

urbanization. Alterations of topography, vegetation and drainage patterns from urbanization can ultimately lead to changes (increases or decreases) in the moisture regime and nutrient input into the karst ecosystems. Alterations can also result in increased sedimentation in karst habitats. Karst environments are also highly susceptible to groundwater contamination, that is, the addition of pollutants to water (from either point or non-point sources) that may pass through karst habitats. Sources of this contamination include urban runoff, agricultural pesticide use, transportation and pipeline spills and landfills. Impacts from red imported fire ants (Solenopsis invicta), an exotic species proliferating within the range of Tooth Cave ground beetle, pose another major threat.

How Is the Tooth Cave Ground Beetle Currently Listed?

The List of Endangered and Threatened Wildlife and Plants (List) is found in 50 CFR 17.11 (wildlife) and 17.12 (plants). Amendments to the List through final rules are published in the Federal Register. The List is also available on the internet at <http://endangered.fws.gov/wildlife.html#Species>. The Tooth Cave ground beetle is currently listed as endangered (53 FR 36029). The recovery plan for this species was completed in 1994 (available online at <http://endangered.fws.gov/recovery/>) and describes the specific criteria needed to achieve recovery of the species.

Specific Information Requested for the Tooth Cave Ground Beetle

We are especially interested in: (1) The results of survey and monitoring efforts that provide a better understanding of current population numbers and the status, security, and location of karst features that provide habitat for this species; (2) recent information regarding the impacts of urban development on the karst environment within the range of the Tooth Cave ground beetle; (3) the impacts of red imported fire ants on the species; and (4) additional site-specific information on protective measures currently in place for this species and its habitat and the expected longevity of those measures.

Definitions Related to This Notice

The following definitions are provided to assist those persons who consider submitting information regarding the species being reviewed:

A. Species includes any species or subspecies of fish, wildlife, or plant, and any distinct population segment of any species of vertebrate, which interbreeds when mature.

B. Endangered means any species that is in danger of extinction throughout all or a significant portion of its range.

C. Threatened means any species that is likely to become an endangered species within the foreseeable future throughout all or a significant portion of its range.

How Do We Determine Whether a Species Is Endangered or Threatened?

Section 4(a)(1) of the Act establishes that we determine whether a species is endangered or threatened based on one or more of the five following factors:

A. The present or threatened destruction, modification, or curtailment of its habitat or range;

B. Overutilization for commercial, recreational, scientific, or educational purposes;

C. Disease or predation;

D. The inadequacy of existing regulatory mechanisms; or

E. Other natural or manmade factors affecting its continued existence.

Section 4(a)(1) of the Act requires that our determination be made on the basis of the best scientific and commercial data available.

Public Solicitation of New Information

We request any new information concerning the status of Tooth Cave ground beetle. See "What information is considered in the review?" for specific criteria. Information submitted should be supported by documentation such as maps, bibliographic references, methods used to gather and analyze the data, and/or copies of any pertinent publications, reports, or letters by knowledgeable sources. Our practice is to make comments, including names and home addresses of respondents, available for public review. Individual respondents may request that we withhold their home addresses from the supporting record, which we will honor to the extent allowable by law. There also may be circumstances in which we may withhold from the supporting record a respondent's identity, as allowable by law. If you wish us to withhold your name and/or address, you must state this prominently at the beginning of your comment. We will not consider anonymous comments, however. Bidding for Parcel I is open only to the following adjacent landowners (designated bidders): Gayla Wardwell, Richard W. Guelker, Helen L. Guelker, Joshua R. John, and Douglas L. Gross.

Each sealed bid shall be accompanied by a certified check, postal money order, bank draft, or cashier's check made payable to the "Department of the Interior, BLM" for not less than 10 percent of the amount bid.

Under modified competitive sale procedures, the written sealed bids will be opened and an apparent high bid will be declared at the sale. The apparent high bidder and the other designated bidders will be notified by mail. In case of a tie of bids submitted by interested designated bidders, the interested designated bidders would be given an opportunity to submit a written agreement as to the division of lands, or an additional sealed bid, meeting the above-stated requirements, within 30 days written notification of eligibility. At that time, the high bidder would be awarded the property. The total purchase price for the land shall be paid within 180 days of the date of this sale.

Additional Terms and Conditions of Sale

If either or both of the parcels are not sold on October 20, 2005, the parcel will be re-offered on a continuing basis in accordance with the competitive sale procedures described in 43 CFR 2711.3–1. Sealed bids prepared and submitted in the manner described above, will be accepted from any qualified bidder. Bids will be opened at 10 a.m. (local time), on the 14th day of each month thereafter, through December 14, 2005, unless an apparent high bid is declared prior to that date.

Federal law requires that public land may be sold only to either (1) citizens of the United States, 18 years of age or over; (2) corporations subject to the laws of any State or of the United States; (3) a State, State instrumentality or political subdivision authorized to hold property; (4) an entity legally capable of conveying and holding lands or interests therein under the laws of the State within which the lands to be conveyed are located. Certifications and evidence to this effect will be required of the purchaser prior to issuance of a patent.

The following rights, reservations, and conditions will be included in the patent conveying the land:

1. A right-of-way for ditches and canals will be reserved to the United States under the authority of the Act of August 30, 1890 (26 Stat. 291; 43 U.S.C. 945).

2. The patent will include a notice and indemnification statement under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act. All parcels are subject to the requirements of section 120(h)(42 U.S.C. section 9620) holding the United States harmless from any release of hazardous materials that may have occurred as a result of the unauthorized use of the property by other parties. No warranty of any kind, express or implied, is given by the United States as to the title, physical condition or potential uses of the parcel of land proposed for sale.

3. The patent will be issued subject to all valid existing rights and reservations of record.

A successful bid for the parcel will constitute an application for conveyance of the mineral estate in accordance with Section 209 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (43 U.S.C. 1719). A nonrefundable fee of $50.00 will be required from the prospective purchaser for purchase of the mineral interests. Those mineral interests, to be conveyed simultaneously with the sale of the land, have been determined to have no known mineral value.

In accordance with the goals in BLM Manual 2801.62A.1. and 2801.62B., the purchaser, if it is not Douglas L. Gross, at closing, will be required to grant an easement to Douglas L. Gross, for an existing driveway and utility line, which crosses Parcel I (OR 55523).

The land described herein is hereby segregated from appropriation under the public land laws, including the mining laws, pending disposition of the action or 270 days from the date of publication of this notice, whichever occurs first.
