

Private Foundations and Charitable Trusts, 1994

by Paul Arnsberger

For 1994, private foundations and charitable trusts reported $30.3 billion in total revenues and $12.5 billion in contributions, gifts, and grants paid out. Private foundations are generally larger in terms of asset size and more numerous than charitable trusts. The 45,841 private foundations accounted for 98.5 percent of the combined total of $225.9 billion in assets (based on their fair market value), while the 2,909 charitable trusts accounted for the remaining 1.5 percent.

A private foundation is a nonprofit, tax-exempt charitable organization, but in contrast to most charities, it is narrowly supported and controlled, usually by an individual, family, or corporation. A charitable trust filing under Internal Revenue Code section 4947(a)(1) is also a nonprofit organization, but it is not tax-exempt and is typically supported and controlled by an individual or family. Both private foundations and charitable trusts are required to file and make public an annual information return, Form 990-PF, Return of Private Foundation (or Section 4947(a)(1) Charitable Trust Treated as a Private Foundation). The statistics contained in this data release are based on data from these forms.

Figure A shows a 2-year comparison of selected data items for private foundations and charitable trusts [1]. Both types of organizations reported aggregate increases in all the major asset, revenue, and expense items. A large part of the 32-percent increase in the contributions, gifts, and grants received by private foundations can be attributed to a single organization, which received a gift of nearly $900 million [2]. Charitable trusts received over twice as much in contributions, gifts, and grants as those reported for 1993. The reason for such a large gain is twofold: many established trusts received significant contributions during the year; and several more new trusts were set up with very large gifts. Net gains from sales of assets rose sharply as well, because a few of the largest trusts reported huge increases in this area.

Data Sources and Limitations

Tables 1 and 3 provide information for Reporting Year 1994 for private foundations, while Tables 2 and 4 provide similar data for charitable trusts. The statistics are based on a sample of Reporting Year 1994 Forms 990-PF that were filed by organizations with accounting periods beginning in 1994 (and, therefore, ending between December 1994 and November 1995). Some part-year returns were included in the sample for organizations that changed their accounting periods or filed initial or final returns. Approximately 63 percent of the foundations and 60 percent of charitable trusts had full-year accounting periods covering Calendar Year 1994 (or part-year accounting periods that ended in December 1994). Additionally, 59 percent of total foundation assets and 55 percent of total trust assets were reported for the calendar-year accounting period. Therefore, the majority of the financial activities reflected in the statistics can be associated with Calendar Year 1994.

The 1994 stratified sample was based on type of organization (either private foundation or charitable trust) and, for the first time, size of fair market value of total assets. (Previous-year samples were based on the book value of total assets.) Foundation returns were selected at rates that ranged from approximately 2.4 percent (for the more numerous, but very small asset-size returns) to 100 percent (for the relatively few returns reporting large amounts of assets). Charitable trust returns were selected at rates that ranged from 13.6 to 100 percent. The 5,914 returns in the 1994 combined sample (5,246 foundations and 668 trusts) were drawn from the estimated population totals shown in Tables 1 through 4.

Because the estimates are based on a sample, they are subject to sampling error. To properly use the data, the magnitude of the potential sampling error needs to be known. Coefficients of variation (CV's) are used to measure this magnitude. Figure B presents coefficients of variation for selected financial data. The smaller the coefficient of variation, the more reliable the estimate is judged to be.

The population from which this sample was drawn consisted of Form 990-PF records posted to the IRS Business Master File during 1994 and 1995. For the small number of large foundations and trusts whose returns for the 1994 Reporting Year were not yet filed or were otherwise unavailable for statistics, data were estimated using prior-year returns.

The data presented were obtained from returns as originally filed. These returns were subjected to comprehensive testing and correction procedures to ensure statistical reliability and validity. In most cases, changes made to the original return through administrative processing,

Explanation of Selected Terms

Charitable Trust -- This type of organization, also referred to as a "nonexempt" charitable trust, is defined in Internal Revenue Code section 4947(a)(1) as an organization (1) that is not considered tax-exempt under section 501(a); (2) that has exclusively charitable interests; and (3) for which donors are allowed to claim an income tax deduction for charitable contributions. Nonexempt charitable trusts that are not publicly supported are subject to the same excise tax provisions as private foundations (described under Distributable Amount below) and are required to file the same Form 990-PF. ("Publicly supported" nonexempt charitable trusts are required to file Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt From Income Tax, and are, therefore, not included in the statistics [3].) Nonexempt charitable trusts must pay an annual tax on income (usually from investments) that is not distributed for charitable purposes and must report such income and tax on Form 1041, U.S. Income Tax Return for Estates and Trusts.

Distributable Amount -- This was the minimum payout amount required to be distributed by the end of the year following the year for which the return was filed. Failure to distribute income within this period resulted in a 15-percent excise tax on the undistributed portion. The distributable amount was computed as 5 percent of "net investment assets" (called the "minimum investment return"), minus taxes on both "net investment income" and "unrelated business income," plus or minus other adjustments either allowed or required.

Excess Distributions Carryover -- The excess carryover equaled the excess of "qualifying distributions" for 1994 (see below) over the "distributable amount" (see above). "Excess" amounts from the current year could be carried forward to be applied to the distributable amount for the following 5 years.

Minimum Investment Return -- This was the aggregate fair market value of assets not used for charitable purposes, less both the indebtedness incurred to acquire them and cash held for charitable activities, multiplied by 5 percent. The minimum investment return was used as the base for calculating the "distributable amount" (see above).

Nonoperating Foundations (and Section 4947(a)(1) Charitable Trusts) -- Nonoperating foundations and trusts generally carried on their charitable activities in an indirect manner by making grants to other organizations directly engaged in charitable activities, unlike (operating) foundations and trusts which engaged in charitable activities themselves. However, some nonoperating foundations and trusts were actively involved in charitable programs of their own, in addition to making grants to other organizations. Nonoperating foundations and trusts were subject to an excise tax (and possible additional penalties) for failure to distribute an annual minimum amount for charitable purposes within a specified period.

Operating Foundations (and Section 4947(a)(1) Charitable Trusts) -- These organizations generally expended their income for direct, active involvement in a tax-exempt activity, such as operating a library or museum or conducting scientific research. Operating foundations and trusts were excepted from the income distribution requirement and related excise taxes applicable to their non-operating counterparts. To qualify as an operating foundation or trust for a particular taxable year, the private foundation or trust had to meet both an "income test" and one of the following: an "assets test," an "endowment test," or a "support test." (The tests described below with reference to private foundations also apply to charitable trusts.)

To meet the "income test," a private foundation had to spend at least 85 percent of the lesser of its "adjusted net income" or "minimum investment return" on the direct, active conduct of tax-exempt, charitable activities (as opposed to the payout of grants in support of such programs). The "assets test" was met if 65 percent or more of the foundation's assets were directly used for the active conduct of charitable activities. The "endowment test" was met if the foundation normally made distributions for the active conduct of charitable activities in an amount not less than two-thirds of its "minimum investment return." The "support test" was met if the foundation normally received substantially all of its support (other than from "gross investment income") from the public or from five or more qualifying exempt organizations, and (a) no more than 25 percent of its support (other than from "gross investment income") was normally received from any one such qualifying exempt organization; and (b) no more than 50 percent of its support was normally received from "gross investment income."

Private Foundation -- This type of organization is defined in Internal Revenue Code section 501(c)(3) as a nonprofit corporation, association, or trust with a narrow source of funds that operated or supported social, educational, scientific, charitable, religious, or other programs dedicated to improving the general welfare of society. A private foundation is not: (1) a church, school, hospital, or medical research organization; (2) an organization with broad public support in the form of contributions or income from tax-exempt activities; (3) an organization that is operated by, or in connection with, any of the above-described organizations; and (4) an organization that conducts tests for public safety. The primary difference between a private foundation and a public charity is the source of funding for each type of organization. A foundation usually receives its funds from an individual, a family, or a corporation, while a public charity receives its funds primarily from a large number of sources within the general public.

Qualifying Distributions -- Qualifying distributions include disbursements for charitable purposes; amounts paid to acquire assets used directly to accomplish tax-exempt functions; charitable program-related investments; and amounts set aside for future charitable projects. Qualifying distributions can be credited toward a foundation or trust's obligation to pay out its "distributable amount."

Undistributed Income -- Undistributed income is the portion of the required "distributable amount" still undistributed after applying against it the sum of current-year qualifying distributions and any excess distributions carried over from prior years.

* Estimate should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which it is based.

† Less than $500.

‡ The data shown in columns 18 and 19 are based on the amount of contributions, gifts, and grants that foundations actually disbursed for charitable purposes for 1994 using the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting. These amounts differ somewhat from those reported as contributions, gifts, and grants paid shown in the income statement (Table 3) because foundations may use either the cash receipts and disbursements or the accrual method of accounting.

NOTE: Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

* Estimate should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which it is based.

† The data shown in columns 18 and 19 are based on the amount of contributions, gifts, and grants that trusts actually disbursed for charitable purposes for 1994 using the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting. These amounts differ somewhat from those reported as contributions, gifts, and grants paid shown in the income statement (Table 4) because trusts may use either the cash receipts and disbursements or the accrual method of accounting.

NOTE: Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

* Estimate should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which it is based.

† The data in this row are based on the amount of contributions, gifts, and grants paid as reported on the income statement portion of the return. These amounts differ somewhat from the contributions, gifts, and grants paid in columns 18 and 19 of Table 1, which are calculated using the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting.

‡ Less than $500.

NOTE: Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

* Estimate should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which it is based.

<sup>1</sup> The data in this row are based on the amount of contributions, gifts, and grants paid as reported on the income statement portion of the return. These amounts differ somewhat from the contributions, gifts, and grants paid in columns 18 and 19 of Table 2, which are calculated using the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting.

* Less than $500.

NOTE: Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.
