Miss Margret Clark, it is with a heavy harte that I seate my self to write you a few lines Consurning your brother John. He was with me all the time since he left home. Him and (me) messed together and slep together all the time and when he was sick I took the best care of him that I Could. He had gained his strength just before the harde battle of Murfreeboro was faught and we marched together all the time. In fact we was just Like brothers. John was a good soldier and the boys all morne the loss of him. We slep together the night before the battle on sum seader bushes that we gáthered to ceap us oute of the mud. We was not allowed any fire at all and we had no blankets. They was left behinde with the wagons and it was very Cold that night and we Could not Sleepe hardly any and he told me that if he got killed he wanted me to write to you. I told him that I would, and this was the first Chanse. He was shot threw the hips and was taken prisner. They took him and another man from our Compainey together. The other man Came to the Regiment last Sunday and he said that John Dyed the next day after he was wounded. He said that they took good Care of him and when he died that they buried him in a walnut Coffin in the grave yarde and marked his grave so that it Could be found. I was at his side when he fell, but the Rebels came on us so fast that we Could not take him off the field. He was wonded in a Cornfield. We was marched out. Their 4 Regements of us and their was 20 thousand Came on us and 2 batteries and we was Cut to peases very mutsh. We lost 18 killed wonded and missing out

Miss Margaret - I think it is with a heavy heart that I beat my self to write you few lines concerning your brother John he was with me all the time since he left home him and I messed together and I to gather all the time and when he was sick I took the best care of him that I could he had gained his strength just before the large battle of Murfreesboro was fought and we marched to gather all the time in fact we was just like brothers John was a good soldier and he had all morning loss of him we slept in the night before the battle on some dead bushes that we gathered to keep us out of the mud we was not allowed any fire at all and and we had no blankets they was left behind with the wagons and it was very cold that night and we could not sleep hardly any and I told him that if he got killed he wanted me to write to you I told him that I would and this was the first chance he was shot threw the hips and was taken prisoner they took him and another man from our company to gather the other man came to the Regiment last Sunday and he said that John Dyd the next day after he was wounded he said that they took good care of him and when he died that they buried him in a walnut box in in Came on us so fast that we could not take him off our the field he was wounded in a corn field we was marched out their 4 Regiments of us and their was 20 thousand came on us and 2 batties and we was out to pass very much we lost 18 killed woude and missing out of our Company I was nooked down with a piece of shell that hit me in the side but I soon got over that well I must close hoping that this may make you all well I was soon to day before new year and buried in the evening Fare well to the good wife and tell me know how you are getting along
