

GENERAL DYNAMICS

Nicholas D. Chabraja
Chairman and Chief Executive

General Dynamics is pleased to support Thomas Gainsborough, 1727–1788, the first major exhibition of the works of the celebrated painter in more than 20 years, and the first of its kind in the United States.

Considered one of the masters of the golden age of British painting, Gainsborough is beloved in this country as well. The 75 paintings and 30 works on paper in this exhibition are from British and American collections, both public and private. There are magnificent landscapes and portraits, as well as pictures showing the everyday lives of people in the countryside.

Through our sponsorship of this exhibition with our British subsidiary, General Dynamics United Kingdom, Ltd., we celebrate our friendship with the government and the people of the United Kingdom. We hope that visitors will take great pleasure from these beautiful works.

Sincerely,
