

Participate virtually in the Museum's
NAMES READING CEREMONY

FROM APRIL 19 THROUGH APRIL 26, the Museum will lead the nation in commemorating the six million Jews who were murdered in the Holocaust, as well as the millions of other victims of Nazi persecution, with observances being held in Washington, D.C., and around the country. This year's theme, Never Again: What You Do Matters, encourages all Americans to reflect upon the power of individuals to create a more just and humane world.

As part of the 2009 National Days of Remembrance Events, the Museum is holding its annual Names Reading Ceremony on Holocaust Remembrance Day (Yom Hashoah), April 21, from 10 a.m. to 2:45 p.m. in the Hall of Remembrance, located on the Museum's Second Floor.

If you are not in Washington, you can still participate virtually by making your own commemoration video and posting it online. In a video of 30 seconds, tell us why Holocaust remembrance is important to you and choose ten names from the list below to read.

Upload it any time during April 19–26, and let us know about it by posting on our Facebook wall.
