

U. S. HISTORY. CIVIL WAR. CAMPAIGNS & BATTLES.
MURFREESBORO, BATTLE OF, 1862-1863.

n.d. G. A. R. Dept. of Ill. George H. Thomas Post.

Collection of information sheets re. Civil War veterans...some being personal narratives were individually catalogued, viz. Francis Wilson's, containing an account of the 79th Ill. Inf. from Aug 62 thru the end of the war. There is a good account of the Battle of Murfreesboro.

7 pp.

Gift: G.A.R. Memorial Ass'n., 1960. 60:251

Collections U. S. History. Civil War Biography

I was born in ~~Yone~~^{York}, ~~Glenn~~^{Clark, Co.}, Illinois, on Feb. 5th 1836. I was enrolled on the 2nd day of Aug 1862 and went to camp at Mattoon Ills; was mustered into Co. "I". of the 79th Reg. Ill. Vol. Inft. Aug. 28, 1862. We went immediately to Louisville, Ky. and while laying there I was taken sick and sent to the hospital. As soon as I was able to march I rejoined my regiment near Craborchard, Ky. We then started to Tennessee and after a long march we camped awhile near Edgefield but finally moved over near Nashville where we remained until Dec. 26th where we started for Murphysboro. On the 31st of Dec. 62 we met the enemy at Stone River. This was our first battle. We were in Johnson's Division on the extreme right. The rebels finally flanked us and we were compelled to fall back through a cotton-field while the Johnnies poured the bullets into us from the rear and also from our left flank. The battle continued until Jan. 4th 1863 when the Johnnies pulled off in the night. We remained at Murphysboro fortifying the place until June 25th 1863 when we struck tent out to hunt Gen. Bragg.

On the following day (26th) we had a sharp

U. S. HISTORY. CIVIL WAR. CAMPAIGNS & BATTLES. MURFREESBORO, BATTLE OF, 1862-1863.
n.d. G. A. R. Dept. of Ill. George H. Thomas Post.
Collection of information sheets re. Civil War veterans...some being personal narratives were individually catalogued, viz. Francis Wilson's, containing an account of the 79th Ill. Inf. from Aug '62 thru the end of the war. There is a good account of the Battle of Murfreesboro.
7 pp.
Gift: G.A.R. Memorial Ass'n., 1960. 60:251.

Collections U. S. History. Civil War. Biography.

I was born in York, Clark Co., Illinois, on Feb. 5th 1836. I was enrolled on the 2nd day of Aug. 1862. and went to camp at Mattoon Ill., was mustered into Co. "D" of the 79th Reg. Ill. Vol. Inf. Aug 28-1862. We went immediately to Louisville, Ky. and while laying there I was taken sick and sent to the hospital. As soon as I was able to march I rejoined my regiment near Craborchard, Ky. We then started to Tennessee and after a long march we camped awhile near Edgefield but finally moved over near Nashville where we remained until Dec. 26th when we started for Murphysboro. On the 31st of Dec. ^{6th} we met the enemy at Stone River. This was our first battle. We were in Johnson's Division on the extreme right. The rebels finally flanked us and we were compelled to fall back through a cotton-field while the Johnnies poured the bullets into us from the rear and also from our left flank. The battle continued until Jan. 4th 1863. when the Johnnies pulled off in the night. We remained at Murphysboro fortifying the place until June 25th 1863 when we struck tent out to hunt Gen. Bragg. On the following day (26th) we had a sharp