Disaster Assistance: A Guide to Recovery Programs

The federal government helps states and localities to prepare for disasters by providing financial and technical assistance for emergency planning and training, conducting exercises of plans, and building and maintaining an emergency management infrastructure. In a catastrophic or major disaster incident, the National Response Plan, a national approach to domestic incident management, will be activated. This interagency plan describes the resources that federal agencies can mobilize to support initial emergency functions and how they will integrate with state, local, private sector, and non-governmental resources. It outlines planning assumptions, policies, a concept of operations, and organizational structures. Disaster Assistance: A Guide to Recovery Programs supports the National Response Plan as a resource for federal, state, local, and non-governmental officials. It contains brief descriptions and contact information for federal programs that may be able to provide disaster recovery assistance to eligible applicants. The programs described in this guide may all be of assistance during disaster incident recovery. Some are available only after a presidential declaration of disaster, but others are available without a declaration. Please see the individual program descriptions for details. A governor may request a presidential declaration in the event of a disaster incident in which state and local emergency resources are overwhelmed. The request must satisfy the provisions of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, as amended, which is the primary legislative authority for the federal government to assist State and local governments in carrying out their responsibilities for disaster response and recovery. This Guide presents an array of programs that may be of assistance during disaster recovery, depending upon the circumstances, community needs, and available resources. Please verify the applicability of a particular program with the responsible agency.

About This Publication

Purpose

Use program summaries in this publication only as a guide to potential sources of disaster assistance. Obtain more complete information from the contact noted at the end of each summary.

The purpose of this guide is to provide basic information about programs of assistance available to individuals, businesses, and public entities after a disaster incident. These programs help individuals cope with their losses, and affected businesses and public entities restore their structures and operations. The information is intended to serve as a starting point for disaster workers and local, state, and federal officials to locate sources of help as they seek more definitive information, such as eligibility criteria and application processes. Included are programs that make financial assistance available, as well as those that provide technical assistance and/or goods and other services.

Background

The program summaries in this guide evolved from an initial compilation of programs obtained from the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA), the compendium of financial and non-financial programs throughout the Federal Government that provides assistance or benefits to the American public. The relevant agencies reviewed, revised, and added to the summaries to reflect programs that are specifically intended to apply to disaster recovery and regular agency programs that, in special circumstances, may support disaster recovery.

Summaries include the notation "CFDA Number." This refers to the program number found in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

The CFDA includes a comprehensive list of federal, regional and local office addresses and telephone numbers that are also a useful reference for obtaining program information. The CFDA can be obtained free from GSA's CFDA website at <http://www.cfda.gov>. However, if interested in purchasing the CFDA from the Government Printing Office (GPO), contact the Superintendent of Documents at (202) 512-1800 or toll free at (866) 512-1800, or you may reach GPO's on-line bookstore at: <http://bookstore.gpo.gov>.

Additional copies of the Disaster Assistance: a Guide to Recovery Programs (FEMA 229(4)) available from the FEMA Distribution Facility, Suite D, 8231 Stayton Drive, Jessup, Maryland 20794; Telephone: (800) 480-2520. Program summary changes or suggestions for improving the publication may be forwarded to the Recovery Division, FEMA, Department of Homeland Security (DHS), 500 C Street SW, Washington, DC 20472.

Organization and Use

An objective of this guide is to reflect in one document, recovery assistance and services available to victims of a disaster incident.

Eligibility requirements may be more comprehensive or more restrictive than they appear to be in this guide. It is important, therefore, to obtain additional information about program eligibility from the program source.

Program summaries are organized in two sections: (I) specific agency programs that exist for the express purpose of aiding victims of a disaster incident (disaster-specific programs) and (II) regular agency programs that may be applied to disaster incident recovery under special circumstances (disaster-applicable programs). Section I program summaries include slightly more information than Section II programs, as reflected below. Inclusion of a program does not necessarily mean that assistance is available. Congress may authorize a program but may not appropriate funds for it in a given fiscal year. Current efforts of Congress and the Administration to streamline government also may result in the elimination of some of the programs or consolidation into larger block grants. In Sections I and II program summaries are organized alphabetically by title or subject, where this is more helpful. If needed, see Appendix Two for a crosswalk between program titles used in this publication and program titles in the CFDA. As a further aid, summaries are indexed alphabetically as follows:

1. By the federal or nonprofit agency that has primary responsibility for administration of the program
2. By the type of assistance available, including advisory and counseling services; direct payments; donations; education, technical information, and training; formula grants, project and other grants; loans; sale of goods or property; specialized services; and technical assistance
3. By the category of recipient of assistance, as follows: Federal Agencies, States, Localities, Non profit Organizations (sometimes specified by category, such as Universities or organizations that do the work of government), Businesses, and Individuals

Assistance to individuals may include funds for temporary housing for victims, individual and family grants to meet disaster-related expenses, and loans to individuals for repair or replacement of real and personal property. Funds may flow directly from the Federal Government to the individual or from the Federal Government to the individual through a state or a subdivision of a state, or from a nonprofit organization to the individual.

Assistance to businesses (including farms and sole proprietorships) generally is made available when the ability to continue operations is terminated or impaired by a disaster. Such assistance may include loans or grants to replace livestock herds, restore damaged structures, or replace inventories.

Assistance to public entities (states, localities, etc.) comprises measures such as repair or replacement of non-federally supported thoroughfares and water control facilities (e.g., dikes, irrigation works, levees, and drainage systems) and clearance of debris necessary to protect the public interest. It also includes repair or replacement of federal buildings, state-supported schools, or public facilities in U.S. Trust Territories or on Native American lands. It includes loans to communities that have incurred substantial losses of tax and other revenue and the use of government-owned equipment, supplies, facilities, personnel, and other resources. Recipients of public assistance may include States, political subdivisions of States (counties or parishes), any type of organization under the aegis of a State agency, localities (municipalities, unincorporated towns, water control districts, etc.), U.S. Trust Territories or possessions, Indian tribes, universities, or other nonprofit organizations.

Section I: Disaster-Specific Recovery Programs

Programs summarized in this section have been specifically authorized for use in assisting affected individuals, businesses, and/or public entities to recover from the consequences of a disaster incident. Benefits under these programs generally are triggered by a Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act.

A major disaster is defined as any natural catastrophe or, regardless of cause, any fire, flood, or explosion that causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant assistance to supplement state, local, and disaster relief organization efforts to alleviate damage, loss, hardship, or suffering.

An emergency is defined as any occasion or instance for which federal assistance is needed to supplement state and local efforts to save lives and protect property and public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe.

A governor may request that the president declare a major disaster or emergency when available state and local resources are insufficient. The request must satisfy the provisions of the Stafford Act. Concurrent with a presidential declaration, FEMA designates the types of assistance to be made available under the Stafford Act. This may include individual assistance, public assistance, and/or hazard mitigation assistance. Depending upon the situation, other Federal disaster relief programs may be activated as well.

The Secretary of Agriculture and the Administrator of the Small Business Administration may also declare disasters and provide disaster assistance under their statutory authorities.

A discussion of the general procedures and process for requesting federal assistance and the type of assistance that may be available, with or without a presidential declaration appears in the FEMA publication, A Guide to Federal Aid in Disasters (FEMA 262, June 1997). To order, contact the FEMA Distribution Facility at P.O. Box 2012, Jessup, MD 20794-2012; Telephone: (800) 480-2520.

Beach Erosion Control Projects

AGENCY: Department of Defense (DOD)/Department of the Army/U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE)

RECIPIENTS: States, localities

ACTIVATING MECHANISM: Decision of the chief of engineers

PURPOSE: To reduce public beach and shore erosion through projects not specifically authorized by Congress.

ASSISTANCE PROVIDED: Specialized services. USACE designs and constructs the project.

COST-SHARING REQUIREMENTS: Project planning is accomplished through a feasibility study or under the Continuing Authorities Program (CAP). Under the feasibility study the first $100,000 of the study is federally funded by USACE. The remainder of the study's costs is shared 50/50 between USACE and the non-federal sponsor. Local costs for projects authorized using the feasibility process are based on the public use and ownership of the beach protected. Local cost participation requirements for CAP projects are similar to those authorized via feasibility study except that federal participation cannot exceed $3 million.

ELIGIBILITY: States, political subdivisions of states, or other responsible local agencies established under state law and having full authority and ability to assume necessary legal and financial responsibilities.

APPLICATION: State or local government officials should consult the nearest district commander, and then send a letter indicating intent to meet requirements for local participation. An environmental impact statement also is required.

CONTACT:

Headquarters Office: USACE, Attn: CECW-PB, DOD, Washington, DC 20314-1000

Telephone: (202) 761-7674.

Local: Contact local District Commander.

Community Development Block Grants /Entitlement Grants

AGENCY: Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)/Community Planning and Development (CPD)

RECIPIENTS: Localities

ACTIVATING MECHANISM: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act

PURPOSE: To develop viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for low- to moderate-income persons.

ASSISTANCE PROVIDED: Formula grants to entitlement communities (metropolitan cities and urban counties). Disaster-related assistance is one of numerous areas in which community development-type activities may be eligible under the Community Development Block Grants (CDBG) program. The most appropriate disaster-related use of funds is for long-term recovery needs, such as: rehabilitating residential and commercial buildings; homeownership assistance, including down-payment assistance and interest rate subsidies; building new replacement housing; code enforcement; acquiring, constructing, or reconstructing public facilities and improvements, including streets, neighborhood centers, and water and sewer facilities; assistance to disaster-affected businesses for carrying out economic development activities to create and retain jobs; buying flood-prone properties and making other mitigation efforts to protect damaged properties from, and reduce the cost of, future disaster damage; and making relocation payments to displaced people and businesses, and other activities. Funds also may be used for emergency response activities, such as debris removal, clearance, and demolition, and extraordinary increases in the level of public services for disaster victims. Because conditions may change from the time a community develops its plans for how it expects to use its CDBG funds to the time the funds actually get used, program rules authorize reprogramming by following citizen participation plan procedures for amending the planned use to delete activities and substitute others. This means that when a disaster occurs, a community may elect to amend its planned use of funds already awarded to use the funds instead for those disaster response and recovery activities that do not duplicate activities reimbursable by the Federal Emergency Management Agency or other available assistance. At least 70 percent of funds must be used for activities that principally benefit persons of low and moderate income.

COST-SHARING REQUIREMENTS: None

ELIGIBILITY: Certain metropolitan cities and qualified urban counties. Grantees in designated major disaster areas may receive waivers of statutory and regulatory program requirements regarding the use of annual allocations of CDBG funds that recipients designate to address the damage. However, statutory requirements pertaining to nondiscrimination, fair housing, labor standards, environmental standards, and benefiting of persons of low and moderate income may not be waived. Additional grants are not available unless emergency supplemental CDBG funds are appropriated. HUD publishes Federal Register Notices for the use of CDBG disaster recovery funds reflecting purposes and requirements of appropriations statutes, including waivers and alternative requirements to those of the annual CDBG allocations.

APPLICATION: An entitlement community must follow its citizen participation plan for substantial amendments to its Action Plan. HUD will review and respond quickly to questions about program requirements and requests for waivers. HUD notifies eligible governments receiving CDBG disaster recovery allocations that must then develop and submit an action plan for disaster recovery before receiving CDBG disaster recovery grants. The action plan must describe the needs, strategies, and projected uses of the disaster recovery funds.

CFDA NUMBER: 14.218 Community Development Block Grants/Entitlement Grants

Community Development Block Grants/ States Program

AGENCY: Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)/Community Planning and Development (CPD)

RECIPIENTS: Localities via states

ACTIVATING MECHANISM: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act

PURPOSE: To develop viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for low- to moderate-income persons.

ASSISTANCE PROVIDED: Formula grants to states for non-entitlement communities. Disaster-related assistance is one of numerous areas in which community development-type activities may be eligible under the CDBG program. The most appropriate disaster-related use of funds is for long-term recovery needs, such as: rehabilitating residential and commercial buildings; homeownership assistance, including down payment assistance and interest rate subsidies; building new replacement housing; code enforcement; acquiring, constructing, or reconstructing public facilities and improvements, including streets, neighborhood centers, and water and sewer facilities; assistance to disaster-affected businesses for carrying out economic development activities to create and retain jobs; buying flood-prone properties and making other mitigation efforts to protect damaged properties from, and reduce the cost of, future disaster damage; and making relocation payments to displaced people and businesses, and other activities. Funds may also be used for emergency response activities, such as debris removal, clearance, and demolition, and extraordinary increases in the level of public services for disaster victims. States establish the method for distributing funds, such as providing for set-asides or allowing flexibility in reordering funding categories in the event of a disaster or emergency. States may program funds for disaster response and recovery activities that do not duplicate activities reimbursable by the Federal Emergency Management Agency or other available assistance. States may also reprogram other unexpended CDBG funds for those purposes. Citizen participation procedures must be followed. At least 70 percent of funds must be used for activities that principally benefit persons of low and moderate income.

COST-SHARING REQUIREMENTS: None

ELIGIBILITY: State governments that have elected to administer CDBG funds for non-entitled communities. States with designated major disaster areas may receive waivers of statutory and regulatory program requirements regarding the use of annual allocations of CDBG funds that states or state grant recipients designate to address the damage. However, statutory requirements pertaining to nondiscrimination, fair housing, labor standards, environmental standards, and benefiting persons of low and moderate income may not be waived. Additional grants are not available unless emergency supplemental CDBG funds are appropriated. HUD publishes Federal Register Notices for the use of CDBG disaster recovery funds reflecting purposes and requirements of appropriations statutes, including waivers and alternative requirements to those of the annual CDBG allocations.

APPLICATION: A state must submit a new or amended action plan if its method of distribution changes. HUD will review and respond quickly to questions about program requirements and requests for waivers. HUD notifies eligible governments receiving CDBG disaster recovery allocations that must then develop and submit an action plan for disaster recovery before receiving CDBG disaster recovery grants. The action plan must describe the needs, strategies, and projected uses of the disaster recovery funds.

Watersheds: Emergency Watershed Protection Program

AGENCY: Department of Agriculture (USDA)/Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS)

RECIPIENTS: States, localities, nonprofit organizations, businesses, individuals

ACTIVATING MECHANISM: An emergency is considered to exist when a watershed is suddenly impaired by floods, fire, drought, or other natural causes that result in the endangerment of life and property from flood, erosion, or sediment discharge.

PURPOSE: To assist sponsors in implementing emergency recovery measures to relieve imminent hazards to life and property created by a natural disaster that causes a sudden impairment of a watershed. To provide technical and financial assistance in carrying out works of improvement to protect, develop, and utilize the land and water resources in watersheds.

COST-SHARING REQUIREMENTS: NRCS provides up to 75 percent of the funds needed to restore the natural function of a watershed. The sponsor pays the remaining 25 percent, which can be provided by cash or in-kind services.

ASSISTANCE PROVIDED: Technical and financial assistance. The Emergency Watershed Protection (EWP) program provides funding to project sponsors for such work as clearing debris from clogged waterways, restoring vegetation, and stabilizing riverbanks. The measures taken must be environmentally and economically defensible. Another option for assistance includes opportunities for landowners to offer to sell an easement on agricultural land to the federal government. The easement provides permanent restoration of the natural floodplain hydrology as an alternative to traditional attempts to restore damaged levees, lands, and structures. The easement lands would be ineligible for future federal disaster assistance. NRCS funds 100 percent of the cost of any needed land treatment practices.

ELIGIBILITY: Owners, managers, and users of public, private, or tribal lands are eligible for EWP assistance if their watershed area has been damaged by a natural disaster. Each project, with the exception of a floodplain easement, requires a sponsor who applies for the assistance. A sponsor can be any legal subdivision of state or local government, including local officials of city, county, or state governments; Indian tribes; soil conservation districts; U.S. Forest Service; and watershed authorities. This program is also available in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, the Mariana Islands, and the Trust Territories of the Pacific Islands.

APPLICATION: The local NRCS office can provide a sample application. During or immediately after a natural disaster, the project sponsor contacts the local NRCS District Conservationist (NRCSDC) or his or her representative to determine if the repairs/actions needed are eligible under EWP guidelines. If repairs are eligible, the NRCSDC works with the area office and the NRCS State Conservationist (NRCSSC) to determine whether funds are available to provide the needed assistance and to quantify the type and cost of repairs. The sponsor files an application for assistance with the NRCSSC.

Section II: Disaster-Applicable Recovery Programs

In addition to the disaster-specific programs summarized in Section I, federal agencies may use funds from regular, ongoing programs to support disaster recovery. Access to these programs depends on a number of factors, including whether Congress has appropriated funds for the program (authorization may exist for a program, but Congress generally must appropriate funds on a fiscal year basis), and agency willingness and ability to divert funds for disaster purposes. If funds are made available under these regular agency programs, duplication of benefits must be avoided, especially if disaster-specific programs authorized for the same purpose exist. Federal agencies are prohibited by law from providing financial assistance to any victim of a disaster incident (individual, business, or other entity), who receives financial assistance for the same purpose under any other federal program or from insurance. To avoid duplication of benefits, a victim of a disaster incident must rely first on private insurance, then federal loans and, finally, federal grants. For example, a victim of a disaster incident without insurance, or without adequate insurance, must first try to obtain a loan to meet disaster-related needs. If the victim cannot qualify for a loan, or if a loan will not address all essential needs, then a grant may be provided.

Farming (Insurance): Federal Crop Insurance Program

RECIPIENTS: Businesses, individuals

PURPOSE: To improve the economic stability of agriculture through a sound system of crop insurance available from the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) administered by RMA; and to provide the means for the research and experience helpful in devising and establishing such insurance.

ASSISTANCE PROVIDED: Direct payments of insurance claims

ELIGIBILITY: The program is open to all persons who hold an insurable interest in a crop and county for which a federal crop insurance policy is available. Crop insurance provides comprehensive protection against weather related causes of loss and certain other unavoidable perils that may result in low yields, poor quality, delayed planting, replanting, and inability to plant. In addition, some plans of insurance also protect the insured against price declines. Benefits include cash flow protection, good loan collateral, enhanced marketing flexibility, stability for long-term business plans, and family security. The government shares in the premium costs. As of 2004 RMA insured 370 commodities and more than 43,400 county-commodity plan combinations in primary production areas throughout the United States. Coverage levels of 50 to 85 percent are available for most individual plans of insurance while group plans typically offer coverage levels of 65 to 90 percent. For some plans of insurance, at the time of purchase the insured also selects the percentage (from 60 to 100 percent) of the RMA established expected market price on which premium will be assessed and qualifying losses will be indemnified. A minimum coverage level of Catastrophic Risk Protection (CAT) is available for an administrative fee of $100 per crop, per county.

Hill-Snowdon Foundation

AGENCY: Hill-Snowdon Foundation

RECIPIENTS:

PURPOSE: The Hill-Snowdon Foundation (HSF) was founded by Arthur B. Hill in 1959 and was managed by family members on a volunteer basis for 40 years as a typical "kitchen table" family foundation. The focus for its grant making was grounded in a philosophy of justice and fairness for some of the most vulnerable members of this society, low-income families, particularly low-income, youth of color and low-wage workers. Specifically, HSF chose to focus on Youth Organizing and Economic Justice Organizing. Moreover, the Foundation's new focus was also grounded in the idea of a re-invigorated democracy, particularly for those people who have been marginalized or whose voices had been held silent in the decision making process to determine policies and practices that directly affect them. Thus, the foundation adopted a core strategy of supporting community organizing in order to develop the leadership, skills and collective power of marginalized and disenfranchised communities to influence the decisions that impact their lives.

ASSISTANCE PROVIDED: Grants

ELIGIBILITY: HSF grant amounts vary depending on the Program Area.
For the Youth Organizing Program Area, the grant range is $20,000 - $50,000.

Waste Management Charitable Foundation

AGENCY: Waste Management, Inc.

RECIPIENTS: The Waste Management Charitable Contributions program provides support to organizations that have been approved by the IRS as a 501(c) (3) charity and public organizations where any donations requested will be used exclusively for public purposes. We target our support to specific projects or programs that enhance the scope of services offered by an organization. WM prefers not to financially support operating costs, capital campaigns, or multi-year requests. Preference is also given to organizations, which have a broad base of funders and employee involvement.

PURPOSE: Waste Management is committed to enhancing our communities through programs that help make them cleaner and better places to live. Local Waste Management facilities are proactive in identifying charities located in the immediate community that they serve and in many cases may have predetermined which organizations they will be supporting that year.
