2008 PRICING

BRAVE NEW SHIPPING WORLD

FYI

Express Mail still includes merchandise insurance against loss, damage or rifling up to a maximum liability of $100.

Great products. Great service. And now, competitive pricing. Why would anyone want to ship with anybody else?

On May 12, the U.S. Postal Service adjusts prices for shipping services — Express Mail, Priority Mail, Parcel Select, Parcel Return Service and international mail. For the first time, our pricing includes commercial volume and contract prices, rebates, online price reductions and other new incentives.

This special edition of MailPro is your resource for information about 2008 pricing. As the Postal Service enters this new pricing world, we're committed to being America's shipper of choice.

These new pricing incentives are possible as a result of a change in federal law — the Postal Law of 2006 — that enables USPS to better compete in the shipping market. Here are some of the highlights:

- Express Mail, premium overnight delivery, is switching to an industry standard, zone-based pricing system, resulting in lower prices for closer destinations. Customers also will enjoy a 3 percent price reduction by purchasing Express Mail online or through corporate accounts. Up to an additional 7 percent price reduction is available for those who meet quarterly volume minimums.
- Priority Mail, expedited delivery at economical prices, will be available at an average 3.5 percent savings to customers who use PC postage or meet other requirements.
- Parcel Select, the Postal Service "last mile" advantage of delivery to every door, will feature pricing and volume incentives for large- and medium-sized shippers.
- Parcel Return Service, an easy and convenient way for customers to return items to businesses, will move entirely to a weight-based pricing system, resulting in significant price reductions for lighter packages.

"These innovative published pricing incentives will make our products more attractive to all shippers, especially small businesses," said Postmaster General John Potter. "We're pricing our products to sell in today's highly competitive shipping market. In the near future, the Postal Service plans to explore contract pricing for larger customers similar to others in the market."

In addition to price changes for shipping services,

Make the Postal Service your first choice for expedited shipping services.

prices for mailing services also will be adjusted May 12. The price for a 1-ounce First-Class Mail stamp will increase from 41 to 42 cents. Prices for Standard Mail, Periodicals, Package Services (including Parcel Post) and extra services also will change.

For mailing services, the average increase by class of mail is at or below the rate of inflation as measured by the Consumer Price Index.

Consistent with the new law, prices for mailing services will be adjusted annually each May. The Postal Service plans to provide 90-day notice before these price changes each year.

The new prices also are available at usps.com/prices.

Forever Stamp Will Still Get Your Letter Delivered

"The Postal Service issued the Forever Stamp April 12, 2007, for consumers to ease the transition during price changes," said Postmaster General John Potter. "We encourage Americans to buy Forever Stamps now for 41 cents, because like the name suggests, they are good forever." The price goes up to 42 cents on May 12.

The Postal Service has sold over 6 billion Forever Stamps and will have an additional 5 billion in stock to meet the expected demand before the May 12 price change.

HIGHLIGHTS OF CHANGES TO DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL MAILING SERVICES

For a "snapshot" of First-Class Mail International prices and shapes — see page 13.

On Feb. 11, 2008, the Governors of the Postal Service announced new prices and product features for mailing services to be effective May 12, 2008. New mailing standards to support the price changes are being implemented as well. There are only a few classification changes, First-Class Mail International and Periodicals limited circulation, which are described below.

On March 4, 2008, the Governors of the Postal Service announced new prices and product features for shipping services with prices effective May 12. The Postal Accountability and Enhancement Act of 2006 gives the Postal Service increased flexibility in pricing, product enhancements and product introductions for shipping services. The product and mailing standards changes are described beginning on page 5.

Mailing Services

Mailing services consist of:

- First-Class Mail
- First-Class Mail International
- Periodicals
- Standard Mail
- Package Services Mail
 - Bound Printed Matter
 - Library Mail
 - Media Mail
 - Parcel Post
- Extra Services and Fees

First-Class Mail

The additional-ounce price for all retail letters, flats and packages remains 17 cents, and for automation-rate letters it remains 12.5 cents. We reduced the additional-ounce price for presort-rate (nonautomation) letters to 12.5 cents. By aligning automation-rate and presort-rate additional ounce prices to 12.5 cents, we eliminate extra mail preparation work by customers and simplify the postage verification procedures during acceptance. This also results in some relatively large price reductions for presort-rate letters weighing 2 to 3.5 ounces. To continue to encourage efficient automation mail preparation, we maintain the 2.2 cents difference between 5- and 3-digit automation-rate letter prices, and provide slight reductions in the prices for 5- and 3-digit automation-rate flats. The surcharge for retail and presort-rate nonmachinable letters increases to 20 cents, and still applies to all nonmachinable letters weighing up to 3.5 ounces.

First-Class Mail International

Shaped-based pricing is introduced with separate prices for letters, large envelopes (flats), and packages (small packets). This change aligns the price structure with the domestic First-Class Mail structure implemented May 2007. The weight limit for letters will be 3.5 ounces, and the weight limit for large envelopes and packages remains 64 ounces. The nonmachinable surcharge increases to 20 cents and will now apply to all letters weighing up to 3.5 ounces (the same as domestic First-Class Mail letters). We expand the total number of country price groups to nine — aligning the First-Class Mail International price groups with the price groups for Priority Mail International and Express Mail International.

The size standards for First-Class Mail International letters, and large envelopes have changed. See page 13.

As with domestic First-Class Mail, there are separate First-Class Mail International price categories for each mail shape: postcards, letters, flats (large envelopes) and packages (small packets). Unlike domestic First-Class Mail, however, the prices for postcards and 1-ounce letters have the same price to each individual country. Determining the price category of a mailpiece (letter, flat or package) depends solely on the physical dimensions of the piece without regard to address placement. When initially measuring a mailpiece to determine the price category, the longest of the three dimensions is generally considered the length with flats and packages. If the mailpiece is a "letter," the length is the dimension parallel to the delivery address as read. Confirm that it has a minimum length of 5-1/2 inches, and if it is a machinable or nonmachinable letter due to aspect ratio.

Except for the minimum size for mailing (5-1/2 inches by 3-1/2 inches), the maximum weight for large envelopes (64 ounces), all other standards for First-Class Mail International letters and flats are the same as domestic First-Class Mail. Notice 3-S, First-Class Mail Shape-Based Pricing Template, can be used with First-Class Mail International mailpieces to determine the maximum physical size for letters and flats, as well as to check the aspect ratio of letters. Notice 3-S is available from your Post Office.

We are revising the IMM to reflect changes to First-Class Mail International.

Periodicals

Nearly all Periodicals will experience a modest price increase near the rate of inflation. There is one minor classification change: Beginning May 12, qualifying issues of Periodicals publications having a limited mailed circulation will receive a 5 percent discount off the total Outside-County postage (excluding postage for advertising pounds, Ride-Along pieces and Repositionable Notes (RPNs)). The new standards apply to all publications other than those authorized as Classroom, Nonprofit, and Science of Agriculture. Issues will qualify if eligible copies are mailed at In-County rates and the total number of Outside-County copies mailed for that issue is fewer than 5,000. The discount is not available for commingled nonsubscriber or nonrequester copies in excess of the 10 percent allowance in DMM 707.7.

FYI

New postage statements can be found at usps.com/prices.

Standard Mail

The price changes for letters and flats reflect our decision to moderate the increases for catalogs and other flats. In addition, we have reduced the pound price for flats. In some instances, more highly presorted catalogs weighing more than 3.3 ounces will see modest price reductions. This reduction also encourages catalog mailers to add content to their catalogs.

Standard Mail parcels and Not Flat-Machinables (NFM)s experience larger price increases. This reflects the higher costs of processing parcels as compared to letters and flats. The new prices move toward providing parcels with better cost coverage and encourage efficient dropship behavior by increasing the incentive to take parcels to the destination delivery unit.

With the delivery point sequencing of letters, and with the expected implementation of the Flats Sequencing System (FSS), the relationships among the prices for flats will remain important. There are modest increases for walk-sequence saturation and high density Standard Mail.

Within Standard Mail, eligible nonprofit organizations continue to pay prices that by law must be 40 percent lower on average than the prices for regular Standard Mail.

Package Services

Overall, there are modest price changes to Inter-BMC/ASF Parcel Post. We have reduced the nonmachinable surcharges for both Intra- and Inter-BMC/ASF parcels.

Bound Printed Matter (BPM) has two shape categories — flats and parcels. The percentage increase for BPM is lower for flats than parcels to encourage more flat-shaped catalogs.

Library Mail and Media Mail have prices reflecting the requirements of the law. We have increased the prices by 4.5 percent.

Extra Services and Other Fees

Extra services includes Post Office Boxes and caller service fees, Certified Mail, Return Receipts, Delivery Confirmation and Signature Confirmation services, Registered Mail and insurance. It also included ancillary services such as address correction notification fees. A complete list of prices and fees can be found starting on page 43.

Certified Mail prices increase by 5 cents, and the Electronic Return Receipt price increases 15 cents. There are no changes to any of the Delivery Confirmation service fees, and we continue to offer a no-fee electronic option included in the price for certain Priority Mail and Parcel Select destination entry items. To encourage better address hygiene, the first two notices for One Code ACS for First-Class Mail letters remain no-fee. One Code ACS “additional notices” for First-Class Mail letters and the first two notices for Standard Mail letters increase by 1 cent. There are no changes to the prices of any of the manual and electronic address correction notification fees. For Confirm, the new prices retain the existing unlimited scan option, though the platinum tier receives a larger increase to reflect the changing subscriber base.

There are minimal increases to Post Office Box and Caller Service fees, and all Post Office Boxes and Caller Services maintain their current fee group. New fees apply only to new rentals and renewals. Current Post Office Box holders, and customers paying Caller Service fees, are not required to pay the new fees until their current rental period expires and it is time to renew. Post Office Box and Callers Service fees may be paid for up to two semi-annual periods at a time, for example up to one year in advance.

Annual mailing and permit fees increase to $180 and all annual account maintenance fees will be $565. The quarterly fee for high-volume qualified Business Reply Mail letters increases to $1,855. Remember, new fees apply only to first-time payments and renewals. Customers with current fees paid will pay the new fees at renewal. Annual fees may be renewed only for the next 12 months and only during the last 60 days of the current service period.

International extra services fees maintain their correlation to the fees for those services that are similar to domestic extra services (see page 57).

- Express Mail
- Priority Mail
- Parcel Select
 - Parcel Select Destination Entry
 - Parcel Select Inter-BMC/ASF - BMC and OBMC Presort
 - Parcel Select Barcoded Intra- and Inter-BMC
- Parcel Return Service
- Global Express Guaranteed (GXG)

- International Priority Airmail Service
- International Surface Air Lift Service

We are revising the Domestic Mail Manual (DMM) to reflect changes to the following shipping services:

- Express Mail
- Priority Mail
- Parcel Select
- Parcel Return Service

We are revising the IMM to reflect changes to the following shipping services:

- Global Express Guaranteed (GXG)
- Express Mail International
- Priority Mail International
- International Priority Airmail Service
- International Surface Air Lift Service

Express Mail

With the exception of the flat-rate envelope, Express Mail prices are no longer based solely on weight. Instead, Express Mail will offer zone-based pricing based on weight and distance – consistent with standard industry practices. On average, Express Mail prices will increase 3 percent with larger increases for heavier pieces and pieces destined for Zones 5 through 8 (mail transported more than 600 miles). Zone-based pricing also results in lower prices for closer destinations, especially items weighing up to 15 pounds, out to zone 3 (within 300 miles). The Express Mail Flat Rate Envelope retail price will be $16.50 for material mailed in a flat-rate envelope regardless of the weight or distance traveled. The Sunday/holiday premium introduced March 3 remains $12.50.

Express Mail Commercial Base Prices

We introduce commercial base prices that are 3 percent below retail prices for all zone-based Express Mail and $16 for the Express Mail Flat Rate Envelope. Commercial base prices will be available to customers who use Express Mail Corporate Accounts (EMCA), including Federal Agency Accounts and Click-N-Ship, and to customers who are registered end-users of PC Postage such as Endicia, Pitney Bowes and Stamps.com, producing individual shipping labels. We will be working with other vendors to expand the availability as we authorize additional systems. Commercial base price reductions apply to postage only, and not to extra services such as additional insurance, and the Sunday/holiday delivery premium.

To encourage volume growth, beginning July 1, 2008, commercial volume rebates will also be available, in addition to the lower commercial base prices, to customers whose account volume exceeds a minimum threshold.

- Quarterly minimum of 125 pieces: 2 percent additional below retail
- Quarterly minimum of 438 pieces: 4.5 percent additional below retail
- Quarterly minimum of 938 pieces: 7 percent additional below retail

Rebates are credited to each qualifying mail owner's account, such as EMCA, Federal Agency Account and registered end-users of PC Postage, each postal quarter. Rebates are intended for end-users, therefore, third-party consolidators and postage resellers are not eligible.

The first rebate quarter begins July 1, 2008, and Express Mail pieces mailed between May 12 and June 30 will not be eligible for additional rebate consideration. Rebates will be based on the volumes mailed during a postal quarter as follows:

- July 1 through Sept. 30
- Oct. 1 through Dec. 31
- Jan. 1 through March 31
- April 1 through June 30

Other changes to Express Mail include the elimination of separate price schedules for "Post Office-to-Post Office" and "Custom Designed." There will be a single price list for all Express Mail (see page 14), and except for the flat-rate envelope, all other

FYI

"Flat-rate" doesn't always mean lowest price. As with the Priority Mail Flat Rate Boxes, with zone-based Express Mail pricing, there will be three prices lower than the Express Mail Flat Rate Envelope.

FYI

The new Express Mail commercial base prices are 3 percent lower than retail prices.

commercial base prices are 3 percent less than the listed retail price. We will continue to notify addressees of the first delivery attempt of an Express Mail item, and we will provide a second reminder notice on the third day. We will no longer make a second delivery attempt unless requested by the addressee. The Post Office-to-Post Office service option will be replaced with a "Hold for Pickup" option.

Priority Mail

Priority Mail retail prices are increasing by 6 percent on average, with individual prices increasing from zero to 10 percent. The price increases tend to be larger for relatively heavy pieces and for pieces that are transported long distances.

The Priority Mail Flat Rate Envelope retail price, as well as the unzoned 1-pound rate, will be $4.80. The two regular flat-rate boxes will be $9.80 at retail. The large flat-rate box, introduced March 3, remains $12.95 to domestic addresses and $10.95 to APO/FPO destination addresses.

Priority Mail Commercial Base Prices

Commercial base prices will be available to customers who use Click-N-Ship, customers who are registered end-users of PC Postage producing individual shipping labels and customers using permit imprint manifest mailing systems (MMS) with electronic confirmation services. If your MMS does not provide routing barcode information separately, or included in a concatenated barcode, it must do so by Oct. 1, 2008, to maintain commercial base price eligibility.

See Publication 91, Confirmation Services Technical Guide, at pe.usps.com, click Additional Publications.

Commercial base prices apply to postage only, and not extra services such as insurance and pickup-on-demand service. Priority Mail with postage paid with one of the previous methods retains no-fee — (electronic) — Delivery Confirmation service.

Priority Mail commercial base prices are 1 percent to 11 percent lower, depending on weight and zone, than retail prices, and are 2.2 percent on average lower than Priority Mail prices prior to May 12. Unlike Express Mail, which has a uniform percentage off for commercial mail, there is a separate Priority Mail commercial base price list (see page 22). The commercial base prices for Priority Mail flat-rate packaging is as follows:

- Flat-rate envelope — $4.75
- Regular flat-rate boxes — $9.30
- Large flat-rate box — domestic address $12.50 and APO/FPO destination addresses $10.50

Parcel Select

Parcel Select is the Postal Service's ground product for high-volume shippers. Parcels are primarily for destination entry, such as Parcel Select-Destination Delivery Unit (DDU), Parcel Select-Destination Sectional Center Facility (DSCF) and Parcel Select-Destination Bulk Mail Center (DBMC). Parcel Select will now include Inter-BMC/ASF parcels prepared and mailed at Origin BMC (OBMC) Presort and BMC Presort, as well as machinable parcels prepared for barcoded discounts. Parcel Select prices are increasing by 5.7 percent on average, and priced to encourage Parcel Select shippers to enter parcels at DDU's.

To encourage volume growth and continued use of Parcel Select, beginning June 1, 2009, we will offer loyalty and growth incentives to large-volume shippers. These annual rebates will be available to shippers whose total annual Parcel Select postage is at least $5 million and whose Parcel Select volume increases over their total volume for the previous year. These shippers will receive rebates based on all Parcel Select-DDU volumes. Customers whose Parcel Select volume grows by more than 10 percent will be eligible for an additional rebate applied only to qualified incremental Parcel Select DDU volume (see DMM 456.2.0).

Parcel Return Service

Parcel Return Service (PRS) is the Postal Service's parcel return ground product for high-volume shippers. Customers bring parcel returns to select return delivery units (RDUs), or any return bulk mail center (RBMC). The overall average price increase is 2.2 percent; however, the new structure prices RDU parcels by weight, which results in a decrease to lighter-weight parcels. RDU prices are not subject to balloon rate criteria. RBMC prices will continue to be based on weight and zone and the balloon rate criteria.

International Mail

In May 2007, we completed a major restructuring of our international services by streamlining the international mail offerings and more closely aligning each international service with its domestic counterpart. At this time, only a limited number of structural changes to the international product line are being made in order to continue the alignment with our domestic services.

FYI

Customers interested in pursuing International Mail business options can contact USPS Global Business Management Executive Director Frank Cebello at frank.a.cebello@usps.gov.

Global Express Guaranteed (GXG)

Published GXG prices will increase 5.2 percent on average. We continue to offer a 10 percent reduction, now referred to as commercial base prices, for customers who use Click-N-Ship and for customers who are registered users of PC Postage.

Express Mail International

Prices for Express Mail International will increase by 6 percent on average. Customers using Click-N-Ship and customers who are registered users of PC Postage will continue to be eligible for commercial base prices 8 percent below retail prices.

We are expanding commercial base prices to customers using USPS-provided Global Shipping Software (GSS) for mail preparation and customs-related functions and paying postage through an EMCA or permit imprint manifest mailing systems. Permit imprint does not qualify for any service or postage guarantees.

In addition, we are offering commercial volume prices for customers who pay postage through an EMCA, use GSS and meet minimum volume or revenue levels:

- Annualized minimum of 1,000 pieces or $20,000 postage: 10 percent below retail
- Annualized minimum of 3,000 pieces or $60,000 postage: 12 percent below retail

A customer will receive commercial base prices during the first postal quarter of mailing. Thereafter, the incentive for each postal quarter is determined by the actual annualized volume or postage paid for Express Mail International mailed in the previous full postal quarter.

We will continue to offer additional volume pricing through customized agreements.

Priority Mail International

Priority Mail International prices will increase by 6.1 percent on average. Price increases vary by country group and weight increments. The flat-rate envelope, 4-pound weight limit, will be $9.95 to Canada and Mexico and $11.95 to all other countries. The regular flat-rate boxes increase to $23.95 to Canada and Mexico and $38.95 to all other countries. The large flat-rate box introduced March 3 remains $29.95 to Canada and Mexico and $49.95 to all other countries. The weight limit for all flat-rate boxes to all countries remains 20 pounds. Customers using Click-N-Ship or PC Postage will continue to be eligible for commercial base prices 5 percent below retail prices.

We are expanding commercial base prices to customers paying postage through a permit imprint manifest mailing systems and GSS for mail preparation and customs-related functions. We will continue to offer volume pricing through customized agreements.

International Commercial Services

International Priority Airmail (IPA) meets the needs of international business mailers for a service that is faster and more economical than regular First-Class Mail International. Prices for IPA increase by 12.5 percent and will continue to be calculated by piece and pound. There are new prices, but the pricing structure is unchanged. Incentives based on volume offered through customized agreements will continue to be available for IPA customers.

International Surface Air Lift (ISAL) provides expedited dispatch and transportation for all types of First-Class Mail International items. ISAL prices increase by 21.3 percent. Published prices for ISAL Direct Shipment are eliminated and only available through customized agreements.

IPA and ISAL will continue to have per-piece, full-service per pound, and drop-ship per pound published prices.

We are introducing new country price groups for First-Class Mail International Airmail M-Bags, direct sacks to one addressee. These changes reflect the nine country price groups for First-Class Mail International. We will continue to have full-service and drop-ship prices for M-Bags (see IMM 260).

The classification changes and new pricing for M-Bags, IPA, and ISAL enhance efficiency and align the products with each other.

When were the prices for shipping services announced?

We announced the prices on March 12.

Does the price change include any mail classification changes?

Only a few. In First-Class Mail International, we are introducing shape-based pricing to align with our price structure for domestic First-Class Mail. In Periodicals, we are introducing a new pricing for “limited circulation” publications.

Are my Forever Stamps valid for the new First-Class Mail letter price?

Yes. The postage value of the Forever Stamp is always the First-Class Mail single-piece 1-ounce letter price in effect on the day of use. Forever Stamps purchased through May 11 will be worth 42 cents postage on May 12. Forever Stamps affixed to 1-ounce letters do not require additional postage. As always, customers will need additional postage for letters weighing over 1 ounce, letters subject to the nonmachinable surcharge and mailpieces that are larger than letter size.

I have nondenominated American Flag stamps. Will I need additional postage?

Yes. The postage value of the nondenominated American Flag stamp is 41 cents. Any mailpiece subject to a higher price will require additional postage.

How much is the Forever Stamp?

Effective May 12, the Forever Stamp will sell for 42 cents and will be available in booklets of 20 for $8.40. Sheets of 18 stamps will be available from our Automated Postal Centers (APCs) and at select automated teller machines (ATMs) for $7.56.

Are Forever Stamps available in coils or other formats?

No, but we have other 42-cent stamps available in coils and panes.

I have several types of stamps with no denomination. How can I determine the value of these stamps?

See Quick Service Guide 604a on Postal Explorer at pe.usps.com. It lists nondenominated stamps, stamped cards and stamped envelopes and the postage value.

Can I use the Forever Stamp for international mail?

Yes, but keep in mind that the postage value of the Forever Stamp is the domestic First-Class Mail letter price in effect on the day of use. Through May 11 it is 41 cents, and beginning May 12 it is 42 cents. Since all international prices are higher, you will need additional postage.

Will the price of the Breast Cancer Research Semipostal Stamp change?

No, the price remains 55 cents. The “postage value” of a semipostal stamp is the domestic First-Class Mail single-piece 1-ounce letter price that is in effect on the day of use.

Can I apply my 41-cent stamps toward the purchase of 42-cent and other stamps?

No. Stamps cannot be exchanged unless mistakes were made when originally purchased, or your stamps were defective when purchased. Post Offices have ample supplies of 1- and 2-cent “make-up” stamps. Remember, the postage value of Forever Stamps is the domestic First-Class Mail letter price that is in effect on the day of use, so no make-up stamps are needed for them.

FYI

Notice 123 "Ratefold," is now the new "Pricelist," with international as well as domestic pricing and fee information. Go to usps.com/prices.

I see there soon will be a 62-cent stamp. Is this a new price category?

No it is not a new price category. The 62-cent stamp offers the convenience of paying postage for 1-ounce nonmachinable letters with a single stamp. The stamp will be available May 19.

Why are prices going up again?

The costs of doing business — for things like fuel, transportation, utilities and health care benefits — have continued to increase. Without an increase to keep up with rising costs, we face significant losses. Many people do not know that postal operations are not subsidized by tax dollars. We rely on the sale of postal products and services to cover our operating costs.

USPS raised prices last May. Why another increase 12 months later?

The new postal law calls for predictable price changes and includes a mechanism for mailing services prices to increase at the rate of inflation each year as measured by the Consumer Price Index. Rather than larger increases every several years, the new process will provide smaller, more predictable price changes.

Will the fees for Repositionable Notes (RPNs) increase?

No. The fees remain:

- First-Class Mail – $0.005 each.
- Periodicals and Standard Mail – $0.015 each.

Will price increases for shipping services mail also be capped at 2.9 percent?

No, prices for shipping services products are not subject to a price cap. However, there is a price floor: each product must cover its costs, and in aggregate the shipping services products must generate sufficient net contribution to cover 5.5 percent of our overhead.

First-Class MailWill there be an increase to the price for additional ounces?

No, the price for additional ounces for retail (single-piece) First-Class Mail letters, large envelopes and packages remains 17 cents for each ounce.

Will the price for additional ounces for pre-sorted First-Class Mail letters decrease?

Yes, the price decreases to 12.5 cents. The new price aligns the additional-ounce rate for automation and presorted letters.

Is the nonmachinable surcharge increasing?

Yes, the nonmachinable surcharge for First-Class Mail letters will increase to 20 cents. Keep in mind, the nonmachinable surcharge applies to letters only. It does not apply to large envelopes and packages.

Will the price for postcards increase?

Yes, the new price will be 27 cents for eligible postcards. Stamped cards will increase to 30 cents each.

Along with the price increase, will there be any changes to First-Class Mail classification?

Yes, we're introducing shape-based pricing with separate prices for international letters, flats and packages. This includes a 3.5 ounce maximum weight for letters and other shape characteristics such as flexibility standards for flats. This change aligns First-Class Mail International with domestic First-Class Mail.

What type of barcode is required for the parcel rate?

On First-Class Mail parcels, mailers may use a 5-digit UCC/EAN Code 128 or a POSTNET barcode.

Will the Delivery Confirmation fee increase for First-Class Mail parcels?

No.

Will OneCode ACS service for First-Class Mail letters still be available at no charge?

Yes, for the first two notices. Additional notices are 6 cents each.

Is the Move Update standard changing for automation- and presort-rate First-Class Mail?

Yes. However, that change is separate from the pricing change, and takes effect Nov. 23. See the January/February MailPro at usps.com/mailpro for information.

First-Class Mail InternationalIn addition to shape-based First-Class Mail International prices, are there any other changes?

Yes. The number of individual country price groups is expanded to nine — aligning the First-Class Mail International price groups with the price groups for Priority Mail International and Express Mail International.

With separate prices for First-Class Mail International packages, can these packages now be insured?

No. However, you can insure packages sent by Priority Mail International service (other than in the flat-rate envelope).

FYI

Save with Postal Service packaging. Variety of sizes. Available online or at your local Post Office.

Is there a change to the nonmachinable surcharge for First-Class Mail International letters?

Yes. The nonmachinable surcharge applies to First-Class Mail International letters, regardless of weight, just as it does in domestic First-Class Mail. The new price will be 20 cents, in addition to postage. The nonmachinable surcharge applies to letters only.

PeriodicalsAre there any classification or price eligibility changes?

For eligible publications, a new limited-circulation discount is available on qualifying Outside-County copies. The discount is 5 percent.

Will the 5 percent discount for limited-circulation publications apply to the bundle and container charges?

Yes. The 5 percent discount applies to the total Outside-County postage, excluding postage for advertising pounds, ride-along pieces and RPNs.

Will the fees associated with Periodicals mail change?

Yes. Periodicals fees will be: original entry $510, re-entry $60, additional entry $80, news agent registry $50.

Where can I find a listing of all the new Periodicals prices?

All new prices are available online at usps.com/prices.

Will In-County Periodicals be subject to bundle and container prices?

No. Bundle and containers prices apply to Outside-County copies only.

Is the Ride-Along rate still available?

Yes. The Periodicals Ride-Along rate will be $0.159 each.

PROPOSED NEW STANDARDS FOR INTELLIGENT MAIL BARCODES AVAILABLE

An advance copy of the Federal Register notice proposing the use of Intelligent Mail barcodes on automation mailings of letters and flats was released April 16, and is available on Postal Explorer (pe.usps.com). This notice includes revised mailing standards for the use of Intelligent Mail barcodes effective May 2009 concurrent with the date that we implement the mailing services price change.

The comment period will extend 30 days from the date the notice appears in the Federal Register. When this issue of MailPro went to press, the notice still had not appeared in the Federal Register. We encourage mailers to review and comment on our proposal as soon as possible. Mailers may submit additional comments any time within the comment period.

On Jan. 7, 2008, we published in the Federal Register (Volume 73, Number 4) an advance notice of our intention to require the use of Intelligent Mail barcodes on all letters and flats mailed at automation prices as of January 2009. We presented our Intelligent Mail vision and asked for your comments. We described two options for using Intelligent Mail barcodes: the basic option and the full-service option. In this proposed rule, we have summarized comments received in response to the Jan. 7, notice and published our revised mailing standards for the use of Intelligent Mail barcodes.

FREE AND GREEN

A pilot program launched by the Postal Service lets customers recycle small electronics and inkjet cartridges by mailing them free of charge.

The "Mail Back" program makes it easier for customers to discard used or obsolete small electronics in an environmentally responsible way. Customers use free envelopes found in 1,500 Post Offices to mail back inkjet cartridges, PDAs, BlackBerry devices, digital cameras, iPods and MP3 players — without having to pay for postage.

Postage is paid for by Clover Technologies Group, a nationally recognized company that recycles, remanufactures and remarkets inkjet cartridges, laser cartridges and small electronics.

"This program is one more way the Postal Service is empowering consumers to go green," said Anita Bizzotto, chief marketing officer and executive vice president for the Postal Service.

The free, postage-paid Mail Back envelopes can be found on displays in Post Office lobbies. There is no limit to the number of envelopes customers may take.

The pilot is set for 10 areas across the country, including Washington, DC, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Diego.

The Postal Service recycles 1 million tons of paper, plastic and other materials annually. Last year, USPS generated more than $7.5 million in savings through recycling and waste prevention programs.
