usdhs nih natl toxicology program non animal methods of testing

it is time to eliminate animal testing since it is inhumane, torturous and painful for those animals. the tests on animals bear no resemblance to what will injure humans since the dna is so different. these tests started in 1500 a.d. and it is time to have more modern, more accurate tests than these abusive, horrific tests hurting animals.

the pesticide program committee also needs to stop allowing products that poison birds, wildlife, butterflies, bees and ladybugs. this killing of insects and animals is insane. we are poisoning the whole country.
