The OMB is particularly interested in comments which:

- Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- Evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;

Accordingly, Interim Rules Implementing the Portability Requirement for Group Health Plans were published on April 8, 1997, (62 FR 16920) (April 8 Interim Rules).

In order to improve participants' understanding of their rights under an employer's group health plan, HIPAA requires that a participant be provided with a description of a plan's special enrollment rules on or before the time that a participant is offered the opportunity to enroll in a group health plan. These special enrollment rules generally apply to circumstances in which the participant initially declined to enroll in a plan, and later wishes to enroll.

The April 8 Interim Rules offer a model form to be used by group health plans and health insurance issuers that includes the minimum elements of information mandated by the statute. The ICR implements the disclosure requirements of HIPAA related to special enrollment rights.

Accordingly, Interim Rules implementing the Portability Requirement for Group Health Plans were published on April 8, 1997, (62 FR 16920) (April 8 Interim Rules).

Under the April 8 Interim Rules, a group health plan or health insurance issuer may not impose any pre-existing conditions exclusion on a participant unless that participant has been notified in writing that the plan includes pre-existing condition exclusion provisions, that a participant has a right to demonstrate any periods for prior creditable coverage, and that the plan or issuer will assist the participant in obtaining a certificate of prior coverage from any prior plan or issuer, if necessary. In addition, the April 8 Interim Rules require that before a plan or issuer imposes a pre-existing condition exclusion on a particular participant, it must first disclose that determination in writing, including the basis of the decision, and an explanation of any appeal procedure established by the plan or issuer. Specific disclosure requirements relating to pre-existing exclusions constitute the ICR.

Section 701(e)(3) requires that the Secretary of Labor issue rules to prevent any entity's failure to provide an individual with a certification of prior health coverage, or certain other required disclosures, from adversely affecting the individual's subsequent health coverage.

On April 8, 1997 (67 FR 16894), the Department issues Interim Final Rules, requiring a group health plan to provide a written certificate suitable for establishing the prior creditable coverage of a participant or beneficiary. The April 8 Interim Final Rules offer model certification and notice forms, containing the minimum information mandated by the statute, to be used by group health plans and health insurance issuers. This ICR covers the provision of materials sufficient to establish prior creditable coverage.
