

To Whom it May Concern,

I was informed that there is now in vitro testing methods able to be done that will greatly help in reducing the use of animals in experiments. I think it would be wonderful if this new method could replace the very outdated Lethal Dose 50% testing that is done now. I appreciate your help in fighting the battle for those who don't have the ability to fight for themselves.

Sincerely,

Laura Munder