COMMENTS:

I support the Yucca Mtn. project completely. I have toured the site + asked questions. I am satisfied that this is the best place for nuclear waste, the canisters are safe and the research extensive ~~and~~ honestly presented. We already have the waste on the planet; it needs to go somewhere. The desert is the best place on earth to store it. In raw form product is already being hauled to reactors for use. We are more conscientious than other countries of the world. This is a clean + inexpensive form of energy. The next thing I'd like to see is a reactor or two built in Nevada - can that be added to the package?
Thank you!
