

PARTNERSHIP FOR COOPERATIVE CONSERVATION - MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

PARTNERSHIP FOR COOPERATIVE CONSERVATION

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

I. Introduction

Federal agencies engaged in natural resource and environmental management increasingly face issues that transcend jurisdictional boundaries and involve multiple stakeholders, both public and private. In an effort to reduce conflict, many federal managers have adopted the cooperative conservation approach to resolving resource issues through public engagement and collaborative decision making processes.

The Executive Order 13352: Facilitating Cooperative Conservation, dated August 30, 2004; the White House Conference on Cooperative Conservation held in August 2005; and the Government Accountability Office (GAO) report, GAO-08-262, Natural Resource Management: Opportunities Exist to Enhance Federal Participation in Collaborative Efforts to Reduce Conflicts and Improve Natural Resource Conditions, dated February 2008, all point to the effectiveness of collaboration among public, nonprofit, and private entities to manage and conserve natural resources and to enhance the environment.

While success in cooperative conservation has been well-documented, federal agencies still face challenges in collaborative resource management and can benefit from enhanced cross-agency communication and the sharing of best practices.

This Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) sustains the interagency momentum developed under the Cooperative Conservation Executive Order, and is responsive to the GAO recommendations by creating the Partnership for Cooperative Conservation (the "Partnership"), to address future cross-cutting issues and challenges in natural resource and environmental management.

II. Purpose

The purpose of this MOU is to establish a framework for the Partnership to identify issues, develop solutions, and share best practices in collaborative natural resource and environmental management across organizational and jurisdictional boundaries.

III. Goal

The Partnership's goal is to enhance federal interagency coordination and build capacity for partnerships and collaboration among the agencies and across public and private sectors to sustain and conserve natural resources and the environment.

IV. Scope of Partnership for Cooperative Conservation

To achieve its goal, the Partnership resolves to provide leadership and commitment for fostering a culture of collaboration and partnerships internally and externally. It also will serve as a clearinghouse focused on cross-cutting policy issues, creative problem-solving, capacity building across jurisdictional boundaries, and leveraging agency capabilities and resources. To the extent authorized by law, consistent with applicable regulations, agency management objectives, available funding, and where appropriate, the signatory agencies agree to:

1. Carry out programs, projects, and activities implementing laws relating to the environment and natural resources in a manner that appropriately accommodates local participation in Federal decision-making, taking into consideration agency missions, policies, and regulations.
2. Provide interagency staff capacity for the Partnership Working Group (described in Section VI), as well as relevant task forces, conferences, workshops, and other situations that may require multi-agency support;
3. Share best practices, tools, training, and information that can advance knowledge and understanding needed by the agencies and their partners to effectively and collaboratively manage the Nation's natural resources and encourage environmental stewardship;
4. Develop and coordinate joint-agency public engagement and communications strategies;
5. Encourage innovative uses of information technology to provide opportunities for public engagement and to disseminate tools and information on cooperative conservation; and
6. Explore methods to monitor and evaluate progress toward cooperative conservation and environmental goals and celebrate success.

To meet the purposes and scope identified above, and in recognition of agency resource constraints, the Partnership agencies agree to focus their efforts through the adoption of an action plan.

V. Membership

The Partnership includes: the U.S. Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Defense, and the Interior; the Environmental Protection Agency; and the Council on Environmental Quality (together the "Parties").
