

Subject: Non-animal testing

Date: Tuesday, June 5, 2007 3:13 PM

I am writing to voice my concern over the fact that the ICCVAM has approved only one non-animal test so far. The European branch of this committee has, to date, approved many non-animal tests. This is a very serious issue since not only are animals continuing to suffer horribly and die needlessly, but it is also a risk for humans, as well. It is clear that non-animal testing can produce results that are more accurate, therefore safer, for humans. For the health, safety, and humanity of us all I urge you to accept immediately, the internationally validated non-animal tests.

Sincerely,
Tammy Droddy
