

Charles H. Holm

Charley Holm is a Senior Adviser in the Federal Reserve Board's Division of Banking Supervision and Regulation. In this senior official role, Mr. Holm advises Federal Reserve Governors, the Board, and other senior board officers on key financial stability, supervisory, and transparency issues in the financial industry. Charley regularly interacts with senior representatives in the financial institutions, regulatory, and accounting areas.

Before being named as Senior Adviser, Charley served as the Chief Accountant for the Federal Reserve Board's Division of Banking Supervision and Regulation. Previously, he had responsibility for accounting, regulatory capital, and supervisory matters in the Division's Accounting Policy and Supervisory Policy areas. Prior to coming to the Federal Reserve, Charley worked in the Office of the Chief Accountant as well as the Division of Corporation Finance of the SEC. He also worked for a major public accounting firm as an external auditor.

Mr. Holm is a CPA. He has an MBA from the University of Maryland and a BS in Accounting from Villanova University.