Shuttle System Route Map

July 1 through Labor Day, Glacier National Park's new Going-to-the-Sun Road shuttle provides free transportation to locations along the road, and between Fish Creek Campground and Apgar locations. On the Lake McDonald Valley route, 12-person buses run every 15 minutes between stops. On the St. Mary and Apgar routes, larger buses run every 30 minutes between stops. Hours of operation for each route are indicated in the map legend below. Guided interpretive tours are available through park concessioners.

Shuttle Tips and Travel Ideas

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT

Riding the shuttle is very similar to riding in your car, except you don't have to worry about keeping your eyes on the road and can enjoy the Glacier experience with other riders.

In keeping with the historic nature of the Going-to-the-Sun Road, shuttle stop infrastructure is limited to signs. Be prepared for possible changes in weather while you wait at stops.

Unexpected delays may occasionally impact arrival and departure times.

ARE YOU PREPARED?

Use the shuttle for day trips on the Going-to-the-Sun Road, but remember to take:

- A day pack to hold your stuff.
- Proper clothing (including rain gear) for fickle mountain weather. Layers work best.
- Proper footwear.
- Water, snacks, and/or a lunch.
- The Waterton-Glacier Guide for easy on-the-spot information.
- Sunscreen, hat, and sunglasses.
- Bear spray.
- Camera.

SUGGESTED DAY HIKES

Due to limited parking, the following popular day hikes can best be accessed using Glacier's shuttle. The Waterton-Glacier Guide contains more "shuttle friendly" hikes and information, including mileages.
