

Hospitalar 2009

HOSPITALAR 2009, São Paulo, June 2 - 5, 2009 - Hospitalar is the most important healthcare sector show in Latin America and the 2nd largest in the world. The event has been constantly growing in both, number of exhibitors as well as visitors. Many leading companies launch new healthcare products and services at the show. Significant international participation is one of the key aspects of the event. Hospitalar 2009 will have over 1.100 local and foreign exhibitors. Since 2000, Hospitalar is certified by the U.S. Department of Commerce through its Trade Fair Certification Program (TFC).

The United States Commercial Service (USCS/Brazil) wants to promote your products and services during a Catalog Show, and other matchmaking programs, at the largest Medical show in Latin America. U.S. companies looking to expand their business in Brazil's large and growing market should not miss the opportunity to use this cost-effective tool to advertise their products and/or services.
