ENFORCEMENT PROCEEDINGS

COMMISSION SUSTAINS NASD DISCIPLINE OF MAXIMO JUSTO GUEVARA

The Commission sustained NASD disciplinary action against Maximo Justo Guevara. The NASD censured Guevara, barred him, fined him $100,000, and required him to make restitution.

Guevara was a registered representative with an NASD member firm. In June 1994, he saw a television advertisement about Mid-Tennessee Third Mobile, a Nevada partnership that represented that it intended to develop a wireless communications network. Without notice to his firm, Guevara began to sell interests in Mid-Tennessee. He sold the interests to three of his firm's customers. The transactions were wholly unsuitable for the customers, given their age, limited financial means, and conservative objectives.

The Commission concluded that the mid-Tennessee interests were securities. The Commission further found that Guevara had violated NASD rules by recommending unsuitable transactions to the customers and engaging in private securities transactions outside the scope of his employment without providing prior written notice to his member firm. In light of his conduct, the Commission concluded that the sanctions were neither excessive nor oppressive. (Press Rel. 34-42793; File No. 3-9838)
