

U .S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
CRIMINAL DIVISION
OFFICE OF SPECIAL INVESTIGATIONS
TRIAL ATTORNEY / GS-14 to GS-15
Vacancy Announcement Number: 07-CRM-OSI-005

The Criminal Division of the U.S. Department of Justice is seeking a Trial Attorney with federal criminal prosecution and/or extensive immigration law experience for the Office of Special Investigations in Washington, D.C.

About the Office: The Office of Special Investigations (OSI) detects, investigates and prosecutes civil and criminal actions to denaturalize participants in genocide and foreign government-sponsored acts of torture and extrajudicial killing. In its World War II cases, OSI brings denaturalization and removal (deportation) cases against participants in Nazi-sponsored acts of persecution committed abroad during the period 1933-45. Additional information about OSI's work may be found at http://www.usdoj.gov/usao/eousa/foia_reading_room/usab5401.pdf

Responsibilities and Opportunities Offered: OSI trial attorneys handle all aspects of complex and sensitive civil and criminal prosecutions of persons who have become United States citizens, and who prior to gaining citizenship, participated abroad in genocide, torture or extrajudicial killings committed under color of foreign law, and/or Nazi-sponsored acts of persecution during World War II. OSI seeks to denaturalize those who have been involved in such human rights abuses through either civil or criminal litigation. Responsibilities include participating in the investigation and development of potential cases, writing and filing complaints, managing discovery, writing and arguing motions, handling trials, and writing and/or arguing any subsequent appeals. OSI trial attorneys work closely with United States Attorneys' Offices, the Department of Homeland Security, federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies, foreign governments, and historians or other experts in the development and management of investigations and prosecutions. Criminal prosecutions are conducted jointly with United States Attorneys' Offices.

Required and preferred Qualifications: Applicants must possess a J.D. degree, be duly licensed and authorized to practice as an attorney under the laws of any State, territory of the United States, or the District of Columbia, and have at least five years post-J.D. experience. Applicants must be active members of the bar in good standing. Applicants should also have excellent academic credentials, outstanding advocacy and legal writing skills, and superior judgment. Applicants should have either experience as a federal criminal prosecutor (including experience presenting matters before a grand jury, handling discovery, trying cases and arguing motions, and researching and writing motions, briefs, or other legal pleadings), or extensive immigration law experience (trying cases before immigration courts, working with and analyzing immigration law and regulations). Because OSI also conducts complex civil litigation, civil litigation experience would be preferred. In addition, because OSI prosecutes naturalized human rights violators, immigration and/or human rights law experience and foreign language (particularly Spanish, French or Serbo-Croatian) capability would be extremely useful. Experience with a war crimes tribunal is particularly preferred.

Application Process and Deadline Date:

Applicants must submit a resume, OF-612 (Optional Application for Federal Employment), or SF-171 (Application for Federal Employment), a cover letter, a legal writing sample, and current performance appraisal, if applicable, to:
