

Lecture series co-sponsored by the National Institutes of Health and the National Academy of Sciences

Evolution and Medicine

An Exploration of the Evolutionary Foundations of Contemporary Medical Research

February 9 Brain Evolution: Lessons from birds and humans who sing and talk
Dr. Erich Jarvis, Duke University

March 25 Your Inner Fish
Dr. Neil Shubin, University of Chicago

April 13 Communicating About Evolution
Dr. Matthew Nisbet, American University

June 8 Evolution Matters
Dr. David Hillis, University of Texas at Austin

7:00-8:00 pm

Each lecture will be held at:
National Academy of Sciences Auditorium

2101 Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C.
Enter at 2100 C St., N.W.

Free and open to the public. A photo ID is required.
More Information contact (202) 334-2436 or cpnas@nas.edu
A reception will be held immediately following each lecture.