Are we just talking about the SK dollars? The $20 million that may be set aside for AK Marketing? Or are we also talking about the $35 million set aside for AK in the $100 million omnibus package? I have to agree that we really would like to see a $4-5 million research package that is available to everyone rather than the set-aside. This program allows us to address current issues and allows us to work with constituents in a positive manner. I think that if the $35 million goes through from the omnibus bill that should provide some short term assistance as well as provide some assistance for developing long-term solutions to the predicament AK finds itself in today -- which to a great extent is because they refused to see that the world has been changing and that they needed to change with it. My two cents.

Alan Risenhoover wrote:

Dennis --- per our earlier response, we don't have the full details or rationale for the proposed AK program. Therefore, its somewhat hard to comment on whether its a good program or not.

The important thing is that the S/K grant program is a good one, and has become very important Nation-wide to NMFS and its constituents. So, foremost we'd really like to see an operational sized S/K program of at least $4 to $5 million.

Certainly the Alaska seafood industry, especially related to salmon, is going through a difficult time. As noted in our earlier response several segments of the Alaskan industry are looking to get out of salmon entirely. This will have an effect on a number of coastal communities that are dependent on the seafood industry, especially salmon, in Alaska. So the program, however constituted and operated, probably would have a benefit to these constituencies.

Linda / Bill --- anything to add?

Alan,

I believe the intent was to get NMFS' reaction to not having the AK marketing programs. In the past day or so, Christine Ryan had asked Anne Marie for some background on the program, so she could have the additional info for conference. I believe the intent was to find out what kind of impact (and reaction) would come from dissolving the marketing programs.

Dennis --- I made a few edit to the attached that Chuck had sent to you earlier.

Not sure what you mean by "using all the $75M ... to offset ORF." Does that mean no S/K program or the proposed AK marketing program? NMFS would like to have a healthy S/K program in the $4 to $5 M range per the President's budget request. The S/K program is one of the more successful as well as productive programs. Our constituents have come to rely on it as a means to get additional important research done.

Hope this helps.

Also, Anne Marie is wanting to know what NMFS' reaction would be to the Hill using all of the $75M in the P&D account as an offset to ORF.

I will also seek a higher-level blessing to move forward. Sound like a plan?

Bill, Sorry I took a while to get back on this...it took some time to work through at DCED. Anyway, here is our account string.

Do you have the governing rules or circular that will cover this money when it becomes available. Not sure what, if any, reporting requirements or strings will be attached to it. I understand this money does not require a match but as we fold it into our budget for next year we need to know if there are any restrictions or specific circulars that we must follow. EDA grant has been a nightmare because we didn't know about some of the rules upfront and had to go back and correct. Don't want to get into a similar boat here.

When are you coming to Juneau? Have you settled on a location yet?
Talk to you soon...call if you need more information on the transfer or if I can do anything for you at this end.

THE ALASKA FISHERIES MARKETING BOARD DISBURSES GRANTS

The Alaska Fisheries Marketing Board (AFMB) has made grant money available to the Alaska salmon and pollock fisheries. Approximately $6.9 million will enhance existing and initiate new marketing and promotion campaigns for wild Alaskan salmon and genuine Alaska pollock.

The AFMB was established pursuant to Public Law 108-7 to award grants to market, develop, and promote Alaska Seafood and improve related technology and transportation with an emphasis on salmon.

"We really felt it was important to act quickly to work with the industry and serve as a catalyst to market and promote Alaska salmon and pollock," stated Senator Ben Stevens, Chairman of the AFMB, "with the upcoming harvest season for processors and fishermen, as well as the great uncertainty with consumers, we need to get the message out that there are incredible seafood products, which are good for your health, available from Alaska. The opportunity is now, not later."

The allocations were divided into two categories: pollock and salmon. One million dollars was granted to the Genuine Alaska Pollock Producers (GAPP) association. The grant will be used to educate domestic and international customers about Alaska pollock and the fishery itself. "The Board felt it was highly relevant to support the GAPP to be proactive in its efforts to educate consumers about Alaska pollock and the effectiveness of the management process. For far too long, the industry has been in a reactionary mode to crisis and controversy. It is time to change this way of thinking and I think we are moving to do this by supporting the GAPP," added Trevor McCabe, Vice-Chairman of the AFMB, "we want to forestall any misconceptions about the sustainability of the fishery."

The salmon grants were based upon the volume of salmon purchased by Alaska permit holders during 2003, according to Alaska Department of Fish and Game fish tickets. Each permit holder that purchased salmon during 2003, were sent a letter requesting various information to determine eligibility and potential award.

"The award amount for each applicant varied from over one million dollars to eleven dollars," said Bill Hines, Executive Director for the Board, "it is certainly true that the greater volume of fish purchased, the greater the amount of the award. We are operating on two levels: one for the short-term and one for the long-term. The most immediate need is to inject fiscal resources into the marketing system by working with the industry, retail and food service institutions. We feel we have done this with the allocation based on volume formula. The long-term objective is to look at other applications such as product development, and a comprehensive marketing plan for the industry and we will certainly do this with our next round of funding, recently approved by Congress."

Bruce Schlactler, member of the AFMB from Kodiak added, "this Board has been in concept for many years and now that it is realized, we know we need to be strategic, as well as immediate. Folks in this business know that time is of the essence and I am truly proud that we have moved quickly, in such a short period of time, because we know the stakes are high. People's livelihoods and communities are looking to us to help get the salmon industry out of this downward spiral. I know we are committed and by working with the State of Alaska, I think we can help make a positive impact. That is my hope anyway."
