"George Waters Is Jolly G. I'm Jolly B.!" - Cong. Filner

Mayor George Waters and Congressman Bob Filner in a light-hearted moment at the Jollibee reception.

Some light-hearted exchanges ensued at the Jollibee reception following the ribbon-cutting ceremony on July 7.

Mayor George Waters quipped that, as National City mayor, he was asked to speak ahead of Congressman Bob Filner.

When his turn came, the congressman responded:

"Mayor Waters is Jolly G, but I'm Jolly B."

He was obviously referring to his first name, Bob.

Mayor Waters also did an impromptu rendition of the Jollibee jingle that he sang for a San Diego station,

*"Jollibee, oh Jollibee
Welcome to National City
This is where you should be, be, bee."*

According to the mayor, the station recorded his song and kept playing it over and over again.
