

Independence

National Historical Park

Professional Development for Teachers

A WORKSHOP FOR TEACHERS OF GRADES 5-12

The Politics of the American Revolution

The decision to declare ourselves an independent nation was not one that came quickly or easily. Learn about the politics of the American Revolution as you visit places like Carpenter's Hall, Independence Hall and the Declaration House. Learn about the risks that were taken and the compromises that were made. Educators will go home with education materials, teacher guides, and new ideas for teaching the American Revolution in the classroom and beyond.

Date: May 16, 2009

Time: 9:00- 4:00

Cost: $70.00 per person (lunch on your own)

Location: Independence Park Institute at the Independence Living History Center (on the corner of 3rd and Chestnut Streets)

Six and one half hours of Act 48 credit will be provided.

This workshop is limited to twenty participants – Reserve your spot today!

Independence Park Institute

Please R.S.V.P. to Jeffrey Collins, Independence Park Institute, Independence National Historical Park, 143 South Third Street, Philadelphia, PA 19106, (215) 597-1039, Inde_Education_Comments@nps.gov