

(January 23, 2007) Lipinski Address the Washington Auto Show on the Introduction of H-Prize Bill

A New American Energy Policy - Introduction of H-Prize Act of 2007

Washington D.C. Auto Show

January 23, 2007

Washington, D.C. - Today, Congressman Lipinski delivered a speech at the Washington D.C. Auto Show regarding the Introduction of H-Prize Act of 2007 (H.R. 632) - a new American energy policy.

Congressman Lipinski (pictured above) stated, "... today, I have been joined by Representative Bob Inglis of South Carolina in reintroducing a bill to reward technological advancements in the use of hydrogen as an alternative energy source. This legislation, known as the H-Prize Act, seeks to inspire researchers, entrepreneurs, and others to find specific solutions to the major challenges facing development and commercialization of hydrogen fuel. This will be done by rewarding innovation for specific advances, and also awarding one grand prize for a special breakthrough in hydrogen energy."

Click here to view the speech in its entirety.