Introduction

Business planning is crucial to success for both new and established enterprises. Going through the planning process increases the chances for success and helps avoid costly mistakes. It can be very helpful to have your plan evaluated by several people to make sure that you haven't missed any vital components or issues. This critical evaluation will also be helpful when presenting the plan to lenders or other potential funders.

There is a great deal of information and assistance available for writing and using business plans in your farm enterprise. Every state has Small Business Development Centers and Cooperative Extension offices that offer such assistance, as do many state departments of agriculture and/or economic development agencies. However, many producers would like to have business plan examples and other information that is specific to agriculture. This resource list, therefore, does not tell you how to write a business plan, but refers you to sources of business planning information and assistance that are most relevant to the smaller-scale or alternative agricultural entrepreneur.

General Agricultural Enterprise Business Planning Resources

Related ATTRA Publications:

Assessing the feasibility of an agricultural enterprise is the first step to developing a business plan. The following ATTRA publications will help you explore the feasibility of your enterprise ideas.

Evaluating a Rural Enterprise
Beef Farm Sustainability Checksheet
Dairy Farm Sustainability Checksheet
Small Ruminant Sustainability Checksheet
Growing Your Range Poultry Business:
An Entrepreneur's Toolbox
Holistic Management

Supporting information for organic agriculture business planning is also available in Enterprise Budgets and Production Costs for Organic Production. To request publications, call toll-free 800-346-9140, or visit the ATTRA Web site, www.attra.ncat.org.

ATTRA is the national sustainable agriculture information service operated by the National Center for Appropriate Technology, through a grant from the Rural Business-Cooperative Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture. These organizations do not recommend or endorse products, companies, or individuals. NCAT has offices in Fayetteville, Arkansas (P.O. Box 3657, Fayetteville, AR 72702), Butte, Montana, and Davis, California.

Internet and Print Resources

While not focused on agricultural enterprises specifically, BizPlanIt's Virtual Business Plan is a free on-line resource that includes business plan fundamentals to consider and incorporate into each section of your plan; highlights the most common mistakes in each section of the plan; and provides other advice, articles, tips, tools, and links related to each section of a business plan. Available at www.bizplanit.com/vplan.html.

The following British Columbia Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry, and Fisheries (BCMAFF) enterprise business planning templates are available on the Internet: Chicken Broiler Producer, Dairy Producer, Grains and Seeds, Bee Keeper, Cow/Calf Ranch, Greenhouse Vegetable, Greenhouse Floriculture, Wholesale Nursery, and Direct Farm Marketing (mixed vegetables, berries, and value-added products). These templates include detailed information on each step of developing agricultural enterprise business plans, and they are very highly recommended. They are available at www.agf.gov.bc.ca/busmgmt/bus\_guides/index.htm.

A sample business plan for an herb enterprise is available at www.smallbusinessbc.ca/pdf/sample\_primary.pdf.

A vineyard business plan workbook is available at www.siu.edu/~readi/viticulture/business-plan.htm.

Adding Value to Beef Production walks you through developing a business plan for value-added beef enterprises. Includes case studies of actual businesses. Available at www.ciras.iastate.edu/beef-manual/sec3.html.

Adding Value to Pork Production walks you through developing a business plan for value-added pork enterprises. Includes case studies of actual businesses. Available at www.ciras.iastate.edu/porkmanual/.

An interesting sample business plan for an Internet-based horse reseller is available at www.bplans.com/spv/3103/index.cfm?affiliate=.

A sample business plan for small food businesses is available at www.agmrc.org/business/pdf/samplebusplan.pdf.

A sample business plan for value-added sauces and other Hispanic foods is available at www.bplans.com/spv/3230/index.cfm?affiliate=.

Building a Sustainable Business: a Guide to Developing a Business Plan for Farms and Rural Businesses helps alternative and sustainable agriculture entrepreneurs to develop profitable enterprises. Sample worksheets illustrate how real farm families set goals, researched processing alternatives, determined potential markets, and evaluated financing options. Blank worksheets help producers to develop detailed, lender-ready business plans and map out strategies to take advantage of new opportunities. Print copies are available for $14 (plus $3.95 shipping and handling charge), or the publication is available free of charge at www.sare.org/publications/business/business.pdf.

Personal Assistance

Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), a national organization sponsored by the Small Business Administration (SBA), is made up more than 13,000 volunteer business executives who provide free counseling, workshops, and seminars to prospective and existing small business people. E-mail counseling is a confidential, fast, and convenient option that is also offered by SCORE. SCORE volunteers can assist you in developing a business plan, or review an existing plan. There are SCORE volunteers with expertise in agriculture available. You can find them by searching at www.score.org. If you don't have access to the Internet, call ATTRA, and we can do the search for you. If you would prefer face-to-face counseling, visit their Web site or contact SCORE to find a counselor near you.

Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) are sponsored by the SBA, in partnership with state and local governments, the educational community, and the private sector. They provide technology, informational resources, and on-site counseling for start-up and expanding businesses to create business, marketing, and other plans, do research, and receive expert training and assistance. To locate your nearest SBDC, contact the SBA Small Business Answer Desk at 800-827-5722, or go to www.sba.gov/regions/states.html. SBA business planning resources are available at www.sba.gov/starting\_business/planning/basic.html.

Software Resources

FINPACK is a comprehensive financial planning and analysis system designed to help farmers and ranchers understand their financial situation and make informed decisions. The FINPACK Business Plan includes a comprehensive outline, sample plans, and detailed information on what should be included in the business plan. Supporting information from any electronic source can be cut-and-pasted into the plan. Cost is $295 ($145 for Minnesota residents) for the Professional version and $95 for the Personal version. You can download a free trial version of the FINPACK Business Plan at www.cffm.umn.edu/Downloads/DownloadTrial.asp?P=BusinessPlan.

Business Plan Pro 2004 is the most used business planning software available. More than 400 sample plans are included; among them are some plans relevant to agriculture, such as plans for medicinal herb, tree fruit, and mixed fruit and vegetable enterprises. Most Small Business Development Centers offer use of this software for free or at nominal cost. If you would like your own copy, it costs $99.95. To order, or for more information, call 800-229-7526, or visit www.bplans.com/contentkit/index.cfm?affiliate=bestwarere.

PlanWrite is another highly recommended business planning software package. Sample business plans, some related to agriculture, and actual business plans from real businesses—winners of the prestigious MootCorp® business plan competition—are included. The basic version costs $119.95. To order, or for more information, call 800-423-1228 or visit www.brs-inc.com/business\_plan.asp.

Market Farm Forms is an excellent planning tool for diversified farms that market direct to the consumer or run Community Supported Agriculture operations. There are few resources for this type of farm enterprise, and this is one of the best. Developed by a market farmer, Market Farm Forms contains computer spreadsheet templates for planning and organizing information on diversified market farms. This software program will help you in planning crops and budgets, ordering seed and soil amendments, growing transplants, projecting yields and income, and then tracking what really happens compared to your projections. If you don't use a computer, you can copy the forms in the spiral bound manual and do the calculations by hand. The Market Farm Forms package is available for Windows or Mac systems for $49.95 (free shipping). It can be ordered online or by mail.
