Mr. Harold O. Levy
Office of the Chancellor
110 Livingston Street
Brooklyn, New York 11201

Dear Chancellor Levy:

This is in response to your letter of May 7, 2002, to Mr. Joe M. Allbaugh, Director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), requesting assistance with costs the New York City Board of Education incurred in recovering from the September 11, 2001, explosions at World Trade Center. The director has asked that I respond to your letter. I regret the delay in responding to your inquiry and any inconvenience this may have caused.

Director Allbaugh received letters from Representatives Carolyn B. Maloney and John E. Sweeney, submitted on your behalf. Your inquiry was investigated and responses were sent to Representatives Maloney and Sweeney on June 7, 2002. I have enclosed copies of those letters for your information.

If you have any questions, please have a member of your staff contact FEMA's Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs Division at (202) 646-4500.

Sincerely,

Donna M. Dannels
Acting Director
Recovery Division
Readiness, Response and Recovery Directorate
