UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

THE INSPECTOR GENERAL

April 30, 2003

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I am pleased to submit to you, in accordance with the Inspector General Act of 1978 (Public Law 95-452, as amended, section 5(b)), this semiannual report on the activities of the Department's Office of Inspector General for the six-month period ending March 31, 2003.

Ensuring equal access to quality education is a top priority of our nation and the central mission of the Department. You have set the Department on a course of excellence in financial management, program delivery, and operations to meet this fundamental goal. Our audits, investigations, and inspections support this goal by providing independent and objective analysis to identify shortcomings and make recommendations for improvements.

We look forward to continuing our work with you on the challenges facing the Department. As this report evidences, our work focuses on our shared goal of achieving and maintaining accountability throughout the Department.

The Inspector General Act requires you to transmit this report within 30 days to the appropriate congressional committees and subcommittees, together with a report containing any comments you wish to make. Your report should also include the statistical tables specified in section 5(b)(2) and (3), and a statement with respect to audit reports on which management decisions have been made, but final action has not been taken, as specified in section 5(b)(4).

Sincerely,

Junysum

John P. Higgins, Jr.

Enclosure

INSPECTOR GENERAL'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

We are pleased to provide this semiannual report on the accomplishments of the Office of Inspector General (OIG), U.S. Department of Education (Department), from October 1, 2002 through March 31, 2003. During this period, we issued 55 audit and inspection reports and memoranda and closed 120 investigations. We also testified before Congress on improvements in the Department's financial management.

Our work demonstrates OIG's commitment to assist the Department in its implementation of the President's Management Agenda and in resolution of its major management challenges. We directed significant resources to the Agenda's goal to eliminate fraud and error in student financial aid programs. We continue to find that applicants, school and administrative officials, and others attempt to obtain funds from these programs illegally. We recently completed an analysis to help the Department identify critical risks based on our extensive experience in student financial aid programs. We recommended controls to safeguard these programs and help the Department meet its objective to remove them from the General Accounting Office's high-risk list.

We also focused attention on the Department's financial management, budget and performance integration, and expanded electronic government to advance its efforts in meeting other items on the President's Management Agenda. For example, we examined challenges to the timely and accurate preparation of the Department's financial statements, compliance with funding requirements for certain elementary and secondary programs, and protection of critical infrastructure, including information technology. We made significant recommendations in these areas providing valuable guidance for the Department to improve the integrity, effectiveness, and efficiency of its programs and operations.

This is our first semiannual report since my Senate confirmation on November 14, 2002. My senior staff and I, together with all OIG, look forward to continued partnership with the Secretary and Congress in our common goal of a Department of Education that delivers programs and services for the nation's students with the highest standards of excellence and accountability.

John P. Higgins, Jr. Inspector General

Activities and Accomplishments

The Office of Inspector General (OIG) for the period October 1, 2002 through March 31, 2003, continued its work to improve the programs and operations of the Department of Education (Department) and to protect their integrity. We emphasized work to assist the Department in meeting the mandates of the President's Management Agenda (PMA) and have summarized our work in these areas. Detailed information is available on our website at http://www.ed.gov/offices/OIG.

PMA Goal: Improved Financial Performance

The Department has made improvements in its financial management, and has taken steps toward establishing and maintaining a system of internal controls necessary for continued improvements. These improvements enabled the Department to reach its stated goal of an unqualified opinion on its Fiscal Year (FY) 2002 financial statements.

The independent auditors, Ernst & Young, LLP, issued reports on the FY 2002 financial statements for the Department and for Federal Student Aid (FSA). The reports noted progress in the Department's implementation of a new general ledger software package and in FSA's implementation of a new financial management system. The Department also made progress on financial reporting related to credit reform. For example, it improved financial statement disclosures, monitored key credit reform accounts, began a process to study key assumptions in the subsidy models, and participated with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in a Student Loan Audit Modeling Working Group. ("U.S. Department of Education Financial Statement Audit Reports," ED-OIG/A17-C0008; January 17, 2003.

While the Department has made progress, significant management issues continued to impair its ability to accumulate, analyze, and present reliable financial information during FY 2002. The Department must resolve several critical challenges if it is to prepare timely and accurate financial statements and continue to improve its overall financial management. First, it needs to strengthen its financial management by improving its processes for reconciliations and account analysis. Second, it must ensure that it has the capacity to produce interim and final financial statements so as to meet OMB's accelerated schedule. Third, the Department needs to improve controls to adequately safeguard the security of its financial management systems.

TESTIMONY ON FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT In March, Deputy Inspector General Thomas A. Carter testified before the Subcommittee on Select Education, Committee on Education and the Workforce, United States House of Representatives, on the Department's improvements in financial management. His testimony emphasized the need for strong controls to sustain these improvements. For example, we noted that there is a greater risk of fraudulent reporting by recipients when program performance and results have financial consequences, as they will under the No Child Left Behind Act. Therefore, it is essential to have strong controls to help ensure the accuracy and reliability of program performance data submitted by grantees.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT AUDITS

We also emphasized the importance of monitoring to improve the financial management of, and accountability for, federal education expenditures. Vigorous monitoring of programs and contracts helps ensure that federal education dollars are administered and used in the most effective and efficient manner, and is vital to assuring program success.

Testifying before the House Subcommittee on Select Education

FINANCIAL INTEGRITY INVESTIGATIONS

OIG Special Agents transport evidence to court

Our investigations resulted in a significant number of arrests, convictions, indictments, jail sentences, and monetary restitutions to the government for fraud against the Department's programs. The last three persons charged in a wide-ranging conspiracy to defraud the Department of over one million dollars in electronic equipment and false overtime charges were found guilty after a federal trial. Also, in a related matter, Verizon Federal Systems entered into a $2 million civil settlement with the Department for federal claims on false overtime charges and improper purchases by Verizon employees who conspired with the Department employees. To date, nineteen persons, including eight Department employees, have either pled guilty to federal charges or been convicted after a federal trial in this case, and fourteen have been sentenced.

Our ongoing investigation of Department employees who used their government credit cards to obtain more than $163,000 in money, goods, and services for their personal benefit resulted in two guilty pleas. These individuals also received over $30,000 in kickbacks from vendors by certifying as accurate, invoices they knew were false. The Department employees are awaiting sentencing.

PMA Goal: Budget and Performance Integration

Our audits of States' compliance with statutory and regulatory provisions intended to ensure the efficient, effective, and equitable distribution and use of federal funds found weaknesses in program administration at both the State and federal levels.

COMPLIANCE WITH IDEA FUNDING REQUIREMENTS We issued a report on our audit of selected States' compliance with the funding requirements under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). Our review found that Florida, Tennessee and Rhode Island, three of the six States we audited, did not comply with the formula for distribution of flow-through funds in FY 2000. As a result, all 332 local education agencies in those States received the wrong amount of IDEA funding, with some under-funded by as much as $599,000 and some over-funded by as much as $838,000. Our findings indicate that there is a high probability that more States have incorrectly calculated the funding formula or incorrectly distributed their IDEA allocations.

We recommended that the Department provide clearer guidance to all of the States on calculating and distributing their IDEA allocations, and require the 44 States we did not audit, as well as the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, to reaffirm that they had correctly calculated and distributed their data. The Department generally concurred with our conclusions and recommendations. ("Audits of Six States' Compliance with the Funding Formula Requirements of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act," ED-OIG/A06-B0029; December 19, 2002)

MIGRANT EDUCATION

CONTINUED NON-COMPLIANCE BY HIGH-RISK PACIFIC OUTLYING AREAS GRANTEES We completed an audit at the Texas Education Agency (TEA) that examined the procedures for identifying migrant children who qualify for "priority for services." The Elementary and Secondary Education Act (as reauthorized by the No Child Left Behind Act) provides that migrant children who are at risk of failing and whose education has been interrupted should receive priority for services. We found that TEA had not established or implemented procedures to identify and target migrant children eligible for this priority for services. As a result, the Department has no assurance that Texas used the $53 million it received in Fiscal Year 2001 Migrant Education program funds to benefit priority for services migratory children before it provided services to other migratory children. TEA concurred with our recommendations and is implementing corrective action. ("The Migrant Education Program at the Texas Education Agency," ED-OIG/A06-C0030; February 5, 2003)

In our continuing oversight role, we informed the Department about serious accountability and compliance issues involving grantees in the Pacific Outlying Areas. The first concerned misuse of education funds by grantees. Our preliminary audit and investigation work revealed instances of fraud, waste, and abuse that might have been detected and prevented through consistent oversight, such as on-site monitoring and ensuring that Single Audits and performance reports were completed and submitted on time. We advised the Department that it should develop a coordinated strategy to monitor the Pacific Outlying Areas grantees, including on-site monitoring visits, and the Department agreed. The Department has assigned a Department-wide team to address problems in the Pacific Outlying Areas, as well as teams to address problems in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

We also informed the Department of Pacific Outlying Areas grantees' failure to submit timely financial and compliance audits in accordance with Single Audit Act requirements. Such audits would have informed the Department and other federal grantor agencies about whether the grantees had properly expended and accounted for federal funds, had proper internal controls in place, and had complied with laws and regulations pertaining to major federal programs. We advised the Department to work with each Pacific Outlying Areas grantee to develop a plan for it to meet the audit requirements. We also advised the Department that before the statute of limitation periods expire, it should consider demanding that each Pacific Outlying Areas grantee repay the Department all funds drawn down that were not subjected to Single Audits. In general, the Department concurred.

CONTROLS OVER EQUIPMENT IN THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

Our audit of the Virgin Islands Department of Education, St. Croix School District's (VIDE-St. Croix) controls over equipment purchased with federal eduation funds, found that VIDE-St. Croix did not maintain adequate inventory and management controls and could not account for $1,017,416 in equipment. VIDE-St. Croix agreed with most of our recommendations and outlined corrective actions that were responsive to the weaknesses we identified. ("The Virgin Islands Department of Education-St. Croix School District's Control of Equipment Inventory," ED-OIG/A02-C0019; March 31, 2003)

TALENT SEARCH PROGRAM AT LUTHER COLLEGE

Our audit of the Talent Search program at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, found that the program served significantly fewer participants than it was funded to serve, or than required by regulation, making it ineligible for federal funds for the period covered. We recommended that the Department require Luther College to refund the entire $219,567 expended during its Talent Search program for the 2001-2002 budget period, and establish and properly document procedures to ensure that only those participants receiving eligible services are counted as Talent Search participants. Luther College did not concur with our finding or recommendations, but advised us it had taken corrective actions.

We also recommended that the Department monitor the current Luther College Talent Search project to determine whether the college will be able to meet required minimum participant numbers or should have its grant withdrawn. We further recommended that the Department review the college's three prior budget periods to verify that the participant numbers were met in each budget period, and take appropriate action. ("Talent Search Program at Luther College," ED-OIG/A07-C0031; March 28, 2003)

FRAUD AGAINST ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY PROGRAMS

OIG investigations of fraud in elementary and secondary education programs resulted in several significant prosecutive actions. Our joint investigation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) led to a three-year prison sentence and an order to pay over $260,000 in restitution for a former administrative assistant who fraudulently obtained Title I funds from Oakdale school district in Oklahoma. Our investigation of the Florida Institute for Workforce Innovation resulted in the executive director of the institute signing an agreement to repay the Department over $285,000 in Vocational Rehabilitation funds.

As previously reported, an extensive joint OIG/FBI investigation involving fraudulent contracts for services under the Goals 2000 program and Technology Literacy Challenge Fund with the Puerto Rico Department of Education, resulted in a jail sentence and forfeiture order totaling over $800,000 for the President of RV Research and Management. As part of this investigation, the former Puerto Rico Secretary and Associate Secretary of Education were sentenced in December 2002 to 12 and 11 years respectively, for using their positions to extort $4.3 million from Puerto Rico Department of Education contractors.

PMA Goal: Expanded Electronic Government

In our ongoing work to support the President's e-government mandate, we participated in several intergovernmental projects and activities to assist the Department and to assess its progress in securing its information technology (IT) resources.

CRITICAL INFRASTRUCTURE PROTECTION PROGRAM

We completed an audit of the Department's Critical Infrastructure Protection (CIP) program as part of a government-wide effort coordinated through the President's Council on Integrity and Efficiency. The Department is expected to have a CIP program to protect the infrastructure it needs to provide services for its core missions. We examined the Department's plans for protection of its critical cyber-assets and its progress in implementing these plans since our previous review in 2000. We found that while the Department has made progress in several areas, including strengthening its CIP planning and identifying vulnerabilities in critical systems, the CIP program is still at risk primarily because of a lack of effective monitoring and resource commitment. We made several recommendations to the Department for improvement in these areas. The Department agreed with our recommendations. ("Critical Infrastructure Protection Program (CIP) - Phase II Review - Protection of Cyber Assets," ED-OIG/A11-D0001; March 28, 2003)

NETWORK INTRUSION (HACKING) INVESTIGATIONS

We conducted network intrusion investigations of the offenses against Department's computer networks, including investigations of website defacements and unauthorized access from internet protocol (IP) addresses located in several different countries. We actively participated in the FBI Inter- Agency Coordination Cell for computer crimes and other federal computer crime workgroups. We provided special computer security advisories relating to new cyber exploits and vulnerabilities to Department officials, colleges, and universities.

PMA Goal: Elimination of Fraud and Error in Student Aid Programs

The Department's student financial assistance programs disburse about $65 billion annually. The Department also manages a $267 billion loan portfolio. We direct a significant portion of our investigative and audit work to these programs, where we continue to find fraud by financial aid officials and recipients as well as weaknesses in program administration.

We issued a memorandum to the Department summarizing the schemes used by participants in the student financial assistance programs to obtain funds illegally or inappropriately. Our analysis was based on OIG audit and investigative work over the last several years, and included suggestions to assist the Department in addressing these problems.

FRAUD BY ADMINISTRATIVE AND SCHOOL OFFICIALS We investigate cases in which administrative and school officials use their positions to fraudulently obtain federal student aid moneys. Some examples of these cases follow.

The owner, registrar, director of education, and other employees at The Training Center, a computer and travel school in Michigan, were indicted for falsifying documents to illegally obtain student financial aid. The indictment included an $875,000 forfeiture to recover the funds these individuals illegally received.

Three collection agency officials associated with Unger & Associates, Inc. in Texas were sentenced to prison and each was ordered to pay restitution of over $1 million. This agency contracted with over 200 educational institutions to collect on defaulted Perkins loans; however, instead of returning the collected funds to the institutions, these officials kept the money for their personal use.

The former assistant financial aid director at Carson Newman College and her husband were sentenced to prison and ordered to pay $287,500 restitution for using a false Social Security number to submit fraudulent Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) applications. The financial aid director at Manhattan College in New York was incarcerated and ordered to pay more than $163,000 for submitting fraudulent FFEL applications. Two individuals in Indiana were indicted for forging school certifications, exceeding maximum loan limits, and conspiring to fraudulently obtain over $146,000 in FFEL funds.

The admissions director at the Hair Design School in Tennessee received a jail sentence and was ordered to pay more than $26,000 restitution for creating false GED test scores for students at the school. This crime caused the disbursement of over $100,000 in federal loans and grants to ineligible students. The former chief financial officer at LeMoyne-Owen College in Tennessee was sentenced to prison and ordered to pay $42,000 in restitution after he cashed student aid refund checks and kept the funds for himself.

Our investigation at Beacon Career Institute (BCI) in Florida revealed a major Pell Grant case that defrauded the Department of over $720,000. We found the former BCI administrator and other BCI officials created false documents to justify the disbursement of these grants. They were ordered to pay restitution totaling $1,778,472 and sentenced to prison. We also made a referral to the Immigration and Naturalization Service that led to criminal charges against the former administrator for bringing aliens into the country; he received a jail term of three years for this offense. The former administrator also used an alias to purchase the Caribbean Beauty and Technical Institute in Puerto Rico. He was charged in Miami with student aid fraud at the Institute that resulted in disbursement of over $1.7 million in Pell Grant funds. He is now incarcerated.

Our investigation of a former instructor at Piedmont College of Hair Design in South Carolina led to a guilty plea and an order to pay restitution of $27,000 for Pell Grant fraud. Her actions caused over $300,000 in Pell Grants to be given to ineligible students.

The director of foreign students and two professors at Morris Brown College in Atlanta were indicted on 113 counts for conspiring to commit student visa fraud, allowing ineligible students to receive aid. The former associate financial aid director at Central Michigan University who received approximately $26,000 in federal direct student loans by using her position to remove her financial aid suspension status from the school's computerized records was indicted for these actions. The former coordinator of the Work-Study program at Union University in Tennessee stole more than $70,000 from the program and pled guilty.

FRAUD BY STUDENT AID CONSULTANTS

Our investigation of Joseph & Associates, a financial consulting business in Illinois, led to 53 settlements and civil judgments totaling over $465,525 in the last six months. The owner of the business created false federal income tax returns to verify false income amounts that enabled ineligible students to qualify for financial aid. We disclosed over 700 students who used this service.

A joint OIG/U.S. Postal Inspection Service investigation led to the conviction of an individual in Los Angeles for student aid fraud. This individual conducted weekly seminars for parents and students, charging them approximately $300 for the programs at which he advised and assisted them in preparing student aid applications that deliberately misstated their income or dependency status. The potential loss to the government from his actions was approximately $800,000.

FRAUD BY STUDENTS

OIG special agents investigate many cases in which individuals falsify their income, commit identity theft, create false test scores, and commit other types of fraud to illegally qualify for federal student aid. A student attending Bethel College in Kansas was indicted for using another person's identity to obtain approximately $50,000 in federal student aid. A former student at Cleveland State University was indicted for using a false Social Security number and date of birth to obtain approximately $10,000 in loans and grants after defaulting on loans he received using his own identity. A former civilian Army employee in Georgia who used false Social Security numbers to fraudulently obtain student aid agreed to forfeit $30,000 in fraudulent tax refunds.

INCONSISTENT AND INACCURATE GUIDANCE

We alerted the Department that its Federal Student Aid Handbook contained guidance that could result in schools disbursing federal student aid to non-citizens who are not eligible for the aid. The Higher Education Act (HEA) requires that non-citizens must provide certain evidence from the Immigration and Naturalization Service to be eligible for student financial assistance. We found that the guidance the Department provided to schools on the interpretation of HEA's citizenship requirements was inconsistent and inaccurate. We estimated that this guidance contributed to schools nationwide disbursing approximately $5.4 million in aid to more than two thousand potentially ineligible students. We made suggestions for changes to the guidance, and the Department reported to us that it is revising the handbook and will address the issues we raised.

IMPROPER USE OF RESERVE FUNDS

Our audits have repeatedly shown that guaranty agencies have improperly excluded FFEL funds from, or failed to deposit them into, the Federal Fund (reserve funds) as required by the HEA. We have completed eight audits on this misuse of funds.

Our audit at Educational Credit Management Corporation (ECMC) found that ECMC transferred $14.6 million in reserve funds to its Operating Fund. We recommended that the Department require ECMC to return these funds plus imputed interest to its Federal Fund and reimburse the fund for any misallocated costs. ECMC disagreed with these findings. ("Educational Credit Management Corporation's Administration of the Federal Family Education Loan Program Federal and Operating Funds," ED-OIG/A05-C0014; March 18, 2003)

Our audit of excess reserve funds at ECMC found that the Department had not recalled excess reserve funds totaling about $103 million as of September 30, 2001, leaving them available for ECMC to use for unintended purposes. We recommended that the Department recall the entire $103 million as well as excess reserves in each subsequent year, and clarify its agreement with ECMC. The Department generally concurred with our findings and recommendations. ("Educational Credit Management Corporation's Administration of the Federal Family Education Loan Program Federal and Operating Funds for the period April 1, 2000 through March 31, 2001," ED-OIG/A05-D0001; March 20, 2003)

Our audit of the California Student Aid Commission (CSAC) concluded that CSAC improperly used $7.4 million of its Federal Fund for accrued administrative expenses and $4.5 million of the funds for purchases used to administer the FFEL program. We recommended that the Department require CSAC to reimburse the Federal Fund for these improper expenditures, plus imputed interest. CSAC advised us that a cash transfer was made to the Federal Fund for the lost interest, but did not agree with our other findings and recommendations. ("California Student Aid Commission's Administration of the Federal Family Education Loan Program Federal and Operating Funds," ED-OIG/A09-C0013; March 27, 2003)

STRENGTHENING ACCREDITATION STANDARDS

Our reviews at two accrediting agencies found that their standards for measuring student achievement and program length need to be strengthened. We suggested several ways that the National Accrediting Commission of Cosmetology Arts and Sciences (NACCAS) could strengthen its standards. NACCAS indicated it would refer our suggestions to its advisory committee on standards. ("National Accrediting Commission of Cosmetology Arts and Sciences' Accreditation Standards for Student Achievement and Measures of Program Length," ED-OIG/A09-C0019; December 19, 2002)

We found that the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) provided institutions with detailed guidance but did not include specific measures, giving the agency a limited ability to compare institutions' performance. We offered suggestions for enhancing SACS' standards and management controls, which SACS indicated it would forward to its board. ("Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Colleges' Accreditation Standards for Student Achievement and Program Length," ED-OIG/A09-C0018; January 17, 2003)

MEASURING CONTRACTOR PERFORMANCE

We reviewed Federal Student Aid's (FSA) Modernization Partner Agreement to determine the adequacy of the indicators used to measure contractor performance, to assess the agreement's compliance with laws and regulations, and to determine the accuracy of the costs of the products and services provided. The Modernization Partner Agreement between FSA and a contractor was developed to meet statutory requirements for FSA to improve service, reduce costs, and integrate information systems. FSA has obligated nearly $244 million to this Agreement. We found that FSA had not completed an annual review of the Agreement to ensure that it continues to represent the best value for products and services. The Department generally concurred with our findings and recommendations. ("FSA's Modernization Partner Agreement," ED-OIG/A07-B0008; November 20, 2002)

Other Activities

SECURITY

OIG continues to actively review the Department's security efforts beyond the IT arena. We completed several reviews, including an analysis of our Department safety and security survey. We compiled responses to the survey and provided a comprehensive report to the Department, requesting a response regarding certain issue areas prior to publishing the final survey. ("Results of the 2002 Department of Education Safety and Security Survey," ED-OIG/II3-D0006; January 2, 2003)

In addition, we completed a review of certain contractor personnel working in the Department who did not have proper security clearances appropriate to the work they performed, and issued a memorandum to the Department. Our review demonstrated the need for the Department to systematically implement its new contractor security clearance policy, which was in draft form at the time of our review. The policy will require personnel security screenings and risk-level determinations to ensure that contractors have clearances appropriate to the work they will perform. ("Clearances for eSource Contract Personnel," ED-OIG/II3-D0005; January 24, 2003)

We also requested that the Department establish a Building Security Committee for one of its buildings, as required by the General Services Administration, to ensure that safety and security issues are made known to the proper officials. The Department has appointed a chairman for the committee. ("Review of the Mary E.

Switzer Building Security Committee," ED-OIG/II3-D0003; December 2, 2002) We will continue our efforts to strengthen the security of the Department's workforce and physical infrastructure.

NONFEDERAL AUDITS

Participants in Department programs are required to submit annual audits performed by independent public accountants (IPAs). We perform quality control reviews (QCRs) of audits conducted by IPAs to assess the quality of nonfederal audits. We completed 52 QCRs of audits conducted by 47 different IPAs, or offices of firms with multiple offices. We concluded that 34 (65%) were acceptable, 15 (29%) were technically deficient, and 3 (6%) were substandard. We also referred three IPAs to the appropriate State Boards of Accountancy and the American Institute (or State Society) of Certified Public Accountants for possible disciplinary action for substandard work. These IPAs were referred for work reported in a prior semiannual report.

<sup>1</sup>Action memoranda notify the Department's management of a serious condition or issue requiring immediate attention that we identified in an on-going assignment, when there is a strong likelihood that waiting until the report's issuance to notify the ED action official would result in the loss of an opportunity to prevent or curtail significant harm to the federal interest. They are not posted on our website.

<sup>2</sup>Alert memoranda are prepared when a serious condition is identified outside of the agreed-upon objectives of an on-going assignment, or while doing work not related to an on-going assignment (when an audit report will not be issued). They are also used during the conduct of an audit of an external entity when a serious condition is identified at the Departmental level and needs to be forwarded to an ED action official for his/her immediate action. Alert memoranda are not posted on our website.

<sup>3</sup>Management information and special project reports provide management with information that can be useful in carrying out program activities.

<sup>4</sup>Closeout letters are issued to provide written notification to auditees of audit closure when the decision is made to close an assignment without issuing an audit report. Closeout letters are not posted on our website.

<sup>1</sup>Questioned costs are costs that are questioned because of either an alleged violation of a provision of a law, regulation, contract, grant, cooperative agreement, or other agreement or document governing the expenditure of funds or a finding that the expenditure of funds for the intended purpose is unnessary or unreasonable. Other recommended recoveries are included in questioned costs. Other recommended recoveries are funds recommended for reasons other than questioned or unsupported costs. The category is usually used for findings involving recovery of outstanding funds and/or revenue earned on Federal funds. The amount also includes any interest due ED resulting from the auditee's use of funds. Amounts reported for this category are combined with questioned costs for reporting in the IG's Semiannual Report to Congress.

* Arrest refers to filing of criminal complaint, indictments include informations, and convictions include pretrial diversions and nolo pleas.

** This Semiannual Report to Congress No. 46, October 1, 2002 - March 31, 2003, has incorrect information on the action involving the Florida Institute for Workforce Innovation (FIWI). The OIG investigation of FIWI resulted in an agreement whereby FIWI agreed to repay $285,568 in federal vocational rehabilitation funds. Also, page 25, Table 7 incorrectly stated that Dr. Bruce Waite was sentenced on October 21, 2002 for embezzling vocational rehabilitation funds in the amount $285,568. No legal action of any type was brought against Dr. Waite.
