5.) Liberty

Liberty Digital, Inc. (“Liberty Digital”), a subsidiary of Liberty Media Corporation,⁷ holds an approximate 10 percent interest in MTVi Group, Inc. (“MTVi”), which controls a number of low power television (“LPTV”) licenses. However, Liberty’s indirect ownership interest in the above LPTV stations is not attributable. A division of Viacom International Inc. is the single majority shareholder in MTVi, holding an approximate 90 percent interest. In any event, the Commission expressly declined to apply the multiple ownership and cable cross-ownership restrictions to LPTV service. See An Inquiry into the Future Role of Low Power Television Broadcasting and Television Translators in the National Telecommunications System, 51 R.R.2d 476, at ¶¶ 83-95(1982).

Liberty Media holds a non-attributable interest in USA Networks, Inc. (“USAi”), which is acquiring an attributable interest in three television stations in Puerto Rico. Two members of Liberty Media’s Board of Directors also serve on USAi’s Board of Directors. The Liberty Media directors are insulated from involvement in all matters relating to the Puerto Rico television stations.

Liberty holds a non-attributable minority interest (approximately 3.3 percent) in Emmis Communications Corp. (“Emmis”). Emmis owns multiple radio and television station licenses in the United States.

Finally, Liberty also holds non-attributable minority interests in Time Warner, Inc. (“TWI”) and The News Corporation Limited (“News”), each of which holds indirect ownership interests in one or more television stations.

To the best of Telemundo’s knowledge, no other parties hold attributable interests in other broadcast stations.

⁷ As indicated in Exhibit 5, Liberty TelemundoNet, Inc., an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Liberty Media Corporation (which together with Liberty TelemundoNet, Inc., is referred to herein as “Liberty”), does not hold an attributable interest in Telemundo. Nevertheless, information is provided herein concerning Liberty’s interests in certain other broadcast properties.
