DESCRIPTION OF SURVEY

The Annual Capital Expenditures Survey (ACES) is part of a comprehensive program designed to provide more detailed and timely information on capital investment in structures and equipment by nonfarm businesses. The data are used to improve the quality of current economic indicators of business investments, as well as the quarterly estimates of gross domestic product. The data also provide facts about trends in capital expenditures useful for identifying business opportunities, product development, and business planning.

BACKGROUND

Funding for the survey was first provided by Congress in fiscal year 1991. At that time, the U.S. Census Bureau developed and conducted a feasibility survey to collect 1991 data from a sample of approximately 4,400 nonfarm companies. The purpose was to test the clarity of questions and instructions and determine the ability of companies to report the requested data.

The results of that survey were incorporated into a small test survey to collect 1992 data from a sample of 11,200 nonfarm companies. The purpose here was to further evaluate the survey content, refine the survey forms and instructions, and test the sufficiency of the sample. Selected results of this survey were published in May 1994.

After evaluating the 1992 survey results, it was determined that the annual collection of detailed expenditures on the types of structures and equipment purchased was overly burdensome for respondents. Consequently, a 5-year survey plan was developed beginning with the data collection for the 1993 ACES. The 5-year cycle included conducting annually a basic survey that collects total capital expenditures for new and used structures and equipment from companies with five employees or more and biannually a survey of businesses with fewer than five employees, including those with no employees. Detailed information on types of structures and equipment would be collected once during the 5-year cycle with structures information collected in 1994 and equipment in 1996.

A proposal to further revise this plan was approved by the Office of Management and Budget beginning with the 1996 survey. The new plan included a mail sample of all small businesses annually to provide an improved time series estimate of total and new capital expenditures by all companies. Additionally, detailed information on types of structures and equipment would be collected in the 1998 survey from companies with employees and every 5 years thereafter or as determined by the 1998 survey results.

The 2003 estimates presented in this report are based on data collected from a sample of 45,994 companies with employees and 15,000 businesses without employees. The sample frame for companies with employees was slightly more than 5.7 million and for companies without employees about 21.3 million. For those companies with employees, capital expenditures data are published for 132 industries. In addition, total capital expenditures, with no industry detail, are shown for the businesses without employees.

COMPOSITION OF INDUSTRY CATEGORY CODES

Beginning with the 1999 ACES, industry categories used in the survey were comprised primarily of three-digit and selected four-digit industries from the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS): 1997. Industry combinations were developed through consultation with data users. In addition, a category was provided for structures and equipment expenditures serving multiple industries; for example, headquarters, regional offices, and central research laboratories.

INFORMATION REQUESTED

Four survey forms (ACE-1(S), ACE-1(M), ACE-1(L), and ACE-2) were used for the 2002 ACES. The ACE-1(S), ACE-1(M), and ACE-1(L) survey forms were mailed to a sample of 45,994 companies with employees. Recipients of these survey forms were requested to provide capital expenditures data for each industry in which they had activity and to classify these expenditures as new and used structures and equipment.

New structures and equipment include expenditures for new buildings and other structures, structures that have been previously owned but neither used or occupied, new machinery and equipment, and other new depreciable assets. Used structures and equipment include expenditures for buildings and other structures which have been previously owned and occupied, secondhand machinery and equipment, and other used depreciable assets. In addition, these companies were asked to report new structures and equipment acquired under capital lease arrangements entered into during the survey year.

The ACE-2 survey form was mailed to a sample of approximately 15,000 businesses without employees. Capital expenditures data were requested separately for new and used structures and equipment. (Examples of ACE-1(S), ACE-1(M), ACE-1(L), and ACE-2 survey forms are in Appendix D.)

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

In 2003, U.S. businesses invested $983.8 billion in both new and used capital goods. This spending level is not statistically different from the revised 2002 level of $997.9 billion and follows two consecutive declines of 10.0 percent in 2002, and 4.5 percent in 2001. The 2002 estimate reflects a downward revision of $10.5 billion.

Spending on new structures and equipment in 2003 accounted for $893.7 billion, or 90.8 percent of total expenditures, a decrease of 2.8 percent from 2002. Expenditures for structures totaled $343.7 billion, with $304.1 billion (88.5 percent) spent for new structures. New structures declined 5.3 percent from the prior year. Expenditures for equipment totaled $640.1 billion, with $589.6 billion (92.1 percent) spent for new equipment. Although spending on new equipment in 2003 decreased 1.5 percent from the prior year, spending for used equipment increased 23.8 percent to $50.5 billion.

Companies with employees (about 5.7 million) accounted for $895.6 billion, or 91.0 percent of 2003 investment spending, a decrease of 2.4 percent from 2002. These companies invested $313.1 billion in structures. Their investment in equipment amounted to $582.5 billion, a decrease of 1.7 percent from 2002. Of the 130 industries published in this report, 41 industries showed a decrease in spending, 23 increased their spending, and 66 spent about the same as the prior year.

Spending by companies without employees in 2003 totaled $88.2 billion, or 9.0 percent of total business investment. Approximately two-thirds of this spending, or $57.6 billion was spent on equipment.

Highlights of capital expenditures for structures and equipment by companies with employees

Of the $313.1 billion spent on structures by companies with employees, spending was about the same for commercial buildings (18.4 percent), utility structures and facilities (17.0 percent), and offices (15.3 percent). Mine shafts and wells accounted for 10.6 percent of spending on structures. Of the $57.6 billion spent on commercial buildings, 36.3 percent was for multiretail stores (department stores shopping/town centers, etc.), 20.8 percent was for food stores, and 20.6 percent was for warehouses and distribution centers. Of the $53.3 billion spent on utility structures and facilities, 38.5 percent was for electric, nuclear, and other power facilities, and 36.2 percent was for telecommunication structures and facilities. The differences in spending between these two types of facilities are not statistically significant. The commercial buildings, and utility structures were primarily construction of new facilities, while the offices were primarily remodeling, renovation, and modernization of existing facilities. In total, $150.7 billion or 48.1 percent of new investment in structures was for construction of new facilities, and $109.0 billion or 34.8 percent was for remodeling, renovation, and modernization of existing facilities. Tables 5 and 6 contain detailed data on structures expenditures.

Of the $582.5 billion spent on equipment by companies with employees, 30.8 percent was for transportation equipment, 27.7 percent was for information-processing equipment, and 18.1 percent was for industrial equipment. Of the $161.3 billion spent on information-processing equipment, 34.6 percent was for computer and peripheral equipment, and capitalized software accounted for 27.5 percent. Tables 7 and 8 contain detailed data on equipment expenditures.

A few companies were unable to provide details on their investment by type of structures and/or type of equipment. This amounted to approximately 4.5 percent of total spending by companies with employees.

Highlights of capital expenditures by business sector for companies with employees

<sup>1</sup>This column presents the estimate of change along with a 90-percent confidence interval for the estimate. For approximately 90 percent of all possible samples selected using the same methodology, the interval shown would include the actual (but unknown) population value. For example, the estimate -10.4 (±1.9) indicates the range -12.3 to -8.5 in which the actual change is likely to have occurred. If this range includes zero, it is uncertain whether there was an increase or decrease (i.e., the estimate of change is not statistically significant). See the "Sampling Variability" section of Appendix C for more information on confidence intervals.

Transportation and warehousing. Investment in this sector was $44.9 billion in 2003. The air transportation industry accounted for about a fourth of capital spending with $10.7 billion, down 13.0 percent from 2002, and accounted for most of this sectors spending decrease for equipment. The truck transportation industry spent $9.1 billion, about the same as the prior year. The rail transportation industry with spending of $6.5 billion increased 2.2 percent in 2003. The pipeline transportation of natural gas industry, with spending of $4.4 billion in 2003, decreased 20.5 percent from the prior year.

Wholesale trade. The wholesale trade sector spent $28.4 billion on capital expenditures in 2003. The durable goods industry spent $19.1 billion, and the nondurable goods industry spent $9.4 billion.

The traveler accommodation services industry, which includes hotels and casino hotels, spent $7.8 billion on capital expenditures, down 28.0 percent in 2003.

Educational services. The educational services sector spent $16.6 billion on capital expenditures in 2003, a decrease of about 15.0 percent from the prior year, due mainly to a $2.7 billion spending decrease on new and used structures. Spending for structures totaled $11.9 billion and spending for equipment totaled $4.7 billion.

Administrative and support and waste management. This sector spent $15.6 billion for capital goods in 2003. The office administrative support industry spent $6.0 billion for capital goods, an increase of 49.9 percent from the prior year.

Arts, entertainment, and recreation. This sector spent $11.0 billion for capital goods in 2003, a decrease of 16.3 percent from the prior year. The amusement, gambling, and recreation industry spent $6.7 billion. This represents a decrease of 29.9 percent from the prior year.

Note: Revised 2002 Annual Capital Expenditures Survey data and associated relative standard error tables are included in this publication.

The data in this report are subject to sampling variability, as well as nonsampling error. Sources of nonsampling error include errors of response, nonreporting, and coverage. Further details concerning survey design, methodology, and data limitations are contained in the appendixes of this publication.

In accordance with federal law governing census reports (Title 13 of the United States Code), no data are published that would disclose the operations of an individual establishment or company. Disclosure limitation is the process for protecting the confidentiality of data. A disclosure would occur if someone could use published statistical information to infer the identity or operations of a business that has provided information under a pledge of confidentiality. Disclosure suppression protects the confidentiality of individual businesses by withholding (suppressing) the cell values in tables of aggregate data for cases where only a few businesses are represented or dominate the statistic presented.

DISCLOSURE

The disclosure analysis for the ACES statistics is performed on each data item. When the estimate for a specific data item cannot be shown without disclosing information for individual companies, then the publication of that data item is suppressed. The process of suppression does not change the marginal totals, so the integrity of the data is not adversely affected.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS

The following abbreviations and symbols are used in this publication:

- Represents zero.
- (D) Withheld to avoid disclosing data for individual companies, data are included in higher level totals.
- (NA) Not available.
- (X) Not applicable.
- (Z) Less than half of unit shown.

Definition of Terms

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Capital expenditures include all expenditures during the year for both new and used structures and equipment chargeable to asset accounts for which depreciation or amortization accounts are ordinarily maintained. For projects lasting longer than 1 year, this definition includes gross additions to construction-in-progress accounts even if the asset was not in use and not yet depreciated. For capital leases, the company using the asset (lessee) is asked to include the cost or present value of the leased assets in the year in which the lease was entered. Also included in capital expenditures are capitalized leasehold improvements and capitalized interest charges on loans used to finance capital projects.

STRUCTURES

Capital expenditures for structures consist of the capitalized costs of buildings and other structures and all necessary expenditures to acquire, construct, and prepare the structure for its intended use. The costs of any machinery and equipment which are an integral or built-in feature of the structure are classified as structures. Also included are major additions and alterations to existing structures and capitalized repairs and improvements to buildings.

New structures include new buildings and other structures not previously owned, as well as buildings and other structures that have been previously owned but not used or occupied. Used structures are buildings and other structures which have been previously owned and occupied.

EQUIPMENT

Capital expenditures for equipment include machinery, furniture and fixtures, computers, and vehicles used in the production and distribution of goods and services. Expenditures for machinery and equipment which are housed in structures and can be removed or replaced without significantly altering the structure are classified as machinery and equipment.

New equipment consists of machinery and equipment purchased new and equipment produced in the company for use by the company. Used equipment is secondhand machinery and equipment.

OTHER CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

“Other” capital expenditures refers to depreciable and amortizable assets which companies could not classify as structures or equipment because of recordkeeping practices or difficulties interpreting the definitions of structures and equipment.

CAPITAL LEASES

Capital leases consist of new assets acquired under capital lease arrangements entered into during the year. Capital leases are defined by the criteria in the Financial Accounting Standards (FASB) Number 13.

CAPITALIZED COMPUTER SOFTWARE

Capitalized computer software expenditures consist of costs of materials and services directly related to the development or acquisition of software; payroll and payroll-related costs for employees directly associated with software development; and interest cost incurred while developing the software. Capitalized computer software is defined by the criteria in Statement of Position 98-1, Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use.

Prepackaged Software

Prepackaged software is purchased off-the-shelf through retailers or other mass-market outlets for internal use by the company and includes the cost of licensing fees and service/maintenance agreements.

Vendor-Customized Software

Vendor-customized software is externally developed by vendors and customized for the company's use.

Internally-Developed Software

Internally developed software is developed by the company's employees for internal use and includes loaded payroll (salaries, wages, benefits, and bonuses related to all software development activities).

Comparisons With Other Estimates of Capital Expenditures

Investment estimates, from the Annual Capital Expenditures Survey (ACES), that appear in this report, are not directly comparable with investment data from other sources. Variations in survey concepts, coverage, definitions, data collection techniques, estimation methodology, and sample designs may contribute to differences among estimates. The following are examples of investment surveys and possible factors contributing to differences between estimates. Data users are cautioned to review technical information from each data source before making comparisons of the estimates.

ECONOMIC CENSUS

The economic census is conducted every 5 years for years ending in 2 and 7, and covers nearly all of the U.S. economy in its basic collection of establishment statistics. Total capital expenditures and depreciable assets data are collected for mining, construction, and manufacturing establishments. In addition, capital expenditures for new and used structures and new and used equipment are collected for manufacturing establishments. Differences in the reporting units of the economic census and ACES may result in differences in each survey's estimates.

VALUE OF NEW CONSTRUCTION PUT IN PLACE (VPIIP)

Estimates of the value of new construction put in place are compiled from several sources. Estimates for some sectors are based on sample surveys of construction project activity. In addition to sampling variability and coverage, differences in reporting units and respondent interpretation contribute to variations in level and distribution of investment data. Estimates for other sectors depend on data supplied to federal agencies to meet regulatory reporting requirements. Differences in the objectives of the regulatory requirements and the ACES may contribute to differences in estimates.

Sampling and Estimation Methodologies

The estimates in this report are based on two stratified simple random samples. The ACE-1 sample consists of 45,994 companies with paid employees (determined by the presence of payroll) in 2002. The ACE-2 sample consists of 15,000 businesses without employees. The two sample populations received different survey forms (see Appendix D for an example of each survey form).

The scope of the survey was defined to include all private, nonfarm, domestic companies. Major exclusions from the frame were government-owned operations (including the U.S. Postal Service), foreign-owned operations of domestic companies, establishments located in U.S. Territories, establishments engaged in agricultural production (not agricultural services), and private households.

The 2002 Business Register (BR) was used to develop the 2003 ACE-1 sample frame. The BR is the U.S. Census Bureau's establishment-based database. The database contains records for each physical business entity with payroll located in the United States, including company ownership information and current-year administrative data. In creating the ACE-1 frame, establishment data in the BR file were consolidated to create company-level records. Employment and payroll information was maintained for each six-digit North American Industry Classification System<sup>1</sup> (NAICS) industry in which the company had activity. Next, payroll data for each company-level record were run through an algorithm to assign the company, first to an industry sector (i.e., manufacturing, construction, etc.), then to a subsector (three-digit NAICS code), then to an industry group (four-digit NAICS code), then to an industry (five-digit NAICS code), and finally to an ACES industry code based on the industry. The resulting sample frame contained slightly more than 5.7 million companies.

The 2003 ACE-1 sampling frame consists of a certainty portion and a noncertainty portion. The 16,970 companies with 500 or more employees were selected with certainty. The remaining companies with 1 to 499 employees were then grouped into 132 industry categories. Each industry was then further divided into four strata. Since capital expenditures data were not available on the sampling frame, 2002 payroll was used as the stratification variable.

<sup>1</sup>North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) – United States, 1997. For sale by National Technical Information Service (NTIS), Springfield, VA 22161. Call NTIS at 1-800-553-6847.

The stratification methodology resulted in minimizing the sample size subject to a desired level of reliability for each industry. The expected relative standard errors (RSEs) ranged from 1 to 3 percent.

The ACE-2 sample frame was selected from four categories of small businesses.

- Companies with no payroll and no employees on March 12 in the prior year, but with characteristics indicating possible employment during the survey period.
- Companies that had received an Employer Identification (EI) number within the last 2 years, but for which no payroll, employment, or receipts data have yet been received.
- Nonemployer corporations and partnerships.
- Nonemployer sole proprietorships with sales or receipts of $1,000 or more.

Each of these four categories was treated as a separate stratum. The source of the first two categories of businesses was the 2002 BR; the source of the second two categories was the 2002 Nonemployer Database. Companies within each stratum were selected using a simple random sample. From a universe of about 21.3 million businesses, 15,000 businesses were selected

ESTIMATION

Each company selected for the survey has a sample weight which is the inverse of its probability of selection. All sampled companies within the same stratum and industry grouping have the same weight. Weights were increased to adjust for nonresponse. The coverage rate for all companies was 86.6 percent. The coverage rate is calculated by multiplying 100 by the ratio of the capital expenditures of all reporting companies weighted by the original sample weights, to the capital expenditures of all reporting companies weighted by the adjusted-for-nonresponse sample weights. Weight adjustment and publication estimation are described in the following subsections.

Weight Adjustment

For estimation purposes, each company was placed into 1 of 4 response-related categories:

1. Respondents.

2. Nonrespondents.
3. Not in business.
4. Known duplicates.

A company was considered a respondent or nonrespondent based on whether the company provided sufficient data in items 1 or 2 of the ACE-1 survey form for the ACE-1 segment or item 1 of the ACE-2 survey form for the ACE-2 segment. Companies that went out of business prior to 2003 and duplicates were dropped from the survey. Companies that went out of business during the survey year were kept in the sample and efforts were made to collect data for the period the company was active.

ACE-1 segment. The following discussion assumes 660 strata (strata designation  $h = 1, 2, \dots, 660$ ) which are based on 132 industries, each containing five strata (including the certainty stratum).

The original stratum weights ( $W_h$ ) were adjusted to compensate for nonresponse. The adjusted weight is computed as follows:

where,

$W_{h(\text{adj})}$	is the adjusted stratum weight of the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum
$W_h = \frac{N_h}{n_h}$	is the original stratum weight of the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum
$N_h$	is the population size of the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum
$n_h$	is the sample size of the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum
$P_{hr}$	is the sum of total company payroll for respondent companies in stratum $h$
$P_{hn}$	is the sum of total company payroll for nonrespondent companies in stratum $h$

ACE-2 segment. The ACE-2 segment initially was stratified into four strata based on the four small business categories mentioned above. The stratum consisting of “companies with no payroll and no employees on March 12 in the prior year, but with characteristics indicating possible employment during the survey period” was poststratified into three strata. The stratum “companies which had received an Employer Identification (EI) number within the last 2 years, but for which no payroll, employment, or receipts data have yet been received” was poststratified into three strata. In both instances, the poststratification was based on updated administrative-record data that were not available at the time the sample frames were created. This method resulted in seven strata (strata designation  $h = 1, 2, \dots, 8$ ). The stratum population sizes, sample sizes, response counts, and stratum weights for the six strata resulting from the poststratification were modified accordingly. For these six strata, the following formulas use these modified sizes and weights; for the remaining two strata, the formulas use the original stratum sizes and weights.

The stratum weights ( $W_h$ ) were adjusted to compensate for nonresponse. The adjusted weight is computed as follows:

$$W_{h(\text{adj})} = W_h \left( \frac{n_h}{r_h} \right) = \frac{N_h}{r_h}$$

where,

$W_{h(\text{adj})}$	is the adjusted stratum weight of the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum
$W_h = \frac{N_h}{n_h}$	is the stratum weight of the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum
$N_h$	is the population size of the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum
$n_h$	is the sample size of the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum
$r_h$	is the number of respondents in the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum

Note: A statistical procedure was used in reweighting extreme outliers to minimize the mean square error of the estimates. Mean square error accounts for both sampling variability and bias.

Publication Estimation

Publication cell estimates were computed by obtaining a weighted sum of reported values for companies treated as respondents. For those strata undergoing nonresponse adjustment, the estimates for  $X_j$  are biased, since this method assumes that nonresponse is not a purely random event. No attempt was made to estimate the magnitude of this bias.

ACE-1 segment. The ACE-1 estimates were derived as follows. Each estimated cell total,  $\hat{X}_j$ , is of the form

$$\hat{X}_j = \sum_{h=1}^{660} \sum_{ieh} (W_{h(\text{adj})} * X_{(j),i,h})$$

where,

$W_{h(\text{adj})}$	is the adjusted weight of the $h^{\text{th}}$ stratum
$X_{(j),i,h}$	is the value attributed to the $i^{\text{th}}$ company of stratum $h$ , where $j$ is the publication cell of interest.

Note: Although a company was assigned to and sampled in one ACES industry, it could report expenditures in multiple ACES industries. When this occurred, the reported data for all industries were inflated by the weight in the sample industry.

ACE-2 segment. The ACE-2 estimates were derived as follows:

$$\hat{X}_j = \sum_{h=1}^7 \sum_{ieh} (W_{h(\text{adj})} * X_{(j),i,h})$$

where,

$W_{h \text{ (adj)}}$  is the adjusted weight of the  $h^{\text{th}}$  stratum

$X_{(j),i,h}$  is the value attributed to the  $i^{\text{th}}$  company in stratum  $h$ , where  $j$  is the publication cell of interest (note, since no industry level estimates are derived for ACE-2 companies, this  $j$  will always represent a national-level cell estimate).

RELIABILITY OF THE ESTIMATES

The data shown in this report are estimated from a sample and will differ from the data which would have been obtained from a complete census. Two types of possible errors are associated with estimates based on data from sample surveys: sampling errors and nonsampling errors. The accuracy of a survey result depends not only on the sampling errors and nonsampling errors measured but also on the nonsampling errors not explicitly measured. For particular estimates, the total error may considerably exceed the measured errors.

Sampling Variability

The sample used in this survey is one of many possible samples that could have been selected using the sampling methodology described earlier. Each of these possible samples would likely yield different results. The RSE is a measure of the variability among the estimates from these possible samples. The RSEs were calculated using a delete-a-group jackknife replicate variance estimator. The RSE accounts for sampling variability but does not account for nonsampling error or systematic biases in the data. Bias is the difference, averaged over all possible samples of the same design and size, between the estimate and the true value being estimated.

The RSEs presented in the tables can be used to derive the SE of the estimate. The SE can be used to derive interval estimates with prescribed levels of confidence that the interval includes the average results of all samples:

- intervals defined by one SE above and below the sample estimate will contain the true value about 68 percent of the time,
- intervals defined by 1.6 SE above and below the sample estimate will contain the true value about 90 percent of the time,
- intervals defined by two SEs above and below the sample estimate will contain the true value about 95 percent of the time.

The SE of the estimate can be calculated by multiplying the RSE presented in the tables by the corresponding estimate. Note, the RSE is the measure of variability presented for all estimates in this publication except for the estimates of percent change presented in Table 2a, for which we provide the SE as the measure of variability (refer to Table 2b). Also note that RSEs in this publication are in percentage form. They must be divided by 100 before being multiplied by the corresponding estimate. For example, using data from Tables 4a and 4c, the SE for total nondurable manufacturing capital expenditures would be calculated as follows:

The 90-percent confidence interval can be constructed by multiplying 1.6 by the SE, adding this value to the estimate to create the upper bound, and subtracting it from the estimate to create the lower bound.

$$\hat{X}_j \pm [1.6 * \hat{\sigma}(\hat{X}_j)]$$

Using data from Table 4a, for nondurable manufacturing capital expenditures, a 90-percent confidence interval would be calculated as:

$$$68,393 \text{ million} \pm 1.6($752) = $68,393 \pm $1,203 \text{ million}$$

Nonsampling Error

All surveys and censuses are subject to nonsampling errors. Nonsampling errors can be attributed to many sources: inability to obtain information about all companies in the sample; inability or unwillingness on the part of respondents to provide correct information; response errors; definition difficulties; differences in the interpretation of questions; mistakes in recording or coding the data; and other errors of collection, response, coverage, and estimation for nonresponse.

Explicit measures of the effects of these nonsampling errors are not available. However, to minimize nonsampling error, all reports were reviewed for reasonableness and consistency, and every effort was made to achieve accurate response from all survey participants.

Coverage errors may have a significant effect on the accuracy of estimates for this survey. The BR, which forms the basis of our survey universe frame, may not contain all businesses. Also, businesses that are contained in the BR may have their payroll misreported.

FROM THE DIRECTOR
U.S. CENSUS BUREAU

We are conducting the Annual Capital Expenditures Survey, and we would like you to help by completing the enclosed survey form.

The U.S. Census Bureau's Annual Capital Expenditures Survey is a key source of information about our country's economic performance. Business investment in structures and equipment is an important component of Gross Domestic Product. Investment data are useful for identifying business opportunities, product development, and strategic planning.

Title 13 of the United States Code requires you to answer this survey; it also requires us to keep your response confidential.

We realize that completing this survey is a burden for you. We hope, however, that you appreciate the importance of your response in providing accurate data about our Nation's economic performance. We have limited the survey sample to the fewest possible number of representative firms, and we accept estimates if book figures are not available.

Please review the instructions, complete the form, and return it within 30 days. The instructions can assist you on how to report for each item. Returning your form promptly helps us keep follow-up costs down. If you have any questions or comments, please call us toll-free at 1-800-528-3049.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Charles Louis Kincannon

The information you provide will be used to prepare national measures of capital spending and to formulate fiscal and monetary policy.

SECTION I

PART A – GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Survey Scope – This survey collects capital expenditures data for nonfarm companies, organizations, and associations operating within the United States. Information for agricultural production operations should be excluded. However, companies performing agricultural services are included.

Information for churches, nonprofit organizations, and organizations that are government owned but privately operated should be included.

Reporting Entity – Report capital expenditures for all domestic operations of your enterprise, including subsidiaries and divisions. For this report, the terms enterprise and company are used interchangeably. An enterprise is a business, service, or membership organization consisting of one or more establishments under common ownership or control. It includes all establishments of subsidiary companies, where there is more than 50 percent ownership, as well as establishments of firms which the enterprise has the power to direct or cause the direction of management and policies. Holding companies should report for the entire corporation, including all subsidiaries under their ownership. If you are unable to consolidate records for the entire company or have any reporting questions, please call 1-800-528-3049. This report form will be used by companies having activity in one or more industries; therefore, not all items will apply to all companies. For purposes of this survey, exclude data for Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and U.S. Territories.

Survey Period – Report data for the calendar year 2003. If calendar year book figures are not available except at considerable cost, reasonable estimates are acceptable. If you cannot provide reasonable estimates on a calendar basis, fiscal year data will be accepted. Indicate on page 16 of the ACE-1(Long) and ACE-1(M) forms, or page 9 of the ACE-1(S) form the exact dates the data represent if they are not for the calendar year.

If fiscal data are used and your fiscal period ends in January, February, or March, report for the fiscal year ending in 2004. Otherwise, report for the fiscal year ending in 2003.

Estimates Are Acceptable – The data requested on this report form may not correspond to your company's accounting records. If you cannot answer a question from your company records, please provide carefully prepared estimates. If your company did not have any capital expenditures for the 2003 reporting period, enter "0" in the appropriate cell(s).

Mergers and Acquisitions – Such events occurring during the period covered by this report require special attention.

- (a) If your enterprise merged with or acquired another domestic enterprise during the period, include the domestic capital expenditures made by the merged or acquired enterprise since the date of acquisition; the cost to your enterprise for structures and equipment previously owned by the acquired enterprise at the time of the merger or acquisition should be reported as expenditures, only if treated as capital expenditures by your enterprise. Please furnish the date of the acquisition or merger and the name of the acquired enterprise in the "Remarks" section.
- (b) If your enterprise was acquired by another enterprise during the period covered by this report, please furnish the acquisition date and the name and address of the acquiring enterprise in the "Ownership Information" section, and complete the form for the period of time the enterprise was in operation prior to the acquisition.

ITEM 6 – CAPITAL EXPENDITURES BY INDUSTRY (Not applicable to form ACE-1(S))

Complete Item 6 for each industry in which the company had operations and made capital expenditures in 2003. Review the list of company activities printed to the left of the company name and address on page 1 of the report form. These are the industries we expected your company to operate in during 2003. If we expected your operations to include more industry activities than are printed on page 1, we listed additional activities on a continuation sheet for Item 6. If necessary, add, correct, or delete industry codes on page 1 (and the continuation sheet if applicable) to reflect your company's operations in 2003. Refer to the list of INDUSTRY CATEGORY CODES (beginning on page 7 of this booklet) to update the list.

All companies should complete Item 6. Using the corrected list of company activities on page 1, report the data requested for each industry in which the company made capital expenditures in 2003. Complete a separate row for each industry.

In the "Industry Category Code" column, enter the industry code(s) in which your company made capital expenditures in 2003. List industries which account for the company's total capital expenditures reported in Item 2, Row 22, Column (4).

Allocate expenditures for assets which serve more than one industry such as: central, regional, or divisional administrative functions, payroll and personnel, and research and development. If capital expenditures for these assets cannot be allocated to specific industry categories, report the amount of these capital expenditures as industry code 9900.

Complete the columns as follows:

SECTION III – ACES STRUCTURE CODES LIST INSTRUCTIONS

- Use the list on the next page to determine the numeric code for the primary function of the structures in which you have invested, for reporting Item 7, "Capital Expenditures by Type of Structure."
- Examples listed on the next page indicate the types of structure that are included in the categories listed below; the examples are not intended to be an exhaustive list.
- For all categories, include new construction, major additions, alterations, reconstruction, and capitalized repairs to existing structures.
- Please aggregate expenditures for structures with the same codes. For example, if you spent $2 million on fast food establishments and $5 million on cafeterias, list code 152 and enter $7 million in the amount column. It is not necessary to list code 152 twice with the two separate amounts.
- If a total for a structure code includes more than one activity as defined by the column headings, please separate expenditures into all appropriate columns.
- The cost of any machinery and equipment which is an integral or built-in feature of the structure should be included in the cost reported for that structure. For example, when constructing cellular transmission towers integral equipment should be included in the cost of the structure. Equipment replacements (such as transmitters located on towers) should be reported as equipment.

SECTION III – ACES EQUIPMENT CODES LIST INSTRUCTIONS

- Use the list on the next page to determine the numeric code for the primary function of the equipment in which you have invested, for reporting Item 8, "Capital Expenditures by Type of Equipment."
- Examples listed on the next page indicate the types of equipment that are included in the categories listed below; the examples are not intended to be an exhaustive list.
- Please aggregate expenditures for equipment with the same codes. For example, if you spent $50,000 on computers and $20,000 on peripheral equipment for computers, list code 311 and enter $70,000 in the amount column. It is not necessary to list code 311 twice with the two separate amounts.
- If a total for an equipment code includes more than one activity as defined by the column headings, please separate expenditures into all appropriate columns.
- Please include as capital expenditures, the value of assets expended as permitted under section 179 of the U.S. Internal Revenue code.
- The cost of any machinery and equipment which is an integral or built-in feature of a structure should be included as part of that that structure, not as equipment.
- Computer assisted machinery and systems that possess the ability to be programmed for a variety of functions should be reported according to the primary function of the system.

ANNUAL CAPITAL EXPENDITURES SURVEY

FROM THE DIRECTOR
U.S. CENSUS BUREAU

We are conducting the Annual Capital Expenditures Survey, and we would like you to help by completing the enclosed survey form.

The U.S. Census Bureau's Annual Capital Expenditures Survey is a key source of information about our country's economic performance. Business investment in structures and equipment is an important component of Gross Domestic Product. Investment data are useful for identifying business opportunities, product development, and strategic planning.

Title 13 of the United States Code requires you to answer this survey; it also requires us to keep your response confidential.

In order to provide current and useful statistics for small, cyclical, and changing businesses, we need your information, whether or not you made capital expenditures in calendar year 2003.

We realize that completing this survey is a burden for you. We hope, however, that you appreciate the importance of your response in providing accurate data about our Nation's economic performance. We have limited the survey sample to the fewest possible number of representative firms, and we accept estimates if book figures are not available.

Please review the instructions, complete the form, and return it within 30 days. The instructions can assist you on how to report for each item. Returning your form promptly helps us keep follow-up costs down. If you have any questions or comments, please call us toll-free at 1-800-528-3049.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

Charles Louis Kincannon

Enclosure

Example: If figure is $2,600.00, report	Thou.	Dol.

Enter zero if expenditures are less than one thousand dollars after rounding.

Item 1

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES – Report expenditures made during the year to purchase structures and equipment for use in your business. Records are ordinarily maintained for these expenditures since they are required to be depreciated for tax purposes. Include the estimated cost of assets acquired as the lessee under capital lease arrangements entered into during the year. See Item 2 instructions below for additional information on capital leases. Assets which your company expensed as permitted under Section 179 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code should be reported as capital expenditures for purposes of this survey. The requested information may be available from your tax return, accountant, or tax advisor.

Exclude land and items charged as current operating expenses such as cost of maintenance (including maintenance contracts), normal and ordinary repairs, supplies, and rental payments.

If expenditures are made for both business and personal use, report only those for business use.

NEW STRUCTURES – Report capital expenditures for new buildings, offices, and other structures, as well as structures that have been previously owned but not used or occupied.

Include:

- Cost of buildings and all necessary expenditures to acquire, construct, and prepare the structure for its intended use.
- Cost of major additions, alterations, and capitalized repairs to existing structures whether performed by a contractor or completed in-house.
- Cost of any machinery and equipment which is an integral or built-in feature of the structure.

NEW EQUIPMENT – Report capital expenditures for new machinery and equipment.

Include:

- Capital expenditures for new equipment such as machinery, furniture and fixtures, cash registers, fax machines, copy machines, computers, computer software, and cars and trucks used in the production and distribution of goods and services and in office functions.
- Expenditures for machinery and equipment which are housed in structures and can be removed or replaced without significantly altering the structure.

USED STRUCTURES AND USED EQUIPMENT – Report capital expenditures for offices, buildings, and other structures previously owned and occupied by others. Also include second hand equipment and machinery previously owned by others.

If you have any questions about what to report or how to classify specific fixed assets, please call 1-800-528-3049.

Item 2

CAPITAL LEASES – Report the estimated cost of new structures and equipment acquired as the lessee under capital lease arrangements entered into during the year. Only the person or business to whom a lease is granted (lessee) from others should report here. This value should also be included as a capital expenditure in Item 1 since the purchase of a structure and/or equipment has essentially taken place.

Exclude the value of structures and equipment which you rent (operating leases); and periodic payments made for leased structures and equipment.

If you did not have capital expenditures during 2003, enter zeroes in the appropriate lines of ITEM 1 and complete the back of the form. Please sign and return your form in the enclosed envelope or FAX to 1-800-438-8040.
