

Public Transportation

Washington is served by three major airports: Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport, Washington Dulles International Airport in northern Virginia, and Baltimore/Washington International Airport near Baltimore. You can also take the train to Washington's Union Station. Union Station and Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport are on the Metro subway line. NIH is located next to the Medical Center station on the Red Line. More information, including subway maps, is available from the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority at 202-637-7000 or www.wmata.com.