

Dear Dr. Stokes,

I am writing on behalf of the animal population and request that you eliminate the present use of the LD50 Test used. The option of using in-vitro cell culture tests should be implemented as the only method of testing. There is no reason to continue the use of inhumanity of animals when there are viable alternatives that can be used by the scientific community.

Sincerely,

Maria L Therese