ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS

OLDE & COMPANY, INC. AND RICHARD G. HAWKS SANCTIONED

The Commission announced that in connection with an administrative proceeding, it has accepted offers of settlement from Olde & Company, Inc., a Detroit, Michigan broker-dealer, and Richard G. Hawks, a registered representative employed by Olde. The Commission made findings that Olde wilfully violated the antifraud provisions of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in connection with the securities transactions of one of its customers. The Commission also found that Hawks wilfully violated and wilfully aided and abetted violations of the above antifraud provisions in connection with his customer's securities transactions. Based upon the findings, the Commission censured Olde and suspended its option business in certain accounts for a period of 30 days, and furthermore ordered Olde to comply with its undertakings to implement new internal procedures and employee training programs in connection with its options business.

The Commission suspended Hawks from being associated with any broker, dealer, investment company, or investment adviser for a period of four months and suspended Hawks from acting in any supervisory capacity with any broker, dealer, investment company, or investment adviser for two additional months. Furthermore, before assuming a supervisory position following the suspension, Hawks must successfully complete a registered options principal examination and the supervisory principal examination administered by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc.

Olde and Hawks consented to the above findings and sanctions without admitting or denying the allegations in the Order for Public Proceedings. (Rel. 34-17125)

AES TECHNOLOGY SYSTEMS, INC. CITED

The Commission announced the institution of public administrative proceedings against AES Technology Systems, Inc. of Elk Grove Village, Illinois, pursuant to Section 15(c)(4) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The proceedings were based upon AES's alleged violations of the annual reporting provisions of the Exchange Act. The Order for Proceedings alleges that AES's Form 10-K Report for its fiscal year ended June 30, 1979 was materially deficient with respect to the disclosure of: orders and commitments for slot machines; the granting of a stock option; and sales of pinball machines.

Simultaneously with the institution of the proceeding, the Commission accepted an offer of settlement submitted by AES wherein AES, without admitting or denying the allegations in the Order for Proceedings, consented to the findings and remedial relief outlined below. The Commission made a finding that AES had failed to comply with the above annual reporting provisions, and ordered AES to comply with the reporting provisions of the Exchange Act and file an amendment to its June 30, 1979 annual report. The Commission also accepted undertakings made by AES relating to the structure of AES's board of directors, the issuance of stock options, the making of projections of revenues and profits, and the issuance of press releases. The Commission further ordered AES to notify the Commission of any failure to comply with the undertakings. (Rel. 34-17126)

The Commission announced that on August 26 the Honorable Leland C. Neilson, U.S. District Judge, signed a final judgment of permanent injunction against Jerome Mack, former director of Continental Connector Corporation, enjoining him, pursuant to consent decree, from violations of the antifraud and reporting provisions of the securities laws. This terminated a litigation involving twenty defendants, all of whom have consented to similar entries. The complaint centered on a transaction, approved by the Continental board, between Continental and Murrieta Hot Springs, Inc. (SEC v. Morris A. Shenker, et al., S.D. Cal., Civil Action No. 78-0204-N). (LR-9180)
