subsidy amounts are estimated on a present value basis; the administrative expenses are estimated on a cash basis.

The Hawaiian Homelands Homeownership Act of 2000 (P.L. 106-568) amended the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act of 1996 by adding Title VIII, which authorized the Native Hawaiian Housing Block Grant program. This program provides an allocation of funds to assist and promote affordable housing activities to develop, maintain and operate affordable housing for eligible low-income Native Hawaiian families.

It authorizes annual grants to the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands (DHHL) for housing and housing-related assistance, pursuant to an annual housing plan, within the area in which DHHL is authorized to provide that assistance. DHHL uses performance measures and benchmarks that are based on the needs and priorities established in its five- and one-year housing plans.

The Low-Rent Public Housing Loan Fund provides direct Federal loans to fund remaining Public Housing Agency and Indian Housing Authority construction, acquisition, and modernization activities reserved under the Annual Contributions appropriation through 1986. These loans are made by borrowing from the Treasury. Under legislation enacted during 1986 (Public Law 99-272), amounts borrowed from the Treasury are forgiven at the end of each fiscal year and the loans to PHAs/IHAs are forgiven as construction, acquisition, and modernization activities are completed. Under the provisions of this legislation, $2 million borrowed from the Treasury was forgiven in 2007, $1 million will be borrowed from the Treasury and forgiven in 2008, and an estimated $1 million will be borrowed from the Treasury and forgiven in 2009.

Since 1987, new reservations of capital funds for construction, acquisition, and modernization activities have been provided directly from the Public Housing Capital Fund appropriations.

The subsidy amounts are estimated on a net present value basis. The administrative expenses are shown on a cash basis.

This program provides access to sources of private financing for Indian families, Indian tribes, and their tribally designated housing entities who otherwise could not acquire housing financing because of the unique legal status of Indian trust land. The Budget proposes increased funding to support additional loan guarantee activity and to provide managerial and systems support. The latter is important given the significant growth in loan activity under this program. Loan commitments increased 128 percent from 2005 to 2007, supporting homeownership efforts on Indian lands.

234001 Native Hawaiian Housing Loan Guarantees .....	1	1	1

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this account records, for this program, the subsidy costs associated with the loan guarantees committed in 2001 and beyond (including modifications of guarantees that resulted from obligations in any year). The subsidy amounts are estimated on a net present value basis. The administrative expenses are shown on a cash basis.

This program provides access to sources of private financing to eligible Native Hawaiian families who reside on the Hawaiian Home Lands and who otherwise could not acquire private financing because of the unique legal status of the Hawaiian Home Lands. The Budget proposes no funds for this program in 2009 because the unobligated balance of credit subsidy and the uncommitted loan limitation brought forward will be sufficient to support 2009 loan volume.

The Housing Opportunities for Persons With AIDS (HOPWA) program provides States and localities with resources and incentives to devise long-term comprehensive strategies for meeting the housing needs of persons with HIV/AIDS and their families. HOPWA funds provide stable housing arrangements, help reduce risks of homelessness and improve access to care for program participants. HOPWA funding is used in an efficient manner, resulting in the program's achievement of performance goals at a very modest cost per person assisted. The $300 million requested for 2009 will support approximately 70,500 housing units for persons with HIV/AIDS and their families.

States and metropolitan areas receive 90 percent of funds by formula based on the number of cases of AIDS. The final 10 percent is awarded competitively to States, local governments, and private nonprofit entities, including faith-based organizations, for projects of national significance with priority for renewal of the projects providing permanent supportive housing. Awards are also made to States and local governments for projects in jurisdictions that do not qualify for a formula allocation. In addition, approximately $1.5 million is available for technical assistance to grantees and project sponsors to strengthen management of programs and ensure responsiveness in meeting client needs. Another $1.75 million is transferred to the Working Capital Fund to support information technology systems needed to operate the program.

It is proposed that the data sources used to calculate annual HOPWA formula allocations for eligible States and cities be updated to permit HUD to implement adjustments to the HOPWA formula through regulation by using current data on the number of persons living with AIDS and to allow for a housing cost factor that reflects differences in area housing needs. Whereas the current formula distributes formula grant resources by the cumulative number of AIDS cases, the revised formula will account for the present number of people living with AIDS, as well as differences in housing costs in the qualifying areas.

The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program provides flexible annual formula grants to State and local governments to benefit mainly low- to moderate-income persons. The funding is used for a wide-range of community and economic development activities, such as housing rehabilitation and construction, job creation and retention, public services, and public infrastructure improvements. Seventy percent of the CDBG formula grants are distributed to mainly urban areas (entitlement communities), and thirty percent to the States (non-entitlement communities).

The Budget re-proposes the CDBG Reform Act, which adopts an improved formula to better target funds to communities with the greatest economic need and holds communities accountable for results. The current formula has not been updated in over 30 years and as a result, many lower-income communities receive less assistance than wealthier communities. In addition to the improved formula, the proposal would be designed with a Challenge Grant Fund component, which provides incentives to communities to invest in projects more strategically. Legislation to authorize these reforms will be transmitted in early 2008. The Budget also proposes $5 million in technical assistance funding to assist grantees in the program and at least $3 million for the Working Capital Fund.

As part of the reforms, HUD programs such as Brownfields Economic Development Initiative, Community Development Loan Guarantee Program (Section 108), and Rural Housing and Economic Development are proposed for termination. These programs are duplicative — their activities are eligible to be funded by CDBG and other Federal programs.

The Indian Community Development Block Grant program will continue to be funded in this account at $57 million. This program provides eligible grantees with direct grants for use in developing viable Indian and Alaska Native Communities, including decent housing, a suitable living environment, and economic opportunities, primarily for low and moderate income persons.

No funding is requested for Empowerment Zones/Enterprise Communities/Renewal Communities (EZ/EC/RC).

The EZ/EC/RC initiative helps revitalize distressed neighborhoods by attracting business development and providing employment opportunities to residents of high poverty urban areas. The initiative complements the President's goals of strengthening communities and focusing federal resources on areas of greatest need, primarily through the expansion of businesses. This effort will continue to be done through tax incentives rather than grants.

An amendment to the Internal Revenue Code enacted in 2001 approved major tax incentives to revitalize areas of pervasive poverty, unemployment, and general distress, and HUD designated 40 urban and rural RCs and a third round of 8 urban EZs under the 2001 law. The designations under that law continue into FY 2010. The 2001 law also allows the 22 urban EZs from the earlier rounds to receive the same package of tax incentives for the same time period.

The 2009 Budget requests no funding for the Brownfields Economic Development Initiative (BEDI) program and it is proposed to be terminated as a part of the broader CDBG program reforms. BEDI activities can be funded with Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds.

BEDI is a competitive grant program designed to stimulate and promote economic and community development, and is used in conjunction with the Community Development Loan Guarantee program. Brownfields are abandoned, idled, and underused industrial and commercial facilities and land where expansion and redevelopment is burdened by real or potential environmental contamination.

Grants were made in accordance with selection criteria deemed appropriate for brownfields projects, including an applicant's capacity to operate a brownfields program and the extent it works with environmental regulatory agencies, as well as the projected future economic benefits to the community.

The HOME Investment Partnerships Program is authorized by the National Affordable Housing Act (P.L. 101-625), as amended. This program provides flexible annual formula grant assistance to States and units of local government to increase homeownership and expand the supply of affordable housing for low- to very-low income persons. Sixty percent of the formula grant funds is awarded to participating local governments and 40 percent is awarded to states. Eligible activities include acquisition, rehabilitation, new construction of affordable housing, and tenant-based rental assistance.

Program evaluations, including the Program Assessment and Rating Tool (PART), have found that the program has a clear purpose, strong management, and can demonstrate results. In its PART assessment, the HOME program received a "Moderately Effective" rating based on the program's potentially significant impact on affordable housing problems, the progress towards its annual performance goals, and its ability to demonstrate improved efficiency over time. The funding provided in the 2009 Budget will result over time in the production of 85,350 units of affordable housing through new construction, rehabilitation, and/or acquisition. Tenant-based rental assistance will be provided for 17,760 units.

In addition, the $50 million requested for the American Dream Downpayment Initiative (ADDI) will help expand homeownership opportunities to approximately 6,500 low-income first-time homebuyers and continue to support expansion of minority homeownership.

The Budget requests $40 million for grants to eligible national and regional non-profits and consortia for land acquisition for home sites and improvement of utilities and other site infrastructure, of which, $990,000 will be used for technical assistance.

Self-Help Homeownership Opportunity Program (SHOP) funds assist low-income homebuyers willing to contribute "sweat equity" toward the construction of their houses. The funds increase the ability of non-profit organizations to leverage funds from other sources and will produce at least 2,000 new homeownership units for very low to low-income people. As a result, SHOP directly contributes to the Presidential priority of promoting homeownership, especially the ten-year goal to have 5.5 million new minority homeowners. Minorities comprise about 78 percent of the program participants. The program's track record has shown that it can leverage at least $7 in resources from other sources for each federal dollar. The 2006 Program Assessment Rating Tool (PART) found SHOP to be "Effective."

The Homeless Assistance Grants account provides funds for the Shelter Plus Care, Supportive Housing, Emergency Shelter Grants, and Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation Single Room Occupancy programs. These programs, which award funds through the Continuum of Care process, enable localities to shape and implement comprehensive, flexible, coordinated approaches to address the multiple issues of homelessness. Many communities have made great strides in creating comprehensive approaches to ending chronic homelessness through the development of State Interagency Councils and local plans.

The Budget requests $1.636 billion for a wide range of activities to assist homeless persons and prevent future homelessness. Increased funding will continue to support the Administration's goal of ending chronic homelessness by creating new permanent supportive housing for this population. In addition, the Budget places a major emphasis on permanent housing by requiring 30 percent of funds to be used for this purpose. In fiscal year 2006, 57 percent of competitive funds awarded were used for housing purposes and it is estimated that the Budget will support approximately 160,000 emergency, transitional and permanent beds for homeless families and individuals.

The Administration will again propose legislation to combine HUD's three competitive grant programs—Shelter Plus Care, Supportive Housing, and Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation Single Room Occupancy—into a single program with flexibility to better meet community needs. The new consolidated program will incorporate up to $50 million for the Samaritan Housing Initiative that will specifically address the supportive housing needs of chronically homeless individuals. The Department continues to pursue expanded interagency efforts to meet the needs of the homeless and to accomplish the Administration's goal of ending chronic homelessness.

Funding is also requested for program evaluation and technical assistance to provide, among other services, needed assistance to grantees to resolve problems that hinder successful project completion and implementation, and for homeless management information systems (HMIS) support, including the continuing operation of tracking systems required by House Report 105-610.

The 2009 Budget requests no funding for the Rural Housing and Economic Development (RHED) program. The program is duplicative, particularly of programs provided through the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which manages a portfolio of rural housing and economic development grants programs that vastly exceed HUD's RHED program in terms of services, budget and staffing. The needs of rural communities are also addressed with greater resources through the Community Development Block Grants and HOME Investment Partnerships Program.

The RHED program was created to encourage innovative approaches to serve the housing and economic development needs of the nation's rural communities.

The Revolving Fund (liquidating programs) was established by the Independent Offices Appropriations Act of 1955 for the efficient liquidation of assets acquired under a number of housing and urban development programs. The operational expenses are financed from a permanent, indefinite appropriation to administer the remaining repayments of loans and recaptures in the portfolio. Annually, any amounts in the account are returned as a dividend to the Treasury.

The Section 312 loan program portfolio, which provided first and junior lien financing at below market interest rates for the rehabilitation of homes in low-income neighborhoods, constituted a large portion of the account activities. This program ceased to originate new loans over ten years ago. Since the sale of the Section 312 loan portfolio to the private sector in 2001, activity in this account has been minimal.

The 2009 Budget requests no funding for the Community Development Loan Guarantee program (Section 108). The program activities, such as economic development projects and affordable housing construction, can be funded with Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds and/or other private financing options. As a part of the broader CDBG and federal economic development program reforms, the program is proposed to be terminated. The 2007 Program Assessment Rating Tool (PART) found that the program was "Results not Demonstrated."

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this account records the subsidy costs associated with the loan guarantees committed since 1992 (including modifications of direct loans or loan guarantees that resulted from obligations or commitments in any year), as well as administrative expenses for this program. The subsidy amounts are estimated on a present value basis; the administrative expenses are estimated on a cash basis.

Guaranteed Loans. The Community Development Loan Guarantee program (Section 108) has provided a mechanism for the Federal guarantee of private loans. The financing account shows the status of privately financed guaranteed loan commitments made in and after 1992. No funding is requested for new section 108 loans in 2009. An accompanying liquidating account shows activity for Federal Financing Bank (FFB) direct loan activity obligated prior to July 1, 1986, and any pre-1992 loan guarantee activity.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this non-budgetary account records all cash flows to and from the Government resulting from loan guarantees committed in 1992 and beyond (including modifications of loan guarantees that resulted from commitments in any year). The amounts in this account are a means of financing and are not included in the budget totals. As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, no administrative expenses can be recorded in the financing account.

Guaranteed Loans. Guaranteed loan assistance under the Community Development Loan Guarantee (Section 108) program is provided to eligible communities to finance economic development activities, housing rehabilitation, development or expansion of public facilities, acquisition of real property, rehabilitation of publicly-owned real property, and certain related expenses. Until 1986, the Federal Financing Board (FFB) in the Department of Treasury financed these guaranteed loans. The Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 required private financing of all loan guarantees committed after July 1, 1986. The FFB will continue disbursing loans for commitments approved prior to July 1, 1986. The activity shown in the above account reflects privately financed guaranteed loans for which commitments were made prior to 1992.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this liquidating account records all cash flows to and from the Government resulting from Federal Financing Bank (FFB)

This account consolidates all activities under the Section 202 Housing for the Elderly Program, including capital grants for construction of new low-income housing units, project rental assistance contracts (PRAC), conversion of existing properties to assisted living, and service coordinators. The program funds the following: the construction of new units via capital advance grants to nonprofit owners, provided that the owner reserves the units for very low-income elderly individuals for no less than 40 years; project rental assistance contracts to fund the difference between a HUD-approved, per-unit operating cost and 30 percent of the tenant's adjusted income; a grant program funding service coordinators who work on-site to help the project's residents obtain critical services; assistance for converting elderly housing units to assisted living facilities under a stand-alone grant program.

The account is displayed as two general activities—"Expansion" and "Rental Assistance Renewal and Operating Expenses"—to provide information on programmatic functions and resource usage. Expansion funds include capital grants for new unit construction and project rental assistance provided for an initial period to each new project, while Rental Assistance Renewal and Operating Expenses cover costs associated with existing units and other expenses. Up to $15 million of 2009 Expansion funds may be used for a demonstration project that leverages additional capital from various sources—such as private investors through tax credits—to support the construction of additional elderly housing units.

The 2009 Budget expands the number of housing units assisted by this program by providing $339 million to construct approximately 2,400 new units of housing. In addition, all housing previously supported will continue to receive operating subsidies. Finally, congregate services and other supportive social services for residents, such as benefit counseling, will receive $80 million, and upgrades of developments to assisted living facilities are funded at $25 million.

The program funds: the construction of new units via capital advance grants to nonprofit owners, provided that the owner reserves the units for very low-income persons with disabilities for no less than 40 years; project rental assistance contracts to fund the difference between a HUD-approved, per-unit operating cost—which may include certain services—and (usually) 30 percent of the tenant's adjusted income; annual costs associated with renewing "main stream" vouchers reserved for persons with disabilities, which are administered by the Office of Public and Indian Housing.

The Housing Counseling Assistance Program provides comprehensive housing counseling services to eligible homeowners and tenants through grants to nonprofit intermediaries, state governmental entities, and other agencies with presences ranging from local to national, as well as teaming up with such partners to provide technical assistance and training. Eligible counseling activities include pre- and post-purchase education, personal financial management, reverse mortgage product education, foreclosure prevention/mitigation, and rental counseling. As such, the Housing Counseling Assistance Program supports the delivery of a wide variety of housing counseling services to homebuyers, homeowners, low- to moderate-income renters, elderly citizens, and the homeless. The program impacts numerous HUD programs and Presidential priorities, including the Administration's current foreclosure mitigation efforts, and provides a key short- and long-term solution to the far-reaching home finance difficulties currently facing the country. The primary objectives of the program are to expand homeownership opportunities, improve access to affordable housing, increase financial literacy, and aid in HUD's commitment to bridging the minority homeownership gap. Additionally, the program supports individuals with FHA-insured loans, supporting the overall soundness of the portfolio to the American taxpayer's benefit.

This program has been funded through a set-aside under the HOME program appropriation for the past several years. However, in 2009, it is again being proposed as a separate account. The increasing social importance and cross-Departmental relevance of the program suggest an unprecedented need for an independently-appropriated, self-sufficient program. In addition, authority is proposed to make available up to $2,000,000 for administrative support necessary to improve the management of the housing counseling program and enable the program to respond more nimbly to ever-evolving needs.

The Other Assisted Housing Account contains the programs listed below:

Rent Supplement.—Rent supplement assistance payments will continue to be made on behalf of qualified low-income tenants in approximately 15,041 units as of September 30, 2007, which have not converted to Section 8.

Section 235.—The Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983 (Public Law 98-181) authorized a restructured Section 235 (Homeownership Assistance) program that provided homeowners a 10-year interest reduction subsidy on their mortgages.

Section 236.—The Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, as amended, authorizes the Section 236 Rental Housing Assistance Program which subsidizes the monthly mortgage payment that an owner of a rental or cooperative project is required to make. This interest subsidy reduces rents for lower income tenants.

This account includes funding necessary to amend Rent Supplement and Rental Assistance Payment (RAP) contracts in state-aided multifamily housing projects to address cost increases beyond the maximum annual payment limitation previously established for the affected contracts. As some of these rental assistance contracts are terminated due to prepayments or other reasons, remaining balances are recovered. The account includes language to cancel the amounts recovered from projects where rental assistance has been terminated.

The table below provides a summary of outlays by program.

The Homeownership and Opportunity for People Everywhere Program, funded from fiscal year 1992-1995, provided affordable homeownership opportunities for low-income families. Units were converted to homeownership from public and Indian housing properties in HOPE I, from FHA-insured and Government-held multifamily properties in HOPE II, and from Government-owned or -held single family properties in HOPE III. HOPE Grants were used for property acquisition, rehabilitation, mortgage subsidies, security measures, and technical assistance. In addition, grants have been devoted to counseling and training of residents, and other activities intended to help them become economically self-sufficient homeowners. This schedule reflects the expenditure of prior year balances.

The Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act provides protection to the public with respect to purchase or leases of subdivision lots. Statements of record must be filed with the Secretary before subdivisions with 100 or more lots may be sold in interstate commerce, except when the subdivision is eligible for exemption.

The Secretary is authorized to charge a fee, to be paid by the developer when filing a statement of record. The fee receipts are permanently appropriated and have helped finance a portion of the direct administrative expenses incurred in program operations.

The Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 authorized the Secretary to establish a revolving fund into which rental collections in excess of the established basic rents for units in Section 236 subsidized projects would be deposited.

The Housing and Community Development Amendment of 1978 authorized the Secretary, subject to approval in appropriation acts, to transfer excess rent collections received after 1978 to the Troubled Projects Operating Subsidy program, renamed the Flexible Subsidy Fund. Prior to that time, collections were used for paying tax and utility increases in Section 236 projects. The Housing and Community Development Act of 1980 amended the 1978 Act by authorizing the transfer of excess rent collections regardless of when collected. The Budget proposes that the resources from the Rental Housing Assistance Fund continue to be transferred to the Flexible Subsidy Fund, with the exception of amounts required to make refunds of excess income remittances as authorized by Public Law 106-569.

【(TRANSFER OF FUNDS)】

【From the Rental Housing Assistance Fund, all uncommitted balances of excess rental charges as of September 30, 2007, and any collections made during fiscal year 2008 and all subsequent fiscal years, shall be transferred to the Flexible Subsidy Fund, as authorized by section 236(g) of the National Housing Act.】 (Department of Housing and Urban Development Appropriations Act, 2008.)

The Flexible Subsidy Fund assisted financially troubled subsidized projects under certain FHA authorities. The subsidies were intended to prevent potential losses to the FHA fund resulting from project insolvency and to preserve these projects as a viable source of housing for low and moderate-income tenants. Priority was given to projects with Federal insurance-in-force and then to those with mortgages that had been assigned to the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Excess rental income in the Rental Housing Assistance Fund not refunded to project owners will continue to be transferred to the Flexible Subsidy Fund.

The Federal Housing Administration (FHA) provides mortgage insurance to encourage lenders to make credit available to borrowers for which the conventional market does not adequately serve. These include first-time homebuyers, minorities, lower-income families, and residents of underserved areas (central cities and rural areas).

In 2009, FHA is requesting an aggregate limitation of $185 billion on loan guarantees for the Mutual Mortgage Insurance (MMI) fund and is proposing legislative changes to reform FHA.

In 2002, the President issued America's Homeownership Challenge to increase first-time minority homeowners by 5.5 million through 2010. The Budget continues Administration efforts to modernize FHA with proposals for new mortgage products targeted toward families who face the obstacles of having poor credit histories or little savings. These new mortgages will have risk-based premiums tied to credit scores and the size of downpayments. This will result in more families having access to mortgage financing and will reward families with lower mortgage payments for having good credit histories and saving more for downpayments. The Budget also proposes to increase the FHA single-family national loan limit ceiling from 87 percent to 100 percent of the conforming loan limit of $417,000.

Because of deteriorating market conditions, as well as adverse loan performance and improved estimation techniques, the baseline credit subsidy rate for FHA's single family program—assuming no programmatic changes—is positive, meaning that total costs exceed receipts on a present value basis, and therefore would require appropriations of credit subsidy budget authority or premium increases to continue operation. Under the Budget's policy proposals, FHA will be able to set premiums that are based on risk and are sufficient to avoid the need for credit subsidy appropriations. Barring the authority to establish risk-based premiums, however, FHA will use its existing authority to raise the upfront premiums on most borrowers up to maximums of 1.95 percent (purchase) and 1.75 percent (re-finance) and the annual premium to a maximum of 0.52 percent (purchase) in order to avoid a positive subsidy rate.

The Budget establishes a separate risk category for seller-financed downpayment assistance mortgages. Actuarial analysis has found that these loans are very costly, with default rates well in excess of other FHA single-family purchase mortgages. Placing seller-financed downpayment assistance loans in a separate program from other FHA single-family mortgages will prevent erosion of the credit quality in the general FHA single-family portfolio. Because of the high default rate for seller-financed downpayment assistance loans, the program has a positive subsidy rate and would require appropriations to operate in 2009, even if FHA were to charge the highest possible premiums rates allowable under current law. The Budget proposes no new loan guarantees under this program; it provides no funding for its credit subsidy costs.

The Budget also proposes that new loans for the Condominium, the Section 203(k) rehabilitation, and Home Equity Conversion programs come from the MMI fund in order to consolidate single-family programs in one fund; previously these loans were made under the General and Special Risk funds. Those single-family loans made prior to 2009 will remain under the General and Special Risk funds. The proposal includes the removal of the statutory cap on the number of Home Equity Conversion Mortgages insured by FHA. The effects of these proposals are illustrated in separate schedules published for the MMI and General and Special Risk funds.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this account records administrative expenses for this program, as well as the subsidy costs, if any, associated with the loan guarantees committed in 1992 and thereafter. The subsidy amounts are estimated on a present value basis; the administrative expenses are estimated on a cash basis.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this non-budgetary account records all cash flows to and from the Government resulting from direct loans obligated in 1992 and thereafter (including modifications of direct loans that resulted from obligations in any year). The amounts in this account are a means of financing and are not included in the budget totals.

The $50 million in 2009 direct loan limitation in the MMI Fund would permit the Department to use Purchase Money

Mortgages (PMMs) to help finance the sale of acquired single family properties. HUD would extend credit for these single-family homes to community nonprofit organizations or local government entities, which would be expected to sell the properties to low- and moderate-income buyers. The use of PMMs provides a tool for State and local nonprofit organizations to use in revitalizing communities, and creates enhanced homeownership opportunities for low- and moderate-income families.

In 2002, a Capital Reserve account was established for the Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund. Financial reserves, including securities, of the MMI Fund were transferred from the liquidating account to the Capital Reserve account. In 2003, this mandatory account started earning interest on Treasury investments, collecting negative subsidy and downward reestimates from the Financing account, and paying upward reestimates to the Program account. The Liquidating account now only reflects cashflows related to pre-1992 books of business.

The Federal Housing Administration Fund currently consists of four separate insurance funds.

In order to present more clearly the operations of the various funds, FHA's budget transactions are separated into two major business segments. The basic single-family insurance programs in the Mutual Mortgage Insurance (MMI) fund and the multifamily Cooperative Management Housing Insurance (CMHI) funds form one segment. All other multifamily and other specialized insurance programs in the General Insurance and Special Risk Insurance funds (GI/SRI) form the other segment.

The Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990 creates a structure of three accounts for existing credit program. For each of the FHA business segments (MMI/CMHI and GI/SRI) there is a liquidating account, which records the revenues and costs associated with loan insurance committed prior to October 1, 1991, a financing account which records the revenues and costs associated with commitments to insure loans made after September 30, 1991, and, a program account which records the transactions associated with the program subsidy costs, if any, and the costs of administering the program.

This liquidating account records, for this program, all cash flows to and from the Government resulting from MMI/CMHI loans insured prior to 1992 and is shown on a cash basis. All new activity in this program in 1992 and thereafter (including modifications of loans insured in any year) is recorded in the corresponding program (86-0183) and financing (86-4587 and 86-4242) accounts.

In 2002, the MMI Capital Reserve account was established to maintain reserves required by statute that were previously deposited in the liquidating account.

The program activity in the "Program Highlights" table shown below reflects only the activity in the MMI/CMHI liquidating and financing accounts. The GI/SRI program activity can be found with the GI/SRI liquidating account (86-4072) and financing account (86-4077).

This account includes budget authority for insurance programs requiring positive credit subsidies, as well as administrative contract costs for all General and Special Risk Insurance Fund programs. Unlike previous years, this account no longer receives appropriations for Departmental personnel costs, illustrated by the considerable reduction in both total budget authority and obligation activities in both 2008 and 2009.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this account records, for the single family, multifamily, hospital, and Title I insurance programs of FHA's General Insurance and Special Risk Insurance Funds, the subsidy costs associated with the loan guarantees committed or direct loans obligated in 1992 and thereafter (including modifications of loan guarantees or direct loans that resulted from obligations or commitments in any year), as well as administrative expenses of these programs. The subsidy amounts are estimated on a present value basis; the administrative expenses are accounted for on a cash basis.

The Budget proposes a consolidation of FHA single-family programs under the Mutual Mortgage Insurance fund, which would shift several programs—including condominium mortgage insurance and home equity conversion mortgage (HECM) insurance—currently administered through this account, as reflected in separate schedules in this section.

The amounts in this account are a means of financing and are not included in the budget totals. As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, no administrative expenses can be recorded in the financing account.

This schedule includes two direct loan programs. One provides bridge loan financing to facilitate the disposition of multifamily housing owned by the Department to non-profit organizations who agree to preserve it as affordable rental or cooperative housing. The second is a single-family direct loan program for purchase money mortgages, as discussed in the preceding section for the Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund.

The General Insurance fund provides insurance for a large number of specialized mortgage insurance programs, including insurance of loans for property improvements, cooperatives, condominiums, nursing homes, rental housing and non-profit hospitals.

The Special Risk Insurance fund provides insurance on behalf of mortgagors who otherwise would not be eligible for mortgage insurance. In addition, the fund provides insurance on mortgages covering experimental housing where strict adherence to State or local building regulations is not observed.

As required by the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, this account records, for this program, all cash flows to and from the Government resulting from loan guarantees committed and direct loans obligated prior to 1992. This account is shown on a cash basis. New insurance and direct loan activity in 1992 and thereafter in the GI/SRI programs are recorded in corresponding program (86-0200) and financing (86-4077 and 86-4105) accounts.

Note.—Amounts for direct loan obligations reflect reservations of direct loan funds for elderly and disabled projects. Loan obligations shown under the program and financing schedule reflect loans that have reached the initial closing stage of processing.

The Housing for the Elderly or Handicapped Fund, a combined liquidating account was established pursuant to section 202 of the Housing Act of 1959, as amended. The loan program is no longer active—no new loan commitments were made after 1991—although projects developed under it continue to operate. The program provided direct loans to non-profit organizations sponsoring the construction and management of rental housing for the elderly or non-elderly persons with disabilities. Any remaining activity for the loan program includes amendments for projects reaching final endorsement, payment of interest and repayment of borrowings to Treasury, and management of the loan portfolio.

Projects included an assured range of necessary services for the occupants of such projects. In addition, the section 8 rental assistance program has been used in conjunction with the section 202 program, such that HUD rental assistance payments partially cover the loan liability. Applications under the two programs have been processed simultaneously.

The data included in these schedules represent direct loan activities funded under the Housing for the Elderly or Handicapped Loan Fund. Further, activities in support of the needs of the elderly and disabled have been carried out under a grant program funded in the 1991 Appropriations Act (P.L. 101-507) and authorized in the National Affordable Housing Act (P.L. 101-625).

After April 1, 1992, all projects for which there were administrative reservations converted to the capital advance assistance program.

The program and financing schedule for this account summarizes the Federal government's obligations for this loan program.

The National Manufactured Housing Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974, as amended by the Manufactured Housing Improvement Act of 2000, authorizes development and enforcement of appropriate standards for the construction, design, and performance of manufactured homes to assure their quality, durability, affordability, and safety. All manufactured homes produced since the standards took effect on June 15, 1976, must comply with Federal construction and safety standards. The States are actively encouraged to participate in the program under compliance plans approved by HUD. New program requirements mandated by the Manufactured Housing Improvement Act of 2000 include procurement of an Administering Organization, formation of a Consensus Committee to recommend revisions to and interpretations of the manufactured housing standards, development and implementation of standards for installation of manufactured housing, and development and implementation of a dispute resolution program.

Fees are charged to the manufacturers for each manufactured home transportable section produced and to any dispute resolution and installation program participant. These fees and appropriations will be used to fund the costs of authorized activities necessary for the consensus committee, HUD, and its agents to carry out all aspects of the manufactured housing legislation. Fees are deposited in a trust fund administered by the Department, and a portion of the fee receipts are transferred to the salaries and expenses account to defray the direct administrative expenses of the program.

The Budget proposes to supplement the program's fee revenue with a direct appropriation, which will offset the effect of declining fee revenue caused by a substantial reduction in manufactured housing production rates, and help pay for startup costs associated with the new installation and dispute resolution programs.

GOVERNMENT NATIONAL MORTGAGE
ASSOCIATION

The Government National Mortgage Association (Ginnie Mae) was formed by Congress in 1968. It is a wholly owned government corporation within the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). It was established to support Federal housing initiatives by providing liquidity to the secondary mortgage market and to attract capital from the global capital markets for the nation's mortgage markets. Its primary function is to guarantee the timely payment of principal and interest on Mortgage-Backed Securities (MBS) that are backed by loans insured or guaranteed by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA), the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), Rural Development in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and HUD's Office of Public and Indian Housing.

Financing.—Ginnie Mae issuers are assessed commitment, guarantee, and other fees to cover cost incurred by Ginnie Mae, and to fund a reserve against possible future payments under the guarantee.

The Housing and Urban Development Act of 1970 directs the Secretary to undertake programs of research, studies, testing, and demonstrations related to the HUD mission. These functions are carried out internally and through contracts with industry, nonprofit research organizations, and educational institutions, and through agreements with State and local governments and other Federal agencies.

In 2009, the research program includes funds for HUD program evaluations, for work related to the removal of barriers to affordable housing, and critical research and studies. Program evaluations provide critical information for PART reviews, as well as regular periodic reviews of major HUD programs. National housing surveys will continue in 2009, including the American Housing Survey, the Survey of New Home Sales and Completions, the Survey of Market Absorption of Multifamily Units and the Survey of New Manufactured Housing Placements. Other significant activities in 2009 include: (1) providing research and policy analysis support to the Secretary in connection with his role in regulating the Government-Sponsored Enterprises, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac; (2) providing research and policy analysis support for the Real Estate Settlements Procedures Act (RESPA), FHA Reform, CDBG formula effectiveness, predatory lending, and asset management; and (3) continuing research on low-income and minority homeownership.

Set-aside funds are not requested for the Partnership for Advancing Technology (PATH) program in 2009, but PATH will remain an eligible activity under the Research and Technology account and will be administered by the Office of Policy Development and Research.

Since 2006, the University Partnership Programs have been funded from the Research and Technology account. These grants, pursuant to Section 107 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, were funded prior to 2006 under the Community Development Block Grant account. These programs were and will continue to be administered by the Office of Policy Development and Research. The University Partnership Programs provide grants to colleges and universities to help form partnerships with the communities in which they are located, with resources used for various neighborhood development and revitalization activities. The University Partnership Programs include the following: Alaska Native/ Native Hawaiian Institutions program, Tribal Colleges and Universities program, Historically Black Colleges and Universities program, and the Hispanic Serving Institutions program.

The Budget proposes $51 million for fair housing activities to support efforts to end housing discrimination. Of the amount requested, $25 million is for the Fair Housing Assistance Program (FHAP) and $26 million is for the Fair Housing Initiatives Program (FHIP).

Up to $6 million is provided for the Housing Discrimination Study (HDS) of 2010, which will begin research activities in 2009. This study will estimate the national levels of discrimination faced by African-Americans, Hispanics, and Asian and Pacific Islander renters and homebuyers. Further, it will provide comparable data to determine any changes in the level of discrimination from the 2000 HDS Study, and will measure FHIP's effectiveness in providing fair housing enforcement.

FHAP, authorized by Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 as amended, provides funding to State and local agencies to assure prompt and effective processing of Title VIII (Civil Rights Act of 1968) complaints. The funding requested for FHAP will support fair housing enforcement by funding

State and local fair housing organizations to meet the needs of currently underserved populations. It will also address the persistently high rate of discrimination against minorities as identified by HUD's 2000 HDS. It is estimated that in 2009 there will be two new State and local agencies with laws equivalent to the Fair Housing Act, increasing the total number to 113 agencies.

FHIP, authorized by the Housing and Community Development Act of 1987, as amended by the Housing and Community Development Act of 1992, provides funding to States and local governments, and public and private non-profit organizations that administer programs to prevent or eliminate discriminatory housing practices. FHIP also provides funding to programs and activities designed to enforce the rights granted by title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, or substantially equivalent State and local fair housing laws. In addition, FHIP supports funding for education and outreach programs designed to inform the public concerning rights and obligations under these laws.

This funding request recognizes the priority of fighting housing discrimination in an effective and efficient manner. The Budget also reflects activities addressing predatory lending and continued support for the rebuilding efforts in hurricane-impacted communities in the Gulf Coast region. Combined, these activities are key elements of the Administration's efforts to expand homeownership opportunities and access to housing free from discrimination.

Title X of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1992 (Public Law 102-550), known as the Residential Lead-Based Paint Hazard Reduction Act, authorized the Secretary to establish the Lead-Based Paint Hazard Control Grant Program. The primary purpose of the program is to reduce the exposure of young children to lead-based paint and other environmental hazards in their homes, including protecting them from permanent developmental problems and asthma, and exposure to pesticides and carbon monoxide.

The program is a major part of a 10-year strategy to eliminate by 2010 the number one environmental disease impacting children, lead poisoning. The Budget includes $92.6 million for HUD's Lead Hazard Control Program competitive grants, $8.8 million for the Technical Support Program, and $14.6 million for the Healthy Homes Initiative. The budget includes a provision that would allow the transfer of unobligated balances and recaptured funds from undersubscribed competitive programs to other competitive programs experiencing oversubscription. It also includes language granting the Secretary authority to carry out investigations, administer oaths, and subpoena documents related to lead hazard investigations.

The Lead Hazard Control Grant Program provides grants of $1 million to $3 million to State and local governments and Indian tribes for control of lead-based paint hazards in low-income rental and owner-occupied housing. The grants are also designed to stimulate the development of a housing maintenance and rehabilitation workforce trained in lead-safe work practices and a certified hazard evaluation and control industry. In awarding grants, HUD promotes the use of new, low-cost approaches to hazard control that can be replicated across the nation. Newly-established programmatic efficiency measures, such as mitigation cost estimates, will help HUD determine best practices and maximize resources.

The Healthy Homes Initiative will enable the Department to assess and control housing-related hazards that contribute to childhood diseases and injuries. The initiative will demonstrate and evaluate methods for controlling two or more housing-related diseases through a single intervention. A public education/outreach effort designed to enable the public to prevent children's exposure to hazards will also be conducted through a competitive grant process.

The Office of Healthy Homes and Lead Hazard Control will continue its Technical Support Program, which will include public education; technical assistance for State and local agencies, private property owners, HUD programs and field offices and professional organizations; quality control to ensure that the evaluation and control of lead-based paint hazards is done properly in HUD-assisted housing; and development of standards, technical guidance, regulations and improved testing and hazard control methods.

The Administration, Operations and Management (AOM) account was created by the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2008, which created nine new administrative expense accounts across the Department. As the largest single administrative account, AOM funds many central Departmental functions, including: the Office of Administration, the Office of the Chief Financial Officer, the Office of the Chief Procurement Officer, the Office of Departmental Operations and Coordination, the Office of the General Counsel, the Office of Field Policy Management, and several other offices across the Department, including the Office of the Secretary. The AOM account also serves as the primary funding source for all non-personnel expenses, such as travel, overhead expenses (e.g., rent and utilities), contract services, and other functions. The Office of the Chief Financial Officer will provide funds control oversight and accountability by administering the central non-personnel expense funds.

The Executive Direction account was created by the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2008, and contains a number of obligation sub-functions covering various high-level management offices and central administrative functions. The Budget proposes to eliminate this account for 2009, and instead spreads the relevant management offices' resources to their respective bureaus, with the remaining central functions moving to the Administration, Operations and Management account. The administrative burden and lack of flexibility afforded by the account outweighs potential management benefits.

Beginning with the passage of the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2008, this account will no longer receive new appropriations. Instead, salary and expense activities are now spread across many accounts, achieving greater transparency and accountability within the Department. Resources remaining in this account reflect prior-year appropriations and otherwise unexpended amounts.

Formerly, this appropriation financed virtually all salaries, benefits, travel, contract expenses, and related administrative costs associated with administering the programs of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The Office of Federal Housing Enterprise Oversight (OFHEO) was authorized in the Federal Housing Enterprise Safety and Soundness Act of 1992. OFHEO was established in 1992 to regulate the financial safety and soundness of two housing Government-sponsored enterprises (GSEs)—Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. OFHEO is required to ensure that the GSEs meet capital standards, and to conduct onsite annual examinations at the GSEs for the purpose for ensuring their financial safety and soundness.

The Budget re-proposes a new strengthened housing GSE regulator as an independent agency. All OFHEO resources would be transferred to it. The Administration continues to support direct funding of these activities with mandatory assessmentson Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.
