

SUMMARY: The Director, Information Resources Management Group, invites comments on the proposed information collection requests as required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995.

DATES: An emergency review has been requested in accordance with the Act (44 U.S.C. Chapter 3507 (j)), since public harm is reasonably likely to result if normal clearance procedures are followed. Approval by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has been requested by March 12, 1997. A regular clearance process is also beginning. Interested persons are invited to submit comments on or before April 25, 1997.

ADDRESSES: Written comments regarding the emergency review should be addressed to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Attention: Wendy Taylor, Desk Officer: Department of Education, Office of Management and Budget, 725 17th Street, NW., Room 10235, New Executive Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20503. Title: Study of Barriers, Benefits, and Costs of Using Private Schools to Alleviate Overcrowding in Public Schools.

Abstract: This congressionally-mandated study will examine the extent to which private schools (including religious schools) might be used to alleviate overcrowding in urban public schools by accepting public school students in exchange for tuition reimbursement. The study is examining the extent of overcrowding in urban public schools and the extent to which private schools in these areas have spaces available that might be used to accommodate students from overcrowded public schools. The study will also examine the costs that would be involved in such a program (including tuition reimbursement, transportation, and administration), program design and implementation issues that would need to be considered in developing such a proposal, and the constitutional issues and other legal impediments that might be raised if such a proposal were adopted.

Additional Information: The study was mandated in the Conference Report for H.R. 3610 (Report 104-863, September 28, 1996, p. 1060) and is due to the Appropriations Committees by September 1, 1997. An emergency clearance is needed in order to meet this deadline.

Frequency: One Time.
Affected Public: Business or other for-profit; Not-for-profit institutions.
Annual Reporting and Recordkeeping Hour Burden:
Responses: 1,035.
Burden Hours: 345.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Office of Energy Research

Energy Research Financial Assistance Program Notice 97-09: Biotechnological Investigations— Ocean Margin Program (BI-OMP)

AGENCY: Office of Energy Research, U.S. Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice inviting research grant applications.

SUMMARY: The Office of Health and Environmental Research (OHER) of the Office of Energy Research, U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) announces its interest in receiving research applications involving the use of molecular biological and biogeochemical techniques to understand the linkages between coastal carbon and nitrogen cycles (primary production and microbial processes) in the Northern and Temperate latitudes. This information is crucial to the responses of ocean margin ecosystems to atmospheric radiative budgets and global biogeochemical cycles. Specifically, DOE seeks applications to:

- Apply new and innovative techniques in marine molecular biology and marine biotechnology to assess fixation of carbon dioxide from the atmosphere, determine the mechanisms and processes that control the dynamics of nitrogen fixation or denitrification in coastal waters and sediments, define the coupling and/or decoupling of carbon and nitrogen cycles in coastal environments, and determine the linkages between the function and structure of microbial communities mediating carbon and nitrogen cycling in coastal environments, and
- Examine the environmental factors (including nutrient availability, temperature, irradiance, and biopolymer lability) that affect the linkages between primary productivity, the utilization of particulate and dissolved organic matter (POM and DOM) by bacterial populations, and nitrogen cycling in coastal areas.

Applications must involve mutually collaborative partnerships between institutions with a strong tradition of research in marine sciences and those institutions with developing research capabilities in marine science. Partnerships are particularly encouraged with institutions that traditionally have served groups underrepresented in the sciences. The goals of such collaborative research projects are to enhance the research capabilities of both institutions, to promote significant interactions between institutions, and to foster long term collaboration among investigators.

DATES: To permit timely consideration for awards in Fiscal Year 1997 and early Fiscal Year 1998, formal applications submitted in response to this notice should be received by 4:30 p.m., E.D.T., May 6, 1997.

ADDRESSES: Formal applications referencing Program Notice 97-09 should be forwarded to: U.S. Department of Energy, Office of Energy Research, Grants and Contracts Division, ER-64, 19901 Germantown Road, Germantown, MD 20874-1290, ATTN: Program Notice 97-09. This address also must be used when submitting applications by U.S. Postal Service Express Mail or any commercial mail delivery service, or when hand-carried by the applicant.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Dr. Anna Palmisano, Environmental Sciences Division, ER-74, Office of Health and Environmental Research, Office of Energy Research, U.S. Department of Energy, 19901 Germantown Road, Germantown, MD 20874-1290, telephone (301) 903-4183, e-mail anna.palmisano@oer.doe.gov, fax (301) 903-8519.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The primary research goal of the Biotechnological Investigations—Ocean Margin Program is to establish a more thorough understanding of the molecular to global scale links and feedback mechanisms between solar irradiance, marine microbial activity, primary productivity, carbon and nitrogen cycles and remotely-sensed ocean color data. This information is crucial to understanding the responses of marine biological systems to changes in atmospheric radiative budgets and global biogeochemical cycles.

Program Relationships

The Biotechnological Investigations—Ocean Margins Program is expected to build on past research results and accomplishments within the Ocean Margins Program (OMP) component of the Biological and Environmental Research (BER) program. The main objective of OMP was determining whether primary productivity on continental shelves is quantitatively significant in removing carbon dioxide (CO₂) from the atmosphere. Other objectives of the OMP were: (1) Quantifying the ecological and biogeochemical processes that affect the cycling, flux, and storage of carbon and other biogenic elements at the land/ocean interface; and (2) Defining ocean margin sources and sinks in global biogeochemical cycles.
