Now Available: Advance Reading Copies of the Office of Global Development Alliances' Recent Report

Below please find the link for an "Advance Reading Copy" of GDA's recent report: "The Global Development Alliance: Public-Private Alliances for Transformational Development", commissioned by Administrator Andrew Natsios. The report has two purposes. First, it introduces the GDA business model and the global context for public-private alliances. It also chronicles the achievements of the GDA business model by showcasing 22 alliances covering such diverse topics as cocoa, coffee, water, labor standards, vaccines, microfinance, rule of law, democracy, the environment, malaria prevention, diamonds, and working with the extractive industry. He writes: "I believe that 10 years from now a strong alliance-building component will remain central part of USAID and of the development community at large. I will consider that a success." If you have comments about the report or if you'd like to order copies of the report in hard copy, please send an email to the GDA mailbox at gda@usaid.gov
