

Dear Dr. Stokes,

I am writing to you in regard to non-animal test methods that the NIEHS should adopt. This method has been considered for quite some time and more and more animals should not continue to die and suffer. Government agencies should use in vitro cell culture tests to entirely replace the use of animals in lethal dose tests! Animals feel just as much as us human beings and should not have to endure in lethal tests!! Although the NIEHS recommends using the non-animal method to set the starting dose for further animal-poisoning tests, it will only reduce the numbers of animals killed.

Sincerely,
Patricia Garcia
