SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: All studies conducted or supported by HHS which are not otherwise exempt and which propose to involve children as subjects require institutional review board (IRB) review in accordance with the provisions of HHS regulations for the protection of human subjects at 45 CFR part 46, subpart D. Pursuant to HHS regulations at 45 CFR 46.407, if an IRB reviewing a protocol to be conducted or supported by HHS does not believe that the proposed research involving children as subjects meets the requirements of HHS regulations at 45 CFR 46.404, 46.405, or 46.406, the research may proceed only if the following conditions are met: (a) the IRB finds and documents that the research presents a reasonable opportunity to further the understanding, prevention, or alleviation of a serious problem affecting the health or welfare of children; and (b) the Secretary, after consultation with a panel of experts in pertinent disciplines (for example: science, medicine, education, ethics, law) and following opportunity for public review and comment, determines either: (1) that the research in fact satisfies the conditions of 45 CFR 46.404, 46.405, or 46.406, or (2) that the following conditions are met: (i) the research presents a reasonable opportunity to further the HHS received a request from the Lifespan Office of Research Administration, Rhode Island Hospital, to review a protocol entitled "Effects of Evening Ingestion of Alcohol on Sleep, Circadian Phase, and Performance as a Function of Parental History of Alcohol Abuse/Dependence' pursuant to the provisions of HHS regulations at 45 CFR 46.407. This research protocol proposes to study the effects of a small or moderate evening dose of alcohol on sleep, waking performance, and circadian phase in a total of 64 adolescents (15 to 16 years of age) and young adults (21 to 22 years of age), and examine how the effects may differ between individuals who have a parent with a history of alcohol dependence and those who do not. The research protocol is proposed to take place at E.P. Bradley Hospital, an affiliate of Lifespan, the parent corporation of Rhode Island Hospital, and was reviewed by the Rhode Island Hospital IRB. The Rhode Island Hospital IRB is the IRB of record for E.P. Bradlev Hospital.

After reviewing this research proposal, the Rhode Island Hospital IRB determined that this study involving children as research subjects could not be approved under HHS regulations at 45 CFR 46.404, 46.405, or 46.406, but was suitable for review under 45 CFR 46.407. The Rhode Island Hospital IRB found that the research presented a reasonable opportunity to further the understanding, prevention or alleviation of a serious problem affecting the health or welfare of children. Experts in relevant disciplines have reviewed this protocol and each have provided recommendations to the Secretary. Public review and comment are hereby solicited pursuant to the requirements of 45 CFR 46.407. The Secretary will consider the experts' recommendations and the public comments in making a final determination regarding whether HHS may support this research.

In particular, comments are solicited on the following questions: (1) What are the potential benefits of the research, if any, to the subjects and to children in general; (2) what are the types and degrees of risk that this research presents to the subjects; (3) are the risks to the subjects reasonable in relation to
