RE: Supplemental Yucca Mountain EIS scoping comments (Notice of Intent, 71 FR 60490)

Dear Dr. Summerson:

The FR Notice described fundamental changes from the plan described in the EIS. As such NEPA requires that a new EIS be generated rather than a supplement to the original EIS. The previous EIS was not based upon a close packing of canisters which creates a very hot repository that has not been thoroughly studied. The proposal to stage an "aging facility" at the Yucca Mountain entrance is likely in violation of the law. The DOE should explain why these, previously considered proposals, were rejected during the previous EIS study and why they are being resurrected now. If there had been greater transparency during all aspects of the creation of this notice then much time, effort and money could have been saved. Such drastic changes in the Yucca Mountain plan may be signs of a project in its death throws. If OCRWM truly understands the spirit and intent of NEPA it will stick to the original plan, will create an entirely new EIS, or will adopt the no-action alternative and begin a remediation process.

Sincerely,

Vernon Brechin
