

Working Toward Providing Universal Access

Entrance Fee Passes

The Interagency Access and Senior passes are lifetime passes to recreation sites managed by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), the National Park Service (NPS), the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, the Bureau of Reclamation, and the U.S. Forest Service (USDA FS).

They admit the pass holder and any accompanying passengers in a private vehicle at no charge. Where entry is not by private vehicle, the pass admits the pass holder and three others (16 and older). The pass also provides a discount in federal campgrounds. Both Interagency Access and Senior must be obtained in person, and are available only to citizens or permanent residents of the United States.

Interagency Access passes are available to persons with visual or mobility impairments.

Interagency Senior passes are $10 and available to persons age 62 or older. Proof of age is required.

All passes can be obtained at the Denali Visitor Center.

Trails

All of Denali's ADA trails have a compacted gravel surface, 3-10' wide. No matter how close to the road, you may encounter wildlife on any trail, from songbirds and ground squirrels to bear and moose. Be alert and leave no trace! The Denali Bike Trail serves as the main pedestrian artery connecting the park entrance with the Denali Visitor Center. It parallels the Park Road for 1.6 miles, providing access to the Riley Creek Campground and Mercantile, Wilderness Access Center, Bus & Train Depots, and the Visitor Center Campus. 5% maximum grade, 10 feet wide.

The Jonesville Trail is a 0.4-mile forested shortcut between the Riley Creek Mercantile and the paved Canyon bike trail west of the Parks Highway. 8% maximum grade, 3 feet wide.

A 1.5-mile scenic hike through diverse taiga forest, the McKinley Station Trail connects the Riley Creek Campground with the Visitor Center. Great views of cultural sites, Hines Creek, the railroad trestle, and the Alaska Range. 8-10% maximum grade, 6 feet wide.

Originating from behind the Denali Visitor Center, the 0.2-mile Spruce Forest Trail is a great option for a short, flat jaunt through taiga forest. Or, follow the McKinley Station

Trail 0.2 miles from the Visitor Center to reach the 0.2-mile Morino Loop Trail which includes interpretive historical sites. 2-3% maximum grade, 6 feet wide.

The Taiga Trail from the Visitor Center to the Healy Overlook Junction is 0.5 miles long and passes through mixed taiga forest with views of the surrounding mountains. 8% maximum grade, 3 feet wide.

Further out the Park Road, make a stop near the Savage River. The Savage Cabin Trail is 0.3 miles long, 8 feet wide and has interpretive signs terminating at the historic Savage log cabin. Or, park at mile 13 on the west side of the Savage River bridge and take the Savage River Trail downstream for 0.4 miles, adding on the Savage Bar Trail for an extra 0.25 mile loop. Expect beautiful views and possible wildlife sightings on these 3-4-foot wide trails.

Your suggestions on ways to improve access are always helpful. Please let us know!
