

Fairfield, Connecticut, had the highest wages in investment banking, with an annual average weekly wage of $9,595.

📍 In Fairfield, New York County (i.e., Manhattan), and San Francisco, average weekly wages in the first quarter were more than twice as high as annual weekly wages.

📍 In the top eight counties, average weekly wages in the first quarter were more than double average weekly wages in the second quarter.

Chart 21 examines counties with at least 2,000 workers in investment banking.

CHART 21

Average weekly wages in the top ten counties in investment banking and securities dealing

First through fourth quarters, 2006

Dollars

