

CA-RIV-4070 are located within the area traditionally occupied by the desert division of the Cahuilla tribe, represented today by the Augustine Band of Cahuilla Mission Indians of the Augustine Reservation, California; Cabazon Band of Cahuilla Mission Indians, California; and Torres-Martinez Band of Cahuilla Mission Indians of California. However, the inferred antiquity of the human remains suggests that they represent an ancestral population of a more broadly defined Cahuilla tribe.

Officials of the University of California, Riverside have determined that, pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001 (9-10), the human remains listed above represent the physical remains of three individuals of Native American ancestry. Officials of the University of California, Riverside, have also determined that, pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001 (2), there is a relationship of shared group identity that can reasonably be traced between the Native American human remains and the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians of the Agua Caliente Indian Reservation, California; Augustine Band of Cahuilla Mission Indians of the Augustine Reservation, California; Cabazon Band of Cahuilla Mission Indians, California; Cahuilla Band of Mission Indians of the Cahuilla Reservation, California; Los Coyotes Band of Cahuilla & Cupeno Indians of the Los Coyotes Reservation, California; Morongo Band of Cahuilla Mission Indians of the Morongo Reservation, California; Ramona Band or Village of Cahuilla Mission Indians of California; Santa Rosa Band of Cahuilla Mission Indians of the Santa Rosa Reservation, California; and Torres-Martinez Band of Cahuilla Mission Indians of California.

Representatives of any other Indian tribe that believes itself to be culturally affiliated with these human remains should contact Philip J. Wilke, Department of Anthropology, University of California, Riverside, Riverside, CA 92521-0418, telephone (909) 787-5524, before April 26, 2004. Repatriation of these human remains to the Cahuilla Inter-Tribal Repatriation Committee may proceed after that date if no additional claimants come forward.
