

U.S. Product Literature Center GO-EXPO 2009 Calgary, Canada - June 9-11

Consider "Canada First" to make your entry into the Global Energy Market

In addition to being the number one energy supplier to the United States, Canada is the world's third largest natural gas producer and seventh largest oil producer. With investments projected at $34 billion and production forecasted to grow to 3 million barrels per day over the next 12 – 18 months, now is the ideal time to explore your market potential in Canada's oil and gas sectors. In addition to future market growth, opportunities for exporters of U.S. goods and services exist in maintenance and service of existing installations as Canadian oil and gas producers and service companies seek innovative solutions and means to reduce production, energy and labor costs.
